PA WINS PITCHERS' BATTLE

Hall and Nichols Evenly Matched in East Pueblo Game.

SLIM TEARS OUT A TWO-BAGGER

Spencer and Mattick for Visitors Shine, While Captain Franck is the Brightest Spot Omaha Has in Field.

Omaha, 3; Pueblo, 0. Omaha took a pitchera' battle from Pueblo westerday in which both pitchers were even so far as number of hits were concerned. giving and taking. Hall was more effective at crucial times, however, fanning eight of bthe Indians.

Omaha gave two of Pueblo's flelders, Spencer and Mattick, plenty to do, and they did that plenty well. Spencer had five chances and took them all, while Mattick had eight chances and took them all but one, that one being a most difficult ball to field. He muffed it only after a long, hard run. Had he caught it the play would have been spectacular in the extreme. But Mattick's seven catches did not eclipse Spencer's five, for the simple reason that all but one of Spencer's were apparent hits. Three, two off Belden's bat and one off Ring's, he took right at his shoe-tops. And he natied a terrific drive by Gonding with one hand, relled over and held the ball. This performance took place up against the deft field fence and spoiled a two or three base hit. Spencer and Mattick both throw remarkably well. Their work brought forth ome hearty rounds of applause and merited

Franck Plays Great Game. Franck played a great game of ball and King and Gonding were in the spotlight, and Hall-well Hall not only held the husky groungsters down to four hits, but rubbed it the fifth inning, after Gonding had been gobbed of a hit by Spencer, Hall drove the small to the left field fence with terrific force and perched himself on second, amid the plaudits of the dumfounded multitude. But Captain Franck ate 'em alive, getting five put outs and three assists, all his

One thing is apparent-was all through this Pueblo series-Omaha must begin to hit more. The sort of batting it did yeszerday against Nichols, a promising youngster, won't get the Champs far against Bloux City, Pueblo has some good blood, apparently, but the team lacks class for the reason that most of the members lack experience and team work.

Omaha started its scoring in the first finning. After King had lost a good one to Spencer, Captain Franck got to second on in fly which Mattick missed after making m mighty good try. Autrey flew out to first and second too hot for Patterson to mail in time and Franck scored.

Mattick Makes Good Throw. Pueblo went out in order in the first Belden hit out to Clark in the second and Mustin got a life by a poke from the pitcher, Gonding sent a big fly to center and Austin was told to tear for second He did so, reaching the bag before he disgovered Mattick had caught the ball. With all the speed of Austin Mattick shot the ball to first on a magnificent line in time to complete a pretty double play and regire the side.

Hall gave signs of blowing up in the second. After Mattick had fanned, the lean boy walked McLear and Clark. Two men on bases and but one out and Hall not steadying, gave an ominous aspect to things Two Hits Rattle Brooklyn Pitcher for Omaha. The cloud grew darker when Hall gave Corhan three balls. McLear had gone to third on a passed ball. Indeed, it was a dubious situation for Pa's ambitious Champions. But alack and alas, Hall did not give Mr. Corhan the fourth ball. Instead he fanned out that erratic young man, whereupon Mr. Clark, bethinking himself a fleet-footed athlete, and evidently presuming that Mr. Gonding had gone quail hunting, made a terrific dive for second. Simultaneously did Mr. McLear break for third. Well, say, the way Johnny did soak that boy, Clark, was a shame. He simply shot the ball to second, Hall out of an awful hole and he only passed one more man after that.

McLear Again Gets to Third. Pueblo didn't make any more fuss to peak of until the eighth. In this inning that same McLear got as far as third base again and made everybody feel quite quirmish like, lest he should score. But he did not score. It was like this: Mattick had flown out to Franck and McLear drove the ball on a line past second and it bounded on to Welch, Welch surprised and disappointed his staunch admirers when, instead of seizing the spheroid, he let it get over his head and allowed McLear to Brooklyn reach third. It should be stated, however, in deference to Dr. Welch, that the ball showed a very gross disregard for all the amenities of common decency by making an awful ugly bound just at the very moment the good doctor was about to lay hands upon it. But what boots it? Did young Mr. Mc-Lear score? He did not. Nay, he tarried on YOUNG third whilst Colonel Hall wound up once more and fanned Clark and put Corhan tout from second to first.

Gonding Burns Hoggy. Omaha got its second run in the seventh nning. Gending was principally responsi- to two hits and Boston won, 4 to 1. Lush ble. He opened the inning with a drive was ineffective with men on bases. Score that hit poor old Hogriever's left shin bone and bounded up to second base. Hoggy didn't even see the ball, let alone have a chance to stop it. Hall was next up, and he vos urgently requested to repeat his feat of getting a two-bagger. Do you think he'd listen? He simply spurned the imporfunities of his fellow citizens and fanned out. King flew out to that cave in center and Buck Franck sent one through Clark at first, who, by the way, found time to St. Louis ........ 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0-1 Boston .......... 1 0 0 0 0 1 0 2 0-4
