That co-operation add not competition in the life of trade was the position taken by Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the Interstate Commerce commission, in his address before the eleventh convention of the Grain Dealers' National association here today. Mr. Knapp said: "I believe the future development of our civilization will be along the lines of co-operation. I believe elements that are now conflicting will gather together in harmonious effort and unity of purpose, and that the highest honors and the greatest glories will go to the citizens who are the most useful and perform the greatest services."

Mr. Knapp did not mention any names when he declares "There is greater moral delinquency in the man who secures discriminations in his favor from railroads than there is in a pick-pocket or a chicken thief."

The stone and timber law is a piece of infancy as administered by the government. The government makes a man swear that he does not take it on speculation, and the department constrains this to mean he must not take it with a view of selling it. There is not a man in the Department of the Interior and presumably in the Department of Justice but knows full well that ninety-nine men or women out of a hundred take up these claims with no other view than to sell them as soon as they get titles. Notwithstanding this knowledge the government continues to issue full receipts and thus connives at the doing of that which they afterward seek to visit upon some one as a fraud.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 4.—

Writing a want ad for The Bee is only a moment's work, and incurs but a trifling expense, and does the work every time. If you mail a want ad to The Bee at midnight, enclosing price in stamps or coin, it will be printed the next afternoon and probably answered the same evening. If you would try this want filling method once you would probably find frequent use for it afterwards. That's the case with others. The Bee want ads never disappoint. They always fill your want.
