LEO LOSES FOUR-YEAR FIGHT

Chinaman Must Be Deported at Last as Common Laborer.

CASE GOES TO COURT OF APPEALS

Termination of Long Drawn Out Contest Between Celestial and Immigration Authorities of the United States.

Leo Lung On, the Celestial from the dominion of Queen An, will soon take an involuntary trip to San Francisco and will be transported thence to that dear old China.

Leo Lung On has been giving the immigration authorities lots of trouble in and about Omaha for about four years in trying to prove that he is legitimately in the United States and has a right to remain here, the deportation laws and Chinese exclusion laws to the contrary notwithstanding. He is the Chink who said some two years ago that "if it wasn't for me 'Melican Immigration pieceman' we'dn't have nothin' to do."

This last chapter in Colonel Leo's adventures is the result of a mandate received from the United States circuit court of appeals dismissing his appeal and directing his deportation as decided by the United States district court for the Nebraska district.

He will be taken to San Francisco within the next few days by the United States marshal for this district.

Leo Lung On was arrested for the first time November 23, 1904, by direction of the immigration authorities and after various delays he was ordered deported by United States Commissioner Anderson in February, 1906. He appealed to the United States district court and Judge Munger sustained the ruling of Commissioner Anderson. On November 4, 1906, the Chinaman applied for a new trial and the application was denied on January 10, 1907. He then appealed the case to the circuit court of appeals. On April 21, 1908, he was released temporarily under a writ of habeas corpus issued out of Judge Troup's court, but a few days later the writ was dissolved and Leo furnished bail until he could perfect his appeal, which was finally accomplished on July 10. The case was not heard until nearly a year after its filing and the decision was only reached on April 23, 1908, when it was dismissed for want of jurisdiction and the mandate ordering his deportation was issued out of that court.

In hiding since then. Leo has kept in hiding since that time, but was finally apprehended and is now a temporary guest of Sheriff Bratley, with the United States as the backer of his board bill.

Leo Lung On claimed his right to remain in the country because of his vocation as a merchant. He has been in the country about ten years, coming to Omaha from San Francisco. He operated a sort of Chinese curio and tea shop on North Sixteenth street, with an option den back of it. His place was frequently raided by the police. Later Leo went to work in a laundry and found such other employment as he could in Chinese restaurants or elsewhere. His deportation is based on the information gleaned by the immigration authorities that he is not a common laborer and does not in any degree belong to the privileged or "favored" class of immigrants from the Mongolian regions.

BALL PROTESTS TO MAYOR

Employment Agent Calls on Dahlgren, Who Will Investigate Before Taking Action.

Robert A. Ball, proprietor of the "American-German Employment Agency," at 1421 Dodge street, fined $100 in police court for taking money from Sam Brown on the promise of securing work for him and sending Brown to a "fictitious employer" at Wayne who needed no help, called on Mayor Dahlgren Friday morning to protest against the revocation of his license. The mayor has taken the matter under advisement pending an inquiry into the merits of the case and in the meantime Ball will be allowed to continue in business.

Mayor Dahlgren has requested Prosecutor Daniel to furnish him a record of the several complaints against and prosecutions of Ball and when he has all material in readiness will call in the prosecutor and the employment agent and talk the matter over and decide whether the license should be revoked.

Prosecutor Daniel and License Inspector Wagner called on the mayor Thursday and asked that Ball's license be revoked.

BOY INDIFFERENT TO LAW

On Second Arrest Within One Week He Doesn't Care a Rap, Apparently.

George Harold, a boy just over 18 years of age, was before the criminal court for the second time Friday morning and he indicated he didn't care a rap if he was by rolling a cigarette and filling the air around him with a cloud of blue smoke. He was up for arraignment on a charge of stealing Charles Harding's automobile, to which he entered a plea of not guilty. Several weeks ago he was before the criminal court on a charge of forgery. He pleaded he was under 18 and was turned over to the juvenile authorities and paroled to Rev. James Wise of South Omaha. It was while he was out on the parole he is charged with taking the automobile.

PARIS' AMERICAN BEAUTY

This Year It Is Mrs. Rutherford Stuyvesant, French by Birth and Education.

Every year Paris finds it necessary to select an American beauty and to worship her, for at least the spring season. It is her name and no other that fills the newspapers and it is of her alone that society talks.

This spring Paris has not failed to follow the old tradition. But what is rather unusual is the fact that the "American beauty" this year is French by birth and origin.

Mrs. Rutherford Stuyvesant, who is hailed so enthusiastically in the press and in society, married a brother of Mrs. White, wife of the ambassador of the United States, in Paris.

Her American husband is her only claim to being an American, but, as few people are aware of her French birth, she is celebrated everywhere as the "great American beauty." Anyway, her beauty is remarkable and worthy of all the enthusiasm it arouses.

She and her husband have just taken a charming hotel in the Rue Dumont d'Urville. Now, at the present moment, is there anything so eagerly sought in Paris as an invitation to the "at homes" of the reigning "American beauty"—who is French.

THREE-PIECE CALLING FROCK

It is Quite the Proper Thing for All Ordinary Daytime Functions.

The visiting frock, which must, in a limited wardrobe, answer for all ordinary daytime functions, should be a three-piece frock or coat and princess affair. To be sure,

After the lemon is arranged fill the glass half full of shaved ice. Add half a bottle of ginger ale and fill the remainder with seltzer water.

Sassafras Read—Take four bunches of sassafras roots, three pints of New Orleans molasses, one and one-half pints of strained white honey, one tablespoonful of cream of tartar; make two quarts of sassafras tea, strain, add honey and molasses, boil and strain, add cream of tartar, bottle airtight. When using place one-half level teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda in each glass, with ice; fill with mead and stir vigorously.

Cider Cup—Put the rind of two lemons in a stone jar with the Juice of one lemon, some slices of cucumber, a tablespoonful of cognac, four tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and a quart of cider. Put all on the ice until wanted. Just before serving take out the lemon peel and cucumber and add a bottle of soda water.

"GIBSON GIRLS" AT COURT

They Have Been Honored with a Command to Royal Function.

Charles Dana Gibson is becoming more and more interested in sculpture and painting in oils, and some of his work has, from accounts received, astonished some of the great Parisian artists. The artist and his wife and her two sisters, Mrs. Waldorf Astor and Mrs. Reggie Brooks, will all be in London together in June.

Mrs. Astor has taken a fine house in Upper Brook street, Mayfair, for the season, and there she will give a big party, but not, as has been stated, for her unmarried sister, Miss Norah Langhorne, who, contrary to expectation, has indefinitely postponed her visit to London.

The friends of Mrs. Astor declare that there is a Virginia romance behind this sudden alteration of plans. The original Gibson girls will, in fact, be among the honorees of the season.

Mrs. Gibson has already been honored by a "command" to a royal function, so that she will not have to be "presented," but she will accompany her sisters to court.

The trio are likely to create a sensation and the court milliners and dressmakers are already lying in wait for them.

Three Working Rules.

2. Touch elbows with the rank and file.
3. Speak every day to some one whom you know to be your superior.
