

BURNS RESIDENCE IN DOUBT

Senator from Lancaster Says "Don't Ask Me Any Questions."

AFFIDAVIT IN FEDERAL COURT

Treasurer Gives Out Statement Showing Where the State's Cash is Kept—Democrats Juggle Primary Results.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The publication of the fact that a vacancy existed in the Lancaster county delegation to the state legislature owing to the removal to Colorado of the Honorable Joseph Burns, late senator, brought the irrefragable and respectable Joseph back to Lincoln by his first mail. He answered the question, "are you a resident of Nebraska or Colorado?" by saying: "Don't ask me any questions." The removal of the vigilant senator to Colorado became known when he filed a suit in the federal court against the state and in the state and in his petition it was set out that he was a resident of Colorado. But a little thing like a sworn statement in a law suit doesn't faze a Lancaster politician, besides the courts haven't passed on the case yet and the ion. Joe may be overruled.

Where Cash is Kept.

Owing to a rush of business incident to a call for state warrants the monthly report of the state treasurer was not made up today. The money on deposit is as follows:

Table listing various banks and their deposits, including National Bank, Farmers & Merchants, etc.

Winnest Goes to Washington.

Chairman Winnest of the State Railway commission left this afternoon for Washington, where he goes to attend the meeting of the National association of Railway Commissioners, which begins there October 3.

Democrats Juggle Primary Results.

Senator Epperson of Clay county is here today preparatory to appearing in supreme court tomorrow in a case from his county. Senator Epperson brought the information that the democrats out in his county had no fight between candidates for nomination, but immediately after the primary they decided who had withdrawn. So far he said the leaders in the county had pulled off three of the democratic nominees and filled their places with old-time warhorses, consequently he expects a big fight in his county over the election of county officers. The democrats agreed to this way of doing business before the primary to prevent contests.

Bill for Maps of State.

The voucher for the 20,000 maps issued under the direction of the State Railway commission was filed today. The cost of the maps was $237. This is the first map of the kind issued in Nebraska since the days of the old Board of Transportation. The present map is printed in nine colors and contains much information regarding the valuation of Nebraska products and shipments, as well as the lines of all railroads.

McBrien's Expenses Heavy.

Out of the $15,000 appropriated by the recent legislature for the support of junior normal schools, Superintendent McBrien has spent $2,001, and still has a year to go on. Out of $10,000 appropriated for county officers of the blizzard he has spent $3,998 and he has eighteen months yet to go on. McBrien's extra expense came with the employment of special examiners to examine the papers of teachers who were trying for certificates. Inasmuch as the governor has said he will not recommend the payment of deficiencies it is probable McBrien will have to fly low during the rest of the biennium, though his most expensive work is done.

Bills with University Vouchers.

A big bunch of university vouchers with bills attached have been filed with the state auditor, the first of the kind filed here in the memory of any of the present state house attaches. Each bill shows just what the money was used for and the signature of the head of the department shows that the goods were delivered. The regents also made out the regular certificate upon which they use to draw money.

Expense Account Paid.

Auditor Searle has allowed himself $136 for expenses to the meeting of the insurance commissioners at Richmond, Va., and has announced he will allow the expenses of state railway commissioners who attend meetings out of the state. There is no specific appropriation for this kind of expense and the general rule has been to allow traveling expenses only within the state. The auditor drew his warrant today.

Difference Over Cream Rates.

The Wells Fargo Express company has notified the railway commission it cannot comply with its cream order because a federal judge in Chicago has granted an injunction against an increase in cream rates and the company holds until this order is modified it can do nothing. The commission has not yet discovered where a federal judge in Chicago has anything to do with cream rates in Nebraska. Will Maupin will file articles of incorporation tomorrow with the secretary of state of a company which proposes to erect a labor temple in Lincoln. The commission has not yet discovered where a federal judge in Chicago has anything to do with cream rates in Nebraska.

SHUMWAY DENIES ALL GUILT

Says He Fled Because He Was Afraid He Would Be Accused.

BEATRICE, Neb., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—County Attorney Terry has returned from Lincoln, where he secured a statement from Robert Mead Shumway, who is in the penitentiary awaiting trial for the murder of Mrs. Sarah Martin. Shumway stoutly denied his guilt and repeated the story previously told by him, that upon his return from the field, and after entering the house, he found bloodstains on the floor. Fearing a murder had been committed and that he would be held for the crime he escaped by stealing a horse and buggy from the barn. Shumway admitted that he deserted the regular army and escaped after being placed in the federal prison near Chicago. County Attorney Terry learned much of Shumway's past life, and secured other information which he does not care to make public at this time. He will visit the scene of the murder in a few days with a view of making preparations for Shumway's preliminary hearing.

STEAMER SUSAN STILL SINKING

Vessel Filling with Sand and Current is Cutting Bar from Under It.

BLAIR, Neb., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The excursion steamer Susan, which recently sank in the Missouri river on its trip from Omaha to Blair, has been discovered merged in the Big Muddy about two miles east and half a mile south of Deost station. A small part of its upper deck and smokestack are all that is visible. A diver was here today and found the boat rapidly filling with sand and the river cutting the bar away from under it. The government dredgeboat McPherson went to the wreck today to try and render assistance, but there is little hope of saving the vessel. The wrecking crew of the dredgeboat remained there until 9 o'clock this morning, when they left for Omaha. The owners of the sunken boat will endeavor to take the boat apart and save what they can of it.

Kearney Hog Man Wins Prize.

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—L. W. Hamilton, the Poland-China hog breeder, returned this morning from the International Live Stock show held at St. Joseph, where he won first on junior yearling boar and grand champion on his male Nebraska Special. He naturally feels elated over his success, considering the fact that this is a very fine stock show, in which he had to compete against hogs from Michigan, Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky and Kansas in his class.

LETTERS FROM BEE READERS

Beriah F. Cochran Calls for Moral Cleaning Up of the City.

Contributions on timely topics invited. Write legibly on one side of the paper only, with name and address appended. On request names will not be printed. Unsent contributions will not be returned. Letters exceeding 200 words will be subject to being cut down at the discretion of the editor. Publication of views of correspondents does not commit The Bee to their endorsement.

A Specimen of Moral Stupification. OMAHA, Sept. 24.—To the Editor of The Bee: If the information given by the newspapers about the matter is correct, the officers of the juvenile court, or some of them, have entered upon a course of removal of families from a certain section of the city where the surroundings are such as to make a very immoral atmosphere and vitiate the children of these families.

Now, I call attention to the fact that, although this matter has been publicly mentioned repeatedly, it seems not to have occurred to anyone that the sane, sensible, legal and practicable thing to do is to remove the evil, instead of driving people away from it.

Think of it, a large number of children, perhaps 200, subjected to that deadly moral poison, and the matter publicly discussed; and everybody accepting the idea that the only thing to do is to try to drive away the people who have a right to stay there, and let those who have no right to a habitation anywhere in the state of Nebraska control the region, and remain.

No court has any more right to require the families to move than I have to go down there and drive them away with a club, because there is abundant authority for removing the evil.

What a sickly and disgusting notion, that through illegal and unauthorized action of the city officers the devil has an indefeasible title to a certain part of the city and a seat on the bench beside the judge of the juvenile court.

Now, perhaps, some moral muckwaller will read this, and set up a whine about "moral spasms." A moral spasm is the effort of nature to cast out of the body polluted blood. The muckwaller has put into it.

Naming South Omaha Parks.

SOUTH OMAHA, Sept. 27.—To the President and Members of the Park Board, City of South Omaha—Gentlemen: I read that the naming of the parks recently purchased by the city is a commendable thing for your honorable body. As this is an era of commercialism, I firmly believe it is your duty to give the subject matter careful consideration lest any names should be chosen but those of honest, honorable, patriotic Americans.

The illustration, I read where the name of a Chicago public school bears the name of Henry George, was changed to that of Pullman. Where are we drifting to? Is the patriotism of the fathers to be forgotten?

At the solicitation of several patriotic citizens, I am requested to suggest to your honorable body the name of the American navy, Commodore John Barry.

NEBRASKA FROM DAY TO DAY

Quaint and Curious Features of Life in a Rapidly Growing State.

Ed Morey has distinguished himself as one of the most accomplished young gentlemen in this city this week, having filed the position of jeweler, milliner and general housekeeper during the absence of his parents and the milliner, who were pleasuring at Merriman.—Valentine Republic.

That Cow and Calf—That black cow and calf that strayed from Art Howe's place about the middle of August has not yet been returned. Reward is offered for information as to their whereabouts. Craig and Howe have been unsuccessful. Since the animals are not being returned with the rapidity that a Republican-Faber local warrants.—Stockville Republican-Faber.

Nature Fakes—Rats in some localities of Friend are so numerous and destructive as to become a business nuisance. Since most of the corn has been shelled and shipped they have fallen upon the gardens and eaten up the sweet corn, cabbage and tomatoes, and in some instances have climbed upon the house and demanded the seed sweet corn that was hung up for next spring. A rat is not to be trusted in any place with a few grains of corn under its paws. It is pretty sure to catch a rat. In many instances where rats have been caught they were eaten up by their more lucky fellows. The time has arrived when rats ought to be exterminated.—Friend Telegraph.

Catering to the Women—The Mallory steroom has just had a new steel ceiling placed therein this week, the counters moved back, the walls are to be made spotted, and with the splendid building made by the extension and handsome exterior, makes a business room that any merchant might well feel proud of. Oh, yes, by the way, and John—the sly old rascal—used to be a passenger conductor, and is planning to have the ladies make that headquarters by putting a big mirror several feet along one of the side walls.—Alliance Times.

Strike Helped Her—An Auburn young man stepped into the telephone office, just before the operators' strike went into effect, and wired a proposal of marriage to a girl "out west." He hung around anxiously all day but received no reply. Next morning he called and found that an affirmative answer had been received during the night. With a beautifully injured face he exclaimed: "That girl is simply all right; any girl who will wait until the night rates go on before answering that kind of a message is economical enough for me." This actually did happen.—Auburn Granger.

Howard's Fish Story—At the risk of being attacked by President Roosevelt and other nature-fakers I am determined to tell a true fish story. Scientific writers have long contended that no species of snake ever eats fish. I am in position to refute the claims of the scientists. One evening recently I was fishing in a little lake near Columbus, with Judge Reeder as my instructor. We had anchored our poles and were sitting supper. Suddenly there was much commotion of the water near one of the poles. I ran to the spot and drew in the line. There was something on the hook, and it fought like a four-pound bass. But it wasn't a bass. It was a big black snake, about four feet long. The snake had swallowed a four-inch minnow, hook and all, and the hook had fastened in his belly a half inch from his head. That's all there is to this fish story. Snakes do eat fish, no matter what the scientists may say. At least this one did, and so certain am I of the fact that I shall repeat the story on every occasion, as long as Judge Reeder shall stand by me, no matter if the emperor of all the fakers shall issue an order of banishment.—Columbus Telegram.
