

DEFENSE OF HAYWOOD

Clarence Darrow Will Make Opening Statement This Morning.

HE WILL DENY ALL CHARGES

Counter Conspiracy on Part of Mine Owners to Be Charged.

PLOT TO BREAK UP UNION

Will Attempt to Trace Orchard's Crimes to Other Organization.

WILL SPEAK THREE HOURS

Attorney Will Say that the Personal Character of His Client Has Not Been Assailed.

BOISE, Idaho, June 23.—William D. Haywood, having already pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder, and having heard the evidence of the state of Idaho as placed before the jury in support of his charge, will tomorrow morning formally assert his entire innocence and outline the evidence he proposes to produce in order that the presumption of innocence still resting in his mind of the jury may become a fixed judgment. Clarence Darrow, as attorney for Haywood, will say that his client is not only not guilty of conspiracy to assassinate Frank Steuneger, former governor of Idaho, but that Haywood is in fact the victim of a conspiracy to disrupt the Western Federation of Miners and under the guise of legal procedure condemn to death the chief officers of the federation of which Haywood is the secretary and one of his confederates under the indictment in the present.

Mr. Darrow's address to the jury presenting the outline of the defense he proposes to introduce and the position he hopes to be able to prove probably will take up most of the day. Court meets at 10 o'clock and takes recess at noon. Mr. Darrow says he expects his speech will occupy at least three hours and possibly more. It will be an extensive presentation. He will assert that Haywood was a man of character who rose from the humble position of a miner working for day's wages to become the secretary and treasurer of a labor organization with upward of 20,000 members. He will show that Haywood was elected to office by the members of the Western Federation of Miners through successive terms of office because of his ability and his honesty. He will point out that the personal character of the man had not been assailed, but that a conspiracy has been charged.

Mr. Darrow will not attempt to deny that many foul crimes have been committed. He will not deny that Steuneger was assassinated, but he will maintain that his client had nothing to do with the murder and that the state has no right to connect Haywood with any conspiracy. He will charge a conspiracy on the part of the mine owners' association, with its large membership and unlimited money, which he will charge was the Federation of Miners. He will charge that the mine owners, by their conspiracy with detectives and others, create such feeling against the federation that governors of states and even the federal government are willing to help the mine owners drive the members of the federation from the land. It will be asserted that the Orchard story is true only in that the crimes were committed. In his speech in an court on Saturday last Mr. Darrow estimated that there was not even a proof that the state statement of Orchard, that Orchard committed the crimes he has enumerated.

Orchard's Alleged Motive. It will be asserted that the conspiracy as between Haywood, Meyer, Pettibone, Orchard and Adams was a fabrication of Orchard's, who, in order to save his life, brought the others into it and that the price of the confession was the pardon of the actual murderer of Steuneger. The motive of this murder, it will be asserted, is to be found in Orchard's desperate poverty and the fact that he saw his old partners in the Hercules mine rich and prosperous, that he had been a criminal, robbed twice and attempted burglary in order to replenish his pocket. It will be charged that Orchard borrowed money from August Paulson in Wallace in order that he might have enough money to go to Caldwell, kill Steuneger and get away.

The taking of the testimony for the defense may begin on Monday, but it is doubtful if after Mr. Darrow has finished his address the court will take up this phase of the case. Counsel for the defense are of the opinion that the first witness will be called on Tuesday morning. Judge Wood, however, is anxious to push the case to completion and it may be that from now on he will extend the hours.

The defense expects to take not more than ten days with the introduction of evidence, but counsel for the state will go into a close examination of all the witnesses brought to upset the Orchard story, and for this reason it is thought that the case for the defense may take up a longer time than was occupied by the state. The rebuttal testimony will take probably a week. The speeches and verdict may take the greater part of another, so that it is not thought that the conclusion will be reached before the end of July.

Man Slung at Fairbury.

FAIRBURY, Neb., June 23.—(Special.)—Yesterday morning an umbrella man who gave his name as James Ryan was found in a boxcar in the railroad yards in a badly pounded condition, his head being covered with bruises from a slung shot which was found in the car. A man who gives his name as Charles Hoover who was with Ryan the evening before and was placed under arrest. Hoover has a wooden leg and marks in the mud outside the car match exactly with his footprints. Hoover admits being with Ryan, but claims he had accomplices who got the few dollars Ryan had. Ryan is unconscious and falling rapidly.

Five Thousand Homesteads Perfected.

PIERRE, S. D., June 23.—(Special.)—The reports from the different land offices of the state to the state auditor of new lands for taxation this year shows nearly 5,000 final proofs for the year, placing on the tax list over 100,000 acres of land, which, at an average of $5 an acre assessable value, would mean an increase of about $500,000 to the real estate assessment for this year. Some of the proofs come from the extreme eastern counties of the state, but only in small numbers, showing that about all the land in those counties has been cleared from the government records.

BERLIN LIKE BIG VILLAGE

Dr. Ernest H. Neufeld Declares Berliners Have Few Refinements Present in Other Cities.

BERLIN, June 23.—(Special.)—Dr. Ernest H. Neufeld, writing in his new weekly review, the Begleiter, declares that Berlin, in spite of its position as the capital of a great empire and notwithstanding the great number of intellectual, artistic, scientific and literary men who are included among its inhabitants, is really nothing more than a village. The writer comes to this conclusion after a careful study of the city of Berlin and Paris, which he visited for the purpose of being able to compare these cities with the German capital. He criticizes the manners and customs of the Berliners with merciless and just cities a number of examples to their primitive simplicity in many respects. Having occasion to confer on business with a great German manufacturer who employed several thousand hands, the writer found that this industrial leader wore no collar, tie or cuffs, but enveloped himself in a coarse woolen garment instead of a shirt. He was wearing the cheapest possible kind of boots and he was smoking a 4 penny cigar. On the following day the writer paid a visit to a great German scientist and found that the celebrated scholar had an unwashed neck, unclean hands, the manners of a Hooligan and a voice like the hound of the Baskervilles. Investigating the various features of the life in Berlin, the writer found that Germans of good social standing whom he met at different pleasure resorts showed an unaccountable desire to introduce themselves to him after one or two minutes' acquaintance, never forgetting to communicate to him their names, titles and dignities in full. Going into society, the writer found that the Berlin women were, as a rule, dressed like kitchen maids on a rainy winter Sunday, and that apart from their appalling habits of dress were hopelessly unintelligent.

Nearly Thousand Fatalities in Mills and Mines of Pittsburg in a Year.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 23.—"Human Lives Sacrificed Upon the Altar of Industry" might well be the title of the blotter in the office of the coronator of Allegheny county, a volume that mutely proclaims upon its pages what it costs besides money for Pittsburg and its district of smoky mills and gridironed territory to maintain its prestige in the mining, mining and mercantile marts of the country, and retain its title of "Workshop of the World."

MISSOURI RIVER RISING

Stage in Vicinity of Leavenworth Highest Since 1903.

LARGE AREA IS UNDER WATER

Heavy Damage to Truck Farms and Wheat Fields Reported—Danger Point Reached at St. Joseph.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 23.—The Missouri river from Leavenworth to Omaha is rising steadily as the result of recent heavy rains, added to the annual June rise, and at some points it is at the flood stage. The stream is higher than at any time since the disastrous flood year of 1903, but a repetition of the damage is not expected.

The river is out of its banks today in the bottom lands, covering some of the truck farms. In the east bottom some families are preparing to move to higher ground. The Kaw river also is bank full. However, no great damage is likely at Kansas City. Near Leavenworth hundreds of acres of wheat and corn in the Missouri bottoms are under water and water is up to the tracks of the Missouri Pacific, Burlington, Maple Leaf and Rock Island in a number of places.

At St. Joseph the Missouri is up to the danger point. At Elwood, Kan., across the river from St. Joseph, a lamentable strange condition prevails. Part of the place has disappeared into the river. Day by day for several years pieces of the land dropped into the water until now, of an original section of land of 600 acres platted, only fifty acres remain intact. Several times houses have been moved back from the banks to appear in places of safety, only to be compelled finally to retreat further from the stream.

MURDER COMMITTED IN DREAM

Dramatic Story Told by Italian Who Killed Man on a Train.

GOODLAND, Kan., June 23.—John Bello, the Italian who killed a man and wounded two women passengers on a Rock Island train east of here last night, told through an interpreter the story of the shooting. Bello asserted that he committed murder in his sleep as the result of a dream. His story, dramatically told, with many and almost tearful protestations of innocence, follows:

"My wife and children and I stayed Leganbrad and his wife and children lived in Genoa. We decided to come to the new world and grow rich, as we heard it was easy to do. We landed in Boston for the White Star liner Cymric a few days ago and took a train for the west. We were on the way to California. "We were in a strange land, among people whose language we could not understand. I had been nervous from the time I left home. Last night I went to sleep in my seat and I had a terrible dream. I dreamed that a man with a white handkerchief over his face had a revolver in his pocket, and I asked it and began to shoot. "I fought with all my strength. Finally I managed to throw my assailant off. The robber turned to run. I had a revolver in my pocket, and I asked it and began to shoot. "All of this was in my sleep. The report of the weapon awakened me, and I found myself on my feet with the pistol in my hand, shooting right and left. God knows I did not mean to kill any one. It was all a terrible dream. "Carl V. Topp, the tailor who was killed by the Italian, was asleep in his seat with a white handkerchief over his face. "Bello is in the county jail here. He sits rocking to and fro, with his face in his hands, muttering in Italian.

GREATER SAFETY IN TRAVEL

Trackmen's Union Rectifies Campaign for State and National Inspection of Railroads.

KANSAS CITY, June 23.—President Roosevelt and the governors of several states have been asked to aid the National Union of Railway Trackmen in a campaign for greater safety in railway travel. J. I. Shepard of Port Scott, Kan., secretary of the organization, yesterday sent out a letter addressed to the president and several governors in which he said: "If we can obtain the co-operation of all who should be interested we will have safe conditions for railway travel in our country as prevail in Europe. We certainly should have either government or state inspection of railway tracks. Some one should be held responsible to the people for keeping the tracks in proper repair and properly patrolled. "It is a curious condition of affairs, but it is true. We have state inspection of factories and mines, of beer, barbers, pharmacists and dentists; there is state control over the product of the busy bee, and the farmer who raises wheat must pay a state inspection fee before he can market his grain. But here it is a law that it is observed that provides for the inspection of railroad tracks."

TEN DEATHS FROM THE HEAT

Six Fatalities Are Reported in Cleveland and Four in New York.

CLEVELAND, O., June 23.—The extreme heat which has prevailed for several days past was attended Saturday by a half dozen deaths and a score or more prostrations. Relief from the torrid temperature came tonight in the nature of local rain and thunderstorms. Among the heat victims today was S. Kitani, a Japanese resident of Cleveland, who was rated as one of the wealthiest business men of this city. He was prostrated in League park and died shortly afterwards.

C. S. Ward, Field Secretary, Here to Aid in Raising Twenty Thousand Dollars to Pay Debt.

PARIS, June 23.—A profound sense of relief pervaded the French capital tonight at the check to the outbreak in the south, which is described by ex-Premier Ribot as the worst internal crisis in France in the last thirty-seven years. The government now apparently is satisfied that it has the situation well in hand, and that the overwhelming force of troops surrounding the whole area effectively will prevent a recurrence of the armed revolt against the central power. Such a mobilization of military power has not previously been witnessed in the life of the third republic. All the towns and the majority of the villages in the two disturbed districts are armed camps.

Tonight's dispatches represent that a general surface calm prevails, although there are one or two storm centers in isolated districts. There are some evidences, too, of anxiety over possible developments tomorrow, Sunday being France's favorite day for a demonstration. Both civil and military authorities, however, have made ample preparations for eventualities.

Senators and deputies representing the south called at the Elysee palace tonight and asked President Fallieres to intervene personally to secure the release of the members of the Argenteuil committee under arrest, as the surest means of ensuring pacification. The president regretted that his office did not permit him to comply with the request.

The Chamber of Deputies passed as a vote of practically unanimous approval all the clauses of the wine farms bill previously adopted separately, thus enabling the government to put the measure into immediate effect and remove the principal grievances of the wine growers, and finally, the bishops in the disturbed area advocated the peace of the country further violence.

The result is that Premier Clemenceau is able to give his colleagues a generally hopeful report of the situation, but the planned visits of President Fallieres to Rouen and Bordeaux and all the ministerial engagements for festive functions in the immediate future have been cancelled or postponed, all on account of national sorrow at the bloodshed in the south of France.

A new feature of this situation was the statement made by the minister of justice today that among the persons arrested in connection with the rioting in the disturbed departments were members of the Young Men's Christian association, and the cabinet's claim that considerable of politics is mixed up in the movement.

A delegation of senators and deputies representing the south of France visited President Fallieres at the Elysee palace this afternoon and appealed for his good offices to bring about the release of M. Ferron, former mayor of Narbonne, and the other members of the wine growers' committee who are in custody. The president replied that he could not depart from the constitutional role, which forbids any such interference on the part of the president of the republic.

In the evening there were a few instances of disorder, especially in the neighborhood of Paris, but these were of a minor character and peasants committed minor depredations. Otherwise the day passed without serious incident.

MARK TWAIN GUEST OF KING

Humorist is Center of Attraction at Garden Party at Windsor Castle.

LONDON, June 23.—Mark Twain was the center of attraction at the King's garden party at Windsor, the "father of humor" being the guest of honor at the royal party. He was accompanied by a large number of his friends, including Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, Fridtjof Nansen, Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, and Ellen Terry. He heartily congratulated Miss Terry on her recent marriage, the two shaking hands enthusiastically.

CLOCK WILL BE USED ONCE MORE

Scheme So Successful Before Will Be Introduced Again.

It has been decided to have the clock struck again in the campaign. The clock, which originated in Omaha two years ago, has been used in practically every "short term" canvass that has been conducted since that time and has been adopted in other countries. "Watch the clock" was the slogan in campaigns in Australia, Manila, and England. After going around the world the clock idea has come back to Omaha as the best that can be obtained. It was devised by Physical Director Pentland.

DAVIDSON AT FIRST METHODIST

W. M. Davidson, superintendent of instruction and a director in the association, spoke at the First Methodist church. In speaking of the work of the Young Men's Christian association, Mr. Davidson said:

"The new structure enables the educational department to provide the best evening work for the young men. The library appointments, reading rooms, gymnasium and other features attract and hold the young men in healthy surroundings with Christian influences. Every day put into that building is an investment in the youth of the world. Omaha, with 200,000 people, has 100,000 young men. The people of Omaha do not wish to see the building dedicated with a debt hanging over it. There is pride enough, loyalty enough and belief enough in this city to justify that. We hope soon to have 1,000 boys as members of the association, but the work will not stop there. We will use those boys and the association to reach out and touch the lives of 6,000 boys of Omaha."

BALLEW AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

J. P. Ballew, state secretary of the association, spoke at the First Presbyterian church in the morning.

The Young Men's Christian association is not an incident or an accident, but one of the great movements of God," said Mr. Ballew. "I believe in the Young Men's Christian association for five main reasons: First, because it is applied Christianity; second, because it is a power which young men can use in an association; third, because of the many forces at work to weaken and blast the characters of young men and boys; fourth, because of the wonderful record of the association; and fifth, because the Young Men's Christian association is the child of the church."
