SUITS FOR WOMEN

Fashionseal Suits are artful copies of the most expensive and elegant French models, the styles being skillfully adapted to the American woman's figure.

Among the new Fashionseal styles for 1908 are

Madame Butterfly, Papillions, Modified Prince Chap Ideas, Eva Tanguay, Merry Widow and other captivating innovations.

No other line can show duplicates to these artistic adaptations of accepted spring styles.

The skirts are in the new, gored flares, gore pleated, plain folds, and pleats, taffeta or self folds, etc.

Each suit has a touch of smart metropolitan style.

Fashionseal Suits are not to be compared with others at a similar price. They show a marked superiority, both in style and tailoring.

NOTES ON OMAHA SOCIETY

Mrs. J. B. Rahm is Hostess of C. T. Luncheon Club.

SEVERAL PARTIES ARE ON TAB

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Smith Entertain at Dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lyman of Boston.

Mrs. J. B. Rahm was hostess for the meeting of the C. T. Luncheon club Thursday at her home on South Thirty-first street. Luncheon was followed by a game of six-handed euchre, Mrs. Vernier and Mrs. Palmatter winning the prizes.

next meeting will be in two weeks, at the home of Mrs. Vernier, who will be assisted by Mrs. Rahm and Mrs. Palmatter. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hammond entertained the Ideal Card club Thursday evening, five tables being placed for the game. The prizes were won by Mrs. John Wisler and Mr. H. B. Bowers. The next meeting will be in two weeks, with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Segar.

coin Friday to attend the annual dancing party given by the Phi Kappa Psi. One party included Miss Laura Dale, Miss Martha Dale, Miss Fannie Howland, Mr. Harvey Milliken, Mr. Al Gordon and Mr. Russell Harris. Miss Laura Dale and Miss Martha Dale will be the guests of Miss Claire Funk in Lincoln for a few days. In honor of Mrs. Buchanan and Mrs. McFadden of Kansas City, who are the guests of Lieutenant and Mrs. Irvin L. Hunsaker, Mrs. Fred E. Buchanan entertained very informally at bridge Friday afternoon at her home. The guests included Mrs. Buchanan, Mrs. McFadden, Mrs. Irvin L. Hunsaker, Mrs. William P. Svara, Mrs. Herbert M. Lord, Mrs. John L. Hines, Mrs. George Roberts and Mrs. R. E. Harris.

and began making little garments, and every one of them has found use for them. Now all the other women in the neighborhood are taking a lively interest in the affairs of the club, and it is predicted that the membership will soon be quadrupled. The original members succeeded fairly well in keeping secret the fact that they had formed the club until the stock had visited the house of each member, but now all are willing to discuss their plans.

signing of German Emigration to America. Illustrated by Whittier's "Pennsylvania Pilgrim" the first prize went to Madeline Waxer and the second to Henry Murray Joy.

CONTEST FOR AN AFTERNOON

Informal Game that Will Help Provide Entertainment for Kensington.

What part of a tangle is an even vote? Why does a tangle remind you of summer and winter? Because it is hot and chill. Why is a tangle like good lumber? Because it is well seasoned. Why is a tangle like an egg ready to hatch? Because there is a little chicken in it.

FREEDOM FOR ROYAL GIRLS

Many Old-Time Restrictions Are Being Given Way to Modern Liberties.

Modern royalty, in England at least, differs widely from the past royalty in the matter of the liberty of movement permitted their daughters. For example, Queen Victoria's daughters were never separated from her for a single night until after they were married. Day and night they were under her supervision, with the one exception of the Princess Louise.

NOVELTIES IN TRIMMINGS

Though Inferior in Coloring French Pique Rivalry Linen This Year.

These Persian printings on pongee are among the beautiful novelties, coming usually in the form of borders for plain tone pongee. The designers, however, cut them off and use them separately as trimming.

QUEEN MARIA A FAMOUS SHOT

King Carlos Took First Lessons in Shooting from His Mother.

King Carlos, who was a remarkable marksman, got his first lessons in shooting from his mother, Queen Maria Pia, who won fame in her youth not only as one of the best dressed princesses in Europe, but as one of the finest lady shots in the world. At 60 she is still very fond of shooting at glass balls.

STRIPED LINEN AND SOUTACHE

coat and skirt costumes heavily embroidered or braided in linen soutache and with some note of contrasting color in collar, cuffs or travat, are numerous among the new models.

The white serge suit of the large cut, with its drape hood lined with color, was an effective outing costume from a well known French maker and has already been copied for several girlish wearers.

Stork Club in Michigan

Every member of the Stork club of Detroit, an organization formed in the aristocratic North End district in January, 1907, has made good. Mrs. Emily Holdrick originated the idea, and quickly gained four neighbors as converts, and so the club was formed, although not much was said about it at that time.

In Housekeeping a Lost Art

Who taught the black mammy of the south her culinary skill but the women of the "big house"? Who showed the New England maid-of-all-work how to bake a "baked" pie and fill the pantry with the winter's supplies? Who put lavender

Seeking the "Ideal Husband"

Ask a hundred women, "What constitutes an ideal husband?" and so two will give the same reply, observes the New York Tribune. Scarcely a married woman but thinks that, given more wisdom at the time of her selection of a husband, she might have done better. Few meditate that from seventeen to seventy women enter into matrimony with the same imperious disregard of anything but the desire for love, for title or for gold. Some women say that the ideal husband must be handsome, brilliant, good tempered, generous—in fine, possess all the attributes of a genius, an Adonis and a saint rolled into one—and none reflect that these attributes do not travel together and that few possess them in combination. On one point women are agreed; the ideal husband must be generous. He must not scan too closely millinery bills, nor ask how certain sums have been expended. The ideal husband should be good tempered, all absent, for who could endure life with a bear? Then, too, the ideal husband should never be jealous. The excitement of jealousy might lend spice to an engagement, but they prove cayenne pepper to married life. On the domestic qualities of the ideal husband women differ. Some like a husband to go to his club and enjoy himself, and leave them to gossip or bridge at home or elsewhere; others think the ideal husband should be a constant companion and never experience the least enjoyment in the society of any human being other than his wife. Some women think that the man who is able to order his own home and everything in it—except his wife—is an ideal husband, while more of them believe perfection to lie in that man who lets his wife reign supreme in his home and rule his every act. The Harmon branch of the Young Men's Christian association is teaching its class of prospective benefactors all about their duties toward their homes and even how to pick out a suitable wife to adorn them, but hasn't tried to teach them what their attitude should be toward the wives they win to wear the enviable title of "ideal husband." It does not know, and nobody has ever discovered from any body of women, what constitutes the feminine ideal of what a husband ought to be.

A CONSTANT ANNOYANCE

Half the nervousness, half the irritability that is so common in everyday life, is really sickness, and in most cases a condition that accompanies kidney trouble. It is the work of the kidneys to keep the blood free from uric acid and other poisons, but when the kidneys are sick, and not doing their duty, the uric acid poison permeates the body and attacks body, brain and nerves. The irritation causes nervousness, irritability, headache, dizziness, spells make you languid, unfit for work, and inclined to worry over trifles. Besides, there is nothing more annoying than a bad back, and headache is the most common sign of kidney trouble. You feel lame and tired in the morning, suffer day and night with a dull aching in the back, and it hurts to stoop or bend or lift. Keep your temper cool and get the kidneys well. No person can feel cheerful and healthy if the kidneys are the least bit affected. A few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills, taken in the beginning, will set the kidneys right. Continued treatment cures cases of long standing.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only, and contain no poisonous or habit forming drugs. They relieve congestion and inflammation of the kidneys or bladder, heal and cure the kidney tissues, drive off dangerous uric poisons, dissolve and remove gravel, and rid the body of all watery waste. Thousands of cures prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a case at home— AN OMAHA CASE. Wm. H. Sage, 4211 Burdette St., Omaha, Neb., says: "It is a pleasure for me to confirm the statement I made some years ago in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills, as the cure they performed in my case at that time has remained permanent. My back had bothered me off and on for years, the pains being especially noticeable when I contracted a cold or over-exerted myself. As my work requires much stooping, I was often in misery and was at a loss to know how to rid myself of the trouble until Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me. I used them, and as before stated, they effected a complete cure. On several occasions since, I have taken them, and they have never failed to benefit me."
