MOFFETT'S BLUFF IS CALLED

Grand Jury Reports Nothing in Oil Standard Oil company and told of the Man's Charges.

Judge Landis Informed Head of the Standard Company of Indiana Did Not Prepare His Own Letter.

CHICAGO Oct. 4.-The special grand jury retained by Judge Landis to investigate the charges made by President Moffet of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, namely that other concerns besides the Standard were beneficiaries of re bates from the railroads reported to the court today that the Moffet statements were entirely without foundation. The report declares: "From a careful and thorough investigation it appeared that while the statement credited to Mr. Moffett was prepared largely by Moritz Rosenthal, one of the attorneys for the Standard Oil company in the case of the United States versus the Standard Oil company, it was given out by Mr. Moffett over his name as his own statement." ing shipments of property from Whiting

It developed that Mr. Moffett had no knowledge whatever of any facts regard-Ind., and points in Illinois over the Chicago & Alton or any other road, by any shippers.

The jury said that the statement in question was based entirely upon the testimony of F. S. Hollands, an employe of the Alton given at the Standard Oil trial. Mr. Moffett assured the grand jury that neither Mr. Resenthal or any one could give to the grand jury any information except that gathered from the Standard Oil trial as to such alleged rebating The grand jury also reported that Mr. Holland's testimony was barren of results. In explaining to the grand jury that the statement in the pamphlet was based solely upon the evidence at the trial of the Standard Oil case, Mr. Moffett referred to certain portions of the evidence of Hollands, the rate clerk of the Alton It appeared that at the trial of 'he Standard Oil company, Hollands' attention was specifically directed to shipments by others than the Standard Oil company from the points in question, at unlawful rates, and at that time, in response to questions by the court, he replied: "I could not give you any specific references to any particular property." To the grand jury Hollands stated that he was unable to give any information about shipments over the Alton from the points in question where there had been violation of law similar to that of the Standard. The grand jury questioned other representatives of the Alton road, and it appeared that none could give a case in which freight had been rhipped from the points above named ander the same circumstances as the shipments made by the Standard. Representtives of the Alton road stated to the grand jury that the case of the Standard Oll company was the only one in which chipments had been made a rate less than that named in lawful tariff.

Cocaine Habit Cured in One Minute- or Patient Removed From Omaha-Permanent -Lasting-No Use of Knife or Dangerous "DR." JUDGE BRYCE CRAWFORD.

Such a sign hangs over the door of the court room at the police station-in the minds of the coke and hop fiends of Omaha. When they see Roman candles and rockets that fixtle and scream; when they dream the most delicious dreams that ever a human dreamed; and alumber away in the sleep, which is brother only to death, and hear the voices of men and maidens singing the harvest home, the huge yellow sign with the skull and cross bones. and the signature of Bryce Crawford crosses their haunted minds.

This is because Judge Crawford has prac ically cleared Omaha of the cocsine flends. At least the swarms of them which for merly appeared before the people's bar at the police station are seen no more. Mrs. John Wright attempted to climb telephone pele at Twentieth and Farnam streets Thursday evening, and either grapple with her evil star or catch the trailing robes of the sunset which her cocsineparalyzed brain imagined were dangling like a tattered vell over the top of the Friday Mrs. Wright was in police court. "Full of coke," said the officer. Then the judge gave the woman his absent treatment and wrote thirty days on the big book of police life.

This is the minimum sentence which Judge Crawford will give to users of cocaine and he has threatened to make state cases out of any which come before him charged with using the drug. Police officers said Friday that Mrs. Wright was the first to receive the sentence for many weeks, when formerly the court was about equally divided between plain drunks and coke users. Judge Crawford has cleaned them out of the police annals of Omaha
