OMARIA, June 3, 1907. The market opened weaker generally on world's shipments and lower cables today. There seems to be a strong bearish move-There seems to be a strong bearish movement on everything except oats, which are carrying a strong bullish current. The crop situation shows no material change. Whea opened easier on the world's shipments and lower cables. Commission houses jok both sides and were buying on resting orders. A moderate amount was for sair at the opening, with buying orders plentify all over the pit. July option ppened at 22½c asked and closed at 91c asked.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Liquidation of July wheat and reports of good weather for the new crop caused the market to ease off slightly today. At the close July wheat was down %cpt. Corn was $4.00 km. Lightly today. At the close July wheat was down %cpt. Corn was $4.00 km. Lightly today. At the close July wheat changed to 7½c lower.

Oats were up %c. Provisions were unchanged to 7½c lower.

The market opened today with easier prices because of better weather conditions in the west and northwest, lower cables and world's shipments that were larger than had been expected. Later prices recovered on reports from Kansas that the freeze of a week ago had done much damage. The bulk of these raports stated that the damage to the crop had been from $5.00 km. Like $1.00 km. Like $1. named in his last preceding statements caused a rally about the middle of the day. A good export demand was also reported and this added strength to the market. Later, however, the trading became full and the influences which were in effect at the opening resumed their away. Much, July wheat was liquidated during the early break on stop-loss orders. The close was easy. July opened %% to lower at 95% 2500, sold between 25% and closed %6% to lower at 95% 2500, sold between 25% and closed %6% to lower at 95% 250%. Sold between 25% 250% and closed 46% to lower at 95% 250%. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 85%,000 bu. Frimary receipts were 75%,000 bu., against 22,000 bu. for the same time one year ago. Minneapolis, Duiuth and Chicago reported receipts of 647 bars, against 621 last week and a hollday one year ago.

cars, against sell last week and a holiday one year ago.

The corn market opened sasy on reports of good weather, lower cables and larger local receipts. The market railled, however, on reports of a good demand for exports of a good demand for export and fair buying by local speculators. The close was firm. July corn opened 4c lower at 53%c, sold between 53%c and 54%c and closed at 53%654c. Local receipts were 575 cars, with 538 cars of contract grade. The weather conditions, which softened the market for wheat and corn, also affected oats. It was reported later that the "green bug" had been discovered in various places throughout the state and this, with a fair buying demand, stiffened the market, July oats opened 4c lower at 53%c, sold between 18%c and 43%c and closed firm at 43%c. Local receipts were 97 cars.

The provisions market opened easier, lard especially being weak because of official statements showing larger stocks here and throughout the west. Later the market recovered much of the lost ground in covering by shorts. At the close July pork was unchanged at $16.20. Lard was down 7%c at $9.10. Ribs were 2%c lower at $5.75.

Foreign Financial.

LONDON, June 3.—Money was in quiet demand in the market teday and rates were easy. Discounts were harder. India and France secured the gold, $1,500,000 available, in the open market at 's advance. The Stock exchange failed to benefit by the easier rates for money, the transactions generally were narrow and prices were depressed, owing to the recent liquidation and further gold exports to France. The quotations at the close were easier.

The disappointing tone of the New York market Saturday and the poor New York bank statements caused Americans to rule heavy in the foremoon at a fraction below parity, and realizations and bear pressure in the afternoon, followed by New York selling, caused another setback and prices.

2,648 of really good stuff.

Buyers were out in good season, both sellers and packers, so that the market opened early with the more desirable kinds selling fully steady. There was some disposition on the part of buyers to bid a selling fully steady. There was some disposition on the part of buyers to bid a little lower, but the demand was most too good to admit of bearish tactics being followed to any extent, with the result that the most of the cattle sold at practically steady prices. The market was reasonably active, so that the most of the offerings changed hands in good season.

There were only a few loads of cows and heifers here and they sold very readily at good strong prices. Outside buyers and speculators took them all, as packers were still refusing to buy, except subject to postmortem inspection. This means that while the few cattle coming are bringing good prices, the demand is limited and commission men are still advising the country to hold back everything in the way of she stuff.

There were not enough stockers or feeders

HOGS—The market opened anywhere from a shade to 5c lower on light and medium weight hogs. The trade was not very active even at the decline. Hogs of that description sold largely at $6.0505.10, with a top at $0.20. While the most of the sight hogs sold in fair season at the range noted, buyers were still more bearish on the heavy hogs, bidding $500 lower. Sellers were very slow to make the concession asked by packers, but they were forced to take off as much as 5c, the market closing weak at the decline.

Beef Broth-One pound of lean beef, a piece of bone from the shin of beef, onehalf teaspoonful of salt, one quart of cold water. Cut the meat into small pieces, crack the bone and put all in a kettle and cover with the cold water. Bring slowly to a boll, then simmer two hours or more, until reduced to one pint of liquid. Strain, season with salt and cool quickly. cold remove the fat from the top. Reheat and serve with croutons or pulled bread. The broth may be seasoned with sprigs of paraley, a few tops of celery or one-eighth teaspoonful of celery seed, to be added onehalf hour before removing the broth from the fire. If more nutriment is desired, to each quart of water add one tablespoonful of rice, barley, wheat, taploca, sago or a slice of toast when the broth is first put on the fire to cook. They will then be thoroughly dissolved in the broth and add to its flavor and consistency. The broth may be made in a shorter time if the meat is run through a meat grinder; only one hour will then be required for the simmer-

Irish and Scotch Humor.

Life is grave. But it is a good thing to laugh. In Ireland the humor is of a kind that is not found beyond the Emerald isle. The Irish act as if every one of them had been stood on his head so that his thoughts would be unusual, and perhaps the same is best illustrative of Irish humor. It is unusual. The essential character of Irish wit is drollery. But that of Scotch wit is its irory, sombreness, its searching character. To put your finger on Scotch humor and define it is like catching the fragrance of a flower in the hand. English intelligence hardly ever grasps it. An Englishman merely suspects it. It is thorough and irresistible—not fun, drollery or wit. To illustrate: An Englishman is always "comme il faut" at a wedding, in dress, speech, etc., while the Scotchman takes the lead at funerals. A Scotchman never knows how to blend, as it were. He can't express his thoughts. Black is his congenial color. His face accords—but it is not black in color. It is the atmosphere of the asmulness of life in him. He creates the atmosphere desired for a funeral—in MacLaren.
