

ATTORNEY ON THE CARPET

William R. Butler of O'Neill Charged with Altering Transcript.

NORMAL MAY KEEP SOME CASH

Senator Randall Asks Commission to Compel Union Pacific and North-Western to Put in Transfer Switch at Albion.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Neb., June 6.—(Special.)—The supreme court this afternoon directed Attorney General W. T. Thompson to file an information against Attorney William R. Butler of O'Neill charging him with contempt of court in filing a false and mutilated transcript in the case of Rothwell against Fry, a suit from Knox county involving the ownership of farm lands. Interrogatories were found in the transcript filed in the supreme court. A motion was made to strike the transcript from the record and this was argued May 2. At that time William R. Butler, the attorney in the case, appeared and said he did not know where the interrogatories were to be found. The court took the motion to strike under advisement. Today the court ordered the transcript stricken from the records and affirmed the judgment of the district court in the suit. The order for an information charging Butler with contempt followed this decision. The court had previously asked for an investigation of the matter and County Attorney J. H. Berryman reported that the evidence he had taken showed that the handwriting in the interrogatories was that of William R. Butler and that it indicated that he had made the changes in the record after it had been certified to by the clerk of the district court. In a letter written by Mr. Butler he states that he at first assumed that he had made the changes, as the writing resembled his, but that he now believes he did not make the changes and knows nothing about how the interrogatories were made. He also says he had no intention of deceiving the court and also that the interrogatories are not material and that he could have gained nothing by making them. The information will be tried later in the supreme court. Mr. Butler will be given a chance to present his defense and judgment will be pronounced.

Demands Transfer Switches. Senator Charles A. Randall of Madison county called today on the railway commission and gave notice that he would file a complaint against the Union Pacific and the Northwestern roads. He will ask that these roads be compelled to put in transfer switches at the towns of Albion and Emphreth.

Can Keep Some Cash. Under a decision of Deputy Attorney General W. B. Rose, the Kearney Normal school will be able to retain funds derived from the dormitory in the form of room rent and spend the money under the supervision of the State Board of Education. Only funds derived from the sale of property must be turned into the state treasury, according to the terms of the new law, as interpreted by Mr. Rose. There is now $200 of such funds in the state treasury and it cannot be spent by the institution, which paid it in except on voucher and warrant issued by the state auditor. If the ruling of Mr. Rose stands the Kearney Normal school will be able to keep funds derived from the dormitory rental, from text books and typewriters. The institution has been growing on the campus, and that is the extent of its contribution to the treasury.

Acting Governor R. H. Hopewell has refused to grant the request of the judges of the circuit court of Lyon county, South Dakota, for the presence of Ed Whitting, a convict in the Nebraska penitentiary. The acting governor did not have any assurance that the convict would return to his prison after he had gone beyond the jurisdiction of the state of Nebraska. It is probable that if the governor of South Dakota asks for the presence of the convict some arrangement may be made whereby his request can be granted. The judge of the court informed the acting governor that it was believed the testimony of Whitting was needed in court to obtain the conviction of a man who is charged with grand larceny. Sheriff Sheldon of Lyon county presented the statement, but he did not get to meet his namesake, Governor Sheldon.

Claims Reward for Finding Coal. J. K. B. Hayes of Peru, the owner of the Honey Creek coal mine, came to the capital today expecting to get the state reward of $200 for discovering a coal vein over twenty-six inches in thickness. His vein is thirty-three inches thick, according to a report of Prof. Barbour of the University of Nebraska. Mr. Hayes found that the legislature had failed to appropriate funds for the payment of the reward. The bill passed the house, but failed in the senate.

Ruling in Liquor Laws. On the application of James P. English, county attorney of Douglas county, for an opinion on the requirements of the new state law affecting liquor packages, Attorney General Thompson gave an opinion stating that shipments of beer must be sealed with the label "Intoxicating Liquors." The attorney general also states that the per cent of alcohol must be shown on beer boxes and kegs.

The attorney says: "The government revenue stamp and pure food law should show two different facts. The government stamp shows the quantity of liquor in the package, and the label required by the pure food law must show the quantity or proportion of alcohol."
