Publicity for Greater Omaha as the Market Town
One of the striking needs of Omaha today is the immediate broadening of national appreciation of the city's importance, attractions and commercial consequence, through a systematic distribution of facts relating to the development of the city and the remarkable growth of the tributary country, and the progress that has been made and is being made in every line of activity.
The country is full of capital seeking profitable investment. Omaha should have its share—and the share should be liberal.
No other city in the country offers so many and attractive inducements, in real estate, business enterprises, manufacturing, development and other fields for lucrative investment of capital and energy.
Let the country know about Omaha.
Make Omaha's commercial importance known.
Bring Omaha into touch with new markets for her goods. Add to the purchasing power of the local population and stimulate every activity that makes for a greater and more prosperous city.
Prosperity begets prosperity and the record of Omaha's achievements in the last seven or eight years holds a cheering promise of greater development for the future.
Twelve cities are bidding for the trade of the country between the Mississippi and the Pacific and of the Omaha occupies the commanding position, by reason of its location, transportation advantages and the friendliness of dealers, won by square dealing in a fair
