The United States Agricultural department, as well as the state department and the State Dairy department, are anxious that the dairy business in Iowa should be greatly increased. In agricultural circles the question of how to keep up the fertility of the soil is a vital one in western states and it is desired to preserve it rather than to replace it after it is once exhausted. Dairy farming is recognized as one of the kinds of farming that keeps up the fertility of the soil. Iowa now produces annually about 70,000,000 pounds of butter, but this is missioner. J. L. Creameries all over the state are to be asked to put in septic tanks. The state food and dairy commissioner has been endeavoring for years to find some adequate means of disposing of the sewage from creameries. The part that is left from the milk and cream after the butter and cheese is made is thrown away. When dumped a roadside, as it frequently is at the smaller creameries, it makes a smell that causes the inhabitants of that section to remain as far away as possible. When dumped into a stream it pollutes the stream. It has been found through experiments that septic tanks will take care of it. In these septic tanks of course, will tell. MESSAGE IN UNKNOWN TONGUE Penture of Conference of Latter Day Saints at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 13.-The delivery of a prophecy in an unknown tongue was the feature of today's meeting work of revising the school laws and it is of the world's conference of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in session at Independence, near here. The spirit talking or gift of tongues came during the morning service and in the presence of a vast assemblage in the big church of Saints. Elder W. W. Wight, one of the quorum of twelve, arose in his place and while the large crowd waited breathlessly he uttered a few words in a tongue unknown to his hearers. Then he interpreted the message to the congregation as follows:

"Thus saith the spirit unto my people now assembled: There are many, many things done by you pleasing in my sight Many, many things done by you are not pleasing in my sight, and for which my people need to be warned.

"Yea, verily, I say unto you, that masmuch as my people will put away pride vanities of the world, cease from the vanities incident to outward adornment and become more humble and faithful, I will pour out of my spirit upon you, giving you wisdom and knowledge enabling you to walk in humility and in faith.

'Yea, be warned, for the time has come that calamities shall come upon the earth; yea the voice of the earthquake, of famine in holy places and standing so, my spirit will keep you from harm and danger. Yes. my people need to take warning and be ne more humble and inasmuch as they

"The time is not far distant when from various parts of the earth will I call my people together: and the Gentile nations need to be warned. For soon will I turn from them. Lo unto my people that have been my people in times past. From the Gentiles will I turn and then my people sanctified unto me through father Abraham will come from the four parts of the earth, center together and be prepared to meet my son when He shall come upon earth. Yea, thus saith the spirit unto you in warning voice this morning. Amen. The meeting continued at the conclusion of Elder Wight's interpretation as though nothing unusual had happened, though that she appreciated my efforts very much.

Our love for each other began to dawn only after the divorce decree had been entered. Long after the courts had acted, I chanced to call at her home one day, and by one of those intuitive divinations—a meeting of the eyes sometimes brings the knowledge—I knew for the first time that I really loved her and she loved me.

It was on the first day of last August that the first word about love or marriage was uttered between us. In the course of a conversation she suddenly said to me: "Oh, prince, why didn't I marry a man like you?" I replied that I was afraid I was too old, but she asserted that she did not think so. I had known her well. I had studied her thoughts, her hopes, her inclinations and understanding all this, I realized what a good wife she would make and I believed it mightly in my power to make her happy. We became betrothed.

Mme. Gould and I contemplate a quiet marriage. When that event has taken place my wife and I will live for some years in complete retirement in some quiet suburb of Paris. There we shall remain until the debts of her former husband are paid. We are marrying, I repeat, for nothing except that we love each other.
