While the week started out with very bright prospects for the seliers of fat cattle, the market being much higher on Monday has had a steady downward tendency, so, that all the advance of the first of the week has been wiped out. Heavy beeves have been the worse sufferers and at the close of the week. Other kinds of cattle, while all the advance made the first of the week has been lost, are still at the close about where they were one week ago.

Cows and heifers have shown less change than have beef steers. They did not advance so sharply at the beginning of the week and have not declined very much, week and have not declined very much. Cows and heifers have shown less change than have beef steers. They did not advance so sharply at the beginning of the week and have not declined very much since. In fact, at the close of the week the general run of good cows and heifers are selling about where they were a week ago.

Good feeders sold very well all the week, but common and inferior grades were hard to move owing to the fact that speculators are pretty well filled up. The feeling at the close is generally easier.

Three cars of good Mexican lambs sold up to $7.50. of good Mexican lambs sold up to $7.50, which was practically everything in the way of killers that was actually offered on the market. The feeling was steady, there being no apparent change as compared with yesterday. The tendency of prices has been steadily downward this week and at the close-prices are generally 50c lower than they were at the close of noted yesterday, is to be found in the last week. The cause for the dorline, as sharp break at eastern points, which have forced western markets downward. Prices at this point are still high in comparison with other markets.
