THREE STEPS FOR CORN SHOW Kansas, Minneapolis and Omaha School Children Are in Line.

PUPILS WILL PLANT THE CEREAL Millers of the Mill City Will Have an Exhibit in Omaha and So Will the Sun-downer State.

Three important steps in the progress of the National Corn exposition to be held in Omaha during December have been realized this week. Kansas has won up. Millers of Minneapolis will have an exhibit. School children will grow corn for the big exposition.

Word has been received at the headquarters of the Corn Exposition association that the State Board of Agriculture of Kansas met Tuesday to consider the advisability of making a large exhibit at the National show. It was unanimously decided to see that no other state had a better exhibit than Kansas.

Secretary Coburn of the Kansas board has kept in constant touch with the management of the exposition and many of his suggestions have been incorporated into the plans for the big show.

Any institution that has for its object the advancement of the greatest of America's cereals in worthy and generous support. India corn is a native of America, and its adaptability to conditions here is established by the fact that the United States grows 80 per cent of the world's crop.

While corn contributes more to the nation's wealth than any other growth from the soil, there is no question that its yield can be largely increased without widening the area devoted to its culture.

BIRD DAY AT LONG SCHOOL Variety of Exercises Shows Departmental Work of the Several Grades.

The second annual exhibition of the departmental work of the first to the eighth grades of the Long school at Twenty-sixth and Franklin streets was given Wednesday afternoon. This feature of departmental work is peculiar to Long school, the purpose being to show the work of the various grades by progressive process, beginning with the youngest grades and terminating with the eighth.

This school is one of the largest in the city, having an attendance of approximately 700. The Long school comprises two buildings, the old school and the annex, with Miss Sarah M. McCleane as principal. Miss McCleane is at present confined to her home by illness and the work of the exhibition is under the charge of Miss Hulda Isaacson, assistant principal.

The exercises of Wednesday afternoon were attended by a large number of the parents of the pupils and the visitors were shown through the rooms in both buildings, where samples of the departmental work of the children were shown on the blackboards and cardboard and paper. The exhibition was exclusively the daily work of the children. In this departmental work each teacher gives a course of instruction on some special subject.

The day was designated "Bird day," the purpose being to impress upon the children the necessity for the protection and love of birds. The exercises were varied in the several rooms, singing and recitations being special features.

The afternoon Superintendent Davidson delivered a short address in the annex before the pupils, commending them for their work. Short talks also were made by several of the teachers on general school topics.

GILMAN ON THE AUDITORIUM

Manager Addresses Real Estate Exchange and Leaves Good Feeling.

IS NOT A CLOSED CORPORATION Building Does Not Pay Because of Incomplete Condition—Deplores Fault-Finding by Omaha People.

That there is no danger whatever of the Omaha Auditorium becoming the property of a "few" or falling into the hands of a private corporation, but will always remain a public building, was the assurance given the Omaha Real Estate exchange by Manager J. M. Gilman, who addressed the exchange at the noonday lunch Wednesday.

"The trouble with the people of Omaha is they find too much fault with themselves," said the manager of the Auditorium. "They laugh at our building and it has been the subject of criticism at home, which did it more injury than any criticism from abroad. It is a first-class proposition, better located than any other auditorium in any other city of which I know and when it is completed the people of Omaha will have a more valuable property for less money than either Kansas City, Minneapolis, Milwaukee or Denver, where sums aggregating $500,000 have been spent for auditoriums.

Now the truth about the Auditorium is that it is a public building and belongs to the people of Omaha. But a public building has expenses. We can't throw it open. We have paid $100,000 taxes on that property in the last five years and we have just paid the city treasurer of Omaha $175 for the taxes of the last year.

But we are losing money because the building is not finished. Our insurance rate is $30 per thousand because of our board and paper work. We must finish the building and it will cost $40,000 to do the work and pay the small debts of the Auditorium association.

Don't Rob The Horse of His Corn. The whole wheat is the most perfect food given to man. It has been his "staff of life" for 4,000 years. Human ingenuity can never make corn as digestible or as nutritious as Shredded Wheat—a food that contains all the tissue-building material in the whole wheat prepared in a digestible form. For breakfast heat the Biscuit in oven, pour milk over it (hot milk in winter) and a little cream. If you like the Biscuit for breakfast you will like TOASTED TRISCUIT (the Shredded Wheat wafer) for luncheon or any meal with butter, cheese or marmalade. At your grocers.
