statement of the city clerk for the onth of June shows some startling figures for the close of the year. Evidently there is to be no surplus under the democratic ystem of economy, A net balance reained in the treasury July 1 of $33,368.02. which is only $8,194.36 more than was left over last year under the republican con-There was a surplus at the end of last year of $25,175.66. The expense last month amounted to $35,790.01. At that rate there will be a general deficit at the close of this year amounting to more than $6,000. The total collections from all sources up to the present time are $234,972.24. The as disbursements to July 1 amounted to $201.544.22. The corresponding figures for last year were: Collections, $223.8814, and the disbursements $151.787.88, an expenditure to disbursements $151.787.88, an 119,000 less than this year. Twenty thousand dollars of last year's expenditures went to the building of the new fire hall No. 1. This is not included in the items of ex-pense of this year. The shortest funds at the present time are the general, public light, street repair, police and salary funds. All of these will have to be bejosted in some manner. New Manager

The Salvation Army store in South Omaha has changed hands. Mrs. Carrie Bushdens, who formerly managed the store in Omaha, is in charge. The former manager was Charles Russell. The change was due to the unsatisfactory management under the former keeper. It is not charged that there was any misappropriation of funds, but the business had declined considerably. The change was made early in the week. Following the change came the mysterious disappearance of Russell. He left the house Monday morning, saying he would buy something for breakfast. He did not return and his wife is left destitute. She has been working at the 'Alden | are t hotel since the disappearance. She was at one time compelled to leave Russell, but later he persuaded her to re urn to him. They lived in rooms over the store, which is at 46 North Twenty-fifth street

AMES HAS NEW ATHLETIC FIELD College Council Arranges for Better not been recovered. Mr. Pfallard was picked Financial Support.

Ia., July 7.-(Special.)-The financial support of athletics at the lowa State college is steadily being placed on a firmer foundation than it ever has been in the history of the institution.

When Jack Watson came to Ames three years ago from Grinnell it was necessary that he be offered financial inducement greater than that which he was receiving at Grinnell in order to obtain him. In order to do this it was necessary for the athletic council of the college, a student organization, to subscribe one-half of his salary out of its funds. This they have done the last three seasons, but this apring the trustees of the college have voted to allow all of his salary from the support fund of the college, thus making it possible for the council to add almosa $1.000 annually to other places in the sthietic fund where it is sorely needed.

On account of the encroachment of new buildings that have been steadily going up at the college the last six years it has been found necessary to allow a new and permanent location for the athletic field of the institution. This has been done and in the spring of 1908 it will be ready for use. Here again the trustees showed a decided change in their attitude toward college athletics. They voted $500, which, with an equal amount voted by the athlatic council for grading and arranging the new field, will go a long way toward putting it in first-class condition. The plan is to have cement bleachers in the new field and make it a permanent place of sports of all kinds.

At their last meeting the trustees voted to do away with the dormitory system for the boys, which has always been a feature of the college life. This vote was not from principle or policy, but because of the fact that the buildings that were being used for dermitories had passed their period of usefulness. This action, however, has a decided effect upon importer, sold at import prices. the training squad of the institution. The last building to succumb to the act is the "quarters," the place where all the athletes roomed and where the training table was maintained. With this room gone, what the athletes will do for a raining table, and how they will be collected into one general lodging locality, which is so desirable if they are to do will be solved cannot yet be told.
