Excuse Day for Pavers.—Reasons Are Given Council by Contractors for Delay. ACTION IS LEFT FOR LATER TIME. Of Forty-seven Street Contracts Let Since October Eighteen Are Completed and Eleven Under Way.

Explanation of delay in paving was the principal matter before the adjourned meeting of the city council Thursday morning. The contractors were the first on the scene and the majority of those holding contracts had been waiting half an hour when a quorum of the council was declared present, 10:15 o'clock.

The city engineer had prepared a tabulated statement showing the time when all existing contracts had been let, the time work was to have started and when the contract should have been fulfilled. It showed forty-seven contracts let since October, 1906, of which eighteen alone have been completed and eleven are now in course of construction.

The first contract called was that of the Barber Asphalt company on Howard street, between Twelfth and Twenty-eighth streets. Mr. Baker for the company explained that the paving was delayed because the curbing was not finished in time, but concrete was now laid and paving would be completed in a short time. He said other work was in the same condition, except on Farnham street, where public service corporations had to lay conduits before paving went down and on Fortieth street, where the street railway company must complete tracks before work started. He said he believed all contracts would be completed by August 15.

Mr. Baker was cross-questioned by Assistant City Attorney Dunn. He said he had been notified to start work on completion of the contract, but waited for the curbing. Let Contracts Together.—This brought out a statement from City Engineer Rosewater to the effect that he desired a system whereby curbing and paving contracts should be let together, so one contractor could not blame the other for delay.

The attorney tried to elicit a statement regarding who caused a delay between the time of grading the street and the beginning of laying paving. The examination was interrupted by Councilman McGovern, who desired to have all witnesses sworn.

Hugh Murphy protested. He said he had been called to confer with the council and came willingly, but if the hearing should be made to assume a judicial form he desired the right to be represented by a counsel.

Mr. Baker said he could not remember whether he had consulted the city engineer before waiting after the street was filled. Witness said such delay was the usual custom and necessary in order to secure compact ground upon which to place paving.

Work on Farnham street was started about two weeks ago and under instruction of the city engineer is being done, one-half of the street at a time, so that traffic can be carried on. The city engineer some time ago said that the street could be completed; Baker was notified verbally by the city engineer last fall that underground work must be completed before paving could be done; just what underground work he did not know. Witness' understanding was that contract for the initial event of the proposed public entertainment scheme and its success has led the promoters of the movement to hope for permanency in this respect.

It is probable a call will be issued for the purpose of holding an informal meeting of the city for the discussion of the question and creating as many public spirited citizens as possible.

GREEN GOES AFTER BROWN.—Benson Citizens Complain that Their Constable Resides in Omaha.

War has been declared by some of the residents of Benson against Constable Tallmage E. Brown, who was appointed peace officer for the precinct last winter. Two complaints were made against him to the county board, asking he be removed. One of the complainants is Ira D. Green and the other is John L. Lindstrom. In his complaint Mr. Green says Brown, after his appointment as constable, moved out of the precinct and is now living in Omaha.

Mr. Lindstrom makes the same charge and adds one relating to the collection of money under attachment proceedings in the case of Marie Marsh against Anton France. He charges Brown secured $71.70, but made a return showing only $62. The charges will probably come up at the next meeting of the county board.

THREE THOUSAND INTEREST.—Amount City Did Not Pay on Regular Fund Warrants This Year.

City and County Treasurer Fink has credited to the sinking fund of the city $2,000, which represents the interest which the city did not pay on regular fund warrants this year. Last year interest on such warrants amounted to $2,000 and the office said it has tried to make up all regular fund warrants were paid in cash, although the fund on which they were drawn might have been exhausted by the time they were presented. The money was taken from funds having a surplus, and as soon as the fund on which the warrant was drawn received on the warrant was formally released and the sinking fund credited with the interest which would have been paid to the holder had the warrant been registered, as was formerly done.
