

VENERABLE OMAHA MAN VOICES HIS APPRECIATION

MR. JOHN WINSHIP.

"I am seventy-six years old, and have lived in Omaha for fifty years, coming here in 1858, when Fifteenth and Farnam streets was a wilderness, says the venerable Mr. John Winship of 2931 Franklin street. "For the past fifteen years I have been a constant sufferer from stomach trouble and constipation. I treated with a number of physicians, but obtained only temporary relief. "My condition was growing steadily worse, I was nervous and could not sleep. I suffered almost constantly with a dull headache, and had frequent spells of dizziness. There was a heavy load on my stomach, and nearly everything I ate nauseated me. My condition unfitted me for business and I was greatly discouraged. "Some weeks ago a friend advised me to try Cooper's New Discovery. I bought a bottle at Beaton's drug store, and it helped me so much that I procured an additional supply. The headache, dizziness and distress in my stomach soon disappeared. My bowels have been regulated, and I feel splendid. I am eating everything in sight, sleep fine, and working harder than I have for more than twenty years. Cooper's New Discovery has given me a new lease of life, for which I am most grateful."

HOW TO CHANGE VIADUCT

That is the Stickler in Plans for New Milk Depot.

GRADE MAY HAVE TO BE REDUCED

Expert Engineer Will Be Employed to Devise Best Method of Reconstructing the Approach to Driveway.

While the plans are complete for the construction of a new milk depot at Union station, no agreement has been reached as to the changes necessary in the approach to the viaduct to lessen the grade. The State Railway commissioners met informally last Saturday with the representatives of the railroads and the creamery men and approved the plans for the new depot, but expressed themselves as satisfied with any changes in the viaduct approach which would meet with the approval of the creamery men.

W. L. Park, general superintendent of the Union Pacific, is permanent chairman of the managers of the Union Depot company. Representatives of the road met with the creamery men Wednesday afternoon to consider the question of the approach. The commissioners ordered a 4 1/2 per cent incline, but now say they will leave it to the creamery men. The railroad offered to change the approach to a 6 per cent grade and the creamery men offered to compromise on a 5 per cent grade. The approaches to both the Union station and the Burlington station are now 9 per cent.

The principal objection of the railroad men is a heavy grade that it would practically do away with the carriage entrance now maintained at the north end of the station and which is used to a large extent by all who go to the station in carriages.

Will Get Expert Engineer. The railroad men have resolved to employ an expert engineer, not associated with any railroad, immediately to take up the work of reconstructing the approach, the plans to be submitted to all parties interested at the earliest possible moment. It is thought this can be done within ten days, when a further conference will be held.

To lessen the grade on the incline will require that part of Ninth street be condemned, and also part of the alley, but the railroads expect to push the work as fast as possible to comply with the orders of the commission and with the desires of the creamery men.

INDICTMENTS TRIED MONDAY

Bills Found by Grand Jury Will Be Taken Up by the District Court Now.

Monday morning the petit jury in district court will begin trying cases under indictments brought by the grand jury. The first of these cases to be called will be one against Sam Adler, a pawnbroker, charged with receiving stolen property. The goods stolen from the store of Theodore McClure in Florence was sold at Adler's shop. Last week Joseph Meyers was convicted of the burglary on evidence showing he had taken the property to the pawn shop. Several other pawnbrokers have been indicted on the same kind of charges.

Tuesday the trial of Ben Marshall, a negro, charged with an attempted criminal assault upon Miss Mollie Grann will be started in criminal court.

DEATH OF GEN. STEPHEN LEE

Commander of United Confederate Veterans Dies at Vicksburg.

ONE OF THREE LAST WAR LEADERS

Exertions Attending Reunion of Iowa and Wisconsin Grand Army of the Republic in South Bring On Illness.

VICKSBURG, Miss., May 28.—General Stephen D. Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and one of the last three surviving lieutenant generals of the confederacy, died here today at the residence of Captain W. T. Ridby.

Over exertion last Thursday in the ceremonies attending upon the reunion of Iowa and Wisconsin veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic at Vicksburg, brought about General Lee's illness. Following the reception of the northern veterans, in which General Lee took a leading part, he suffered an attack of acute indigestion, but later rallied and during the last week showed much improvement. Yesterday afternoon he again collapsed and grew gradually weaker, until death relieved his sufferings shortly after 6 o'clock this morning.

At the time of his death, although not a ranking officer of the Confederate Veterans, General Lee was commander-in-chief. Lieutenant General S. P. Stewart of Chattanooga is ranking officer, but on account of his infirmities he has not taken an active part in the affairs of the organization for many years.

General Lee was born in South Carolina in 1833. He received his appointment to the United States military academy at West Point and graduated at that institution, receiving his commission in the artillery. At the outbreak of the civil war General Lee resigned his commission in the United States army and entered the confederacy. He served with the confederate army in Virginia until after the battle of Antietam, when he was made a brigadier-general and sent to Vicksburg.

General Lee played a prominent part in the siege of Vicksburg and following the fall of that city was taken prisoner. He was later exchanged and promoted to the rank of major general and ordered to the southwest. He was subsequently assigned to the army of the Tennessee with the rank of lieutenant general and served until the close of hostilities. At the close of the war General Lee devoted himself to the education of southern youth as president of the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Head of Confederate Veterans.

On the death of General John B. Gordon, General Lee was unanimously chosen commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans and was always the most conspicuous figure at the annual reunions. Before his death he was preparing for the reunion June 8 at Birmingham and had already completed the task of assigning commanders and sponsors for those positions which are appointive on such occasions.

General Lee held under the United States government the office of commissioner of Vicksburg National military park. It was in this park that several handsome monuments were unveiled by the Iowa and Wisconsin veterans last Thursday.

General Lee's home was at Columbus, Miss., and the body probably will be taken there for interment.

Ordered First Shot of Civil War

General Lee died at the official residence of the Vicksburg National Park commission, of which he was a member.

General Lee's sister, Mrs. James Harrison of Columbus, was at his bedside at the time of his death.

President Roosevelt, who was a great admirer of General Lee, was among the first to send condolences.

An incident in connection with General Stephen D. Lee's military career not generally known, is the fact that he directed the firing of the first shot of the civil war. He was one of the two officers of the South Carolina troop sent by General Beauregard to demand the surrender of Fort Sumter and upon the refusal of this demand he ordered the nearest battery to fire on the fort.

THIRTY-SIX NEW DENTISTS

Third Class is Graduated by the Creighton Dental College.

The third annual commencement exercises of the Creighton Dental college took place Wednesday evening at the Rome hotel, when a class of thirty-six was graduated. The commencement exercises were preceded with an elaborate banquet. Tables were resplendent with flowers and in addition to the graduates a number of friends and relatives sat down to the banquet table. Dr. Frank Slabaugh presided as toastmaster.

The conferring of the degrees preceded the toast responses. The program began with an address on "Our Future," by Clifford W. Roben, D. D. S., and was followed by an address, "Alma Mater," by James A. Fogarty, D. D. S. A very pleasing number was the song "Clever Blossoms," by the Creighton Dental quartette, consisting of Roy C. Keater, Claude D. Palmer, John A. Collier and William S. Filmore.

"Our Past" was the subject of an address by W. Marion Condon, D. D. S. Mr. Bruhn and Mr. Kester of the quartette then sang "Lonesome Isle."

Father William F. Wheland, S. J., dean of the college, delivered a short address to the graduates, after which he was presented with a magnificent bouquet of roses by the class in appreciation of his kindnesses he had extended the members during their school days. The parting address was delivered by President Eugene A. Magevney of Creighton university.

WOMAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Unharmed When Gas Stoves Explodes and Tears Hole in the House.

Mrs. J. H. Royce, 1903 Cass street, escaped from death in a most wonderful manner when her gas stove exploded Thursday morning. Mrs. Royce had lighted the burner under the sink, immediately called about four feet from the stove at a table cutting bread to toast when the explosion occurred with a report that was heard nearly a mile away and which rattled the windows of houses for a block around.

The west end of the kitchen was blown out and the roof of the house was blown in. The west end of the kitchen, the plaster was knocked from the walls of the kitchen, the gas stove was converted into a tangled mass of iron. In the midst of all this wreck Mrs. Royce stood absolutely unharmed. She immediately called up the fire department by telephone.

Incipible is the fact that Mrs. Royce escaped. She was as near the stove as was the wrecked wall of the kitchen. The other wall of the kitchen which was badly shattered was on the other side of where Mrs. Royce stood and, of course, further from the stove that she was in. Mrs. Royce is wife of Jack Royce, engineer on the Northwestern line. All the members of the household were at home at the time of the explosion. A large crowd quickly gathered from all directions, the report being heard for so great a distance.

It is reported that the explosion blew the gas oven and had exploded there under the influence of heat from the burner which was lighted.

HOBOES BLAME IT ON THE RAIN

Forced Into Box Cars by Showers and Sleep Happens to Over-take Them.

O, rain, rain, how many crimes are committed in thy name! Seven lusty sons of rest told the police judge they were in a boxcar at Sheeley because it happened to start raining as they were passing the car, and so they just went in and had to sleep in it. It was remarkable how the hoboes had happened to converge from all parts of the country, at that particular boxcar, just at the moment when it started to rain. There was William Kramer, fresh from the ozone laden atmosphere of Montana, where he said he had worked many months. He had just with money in his jeans and had come to Omaha to see for himself the sights of the great city.

Cleveland, O., is the city honored with the residence of Reese Price, until recently, when he left it to go to his uncle in Alliance, said uncle being the proprietor of a ranch. He had just with money in his jeans and had come to Omaha to see for himself the sights of the great city.

James Cronin, who came next on the list, grinned when the police judge inquired whether he also had an uncle in Alliance. He had just with money in his jeans and had come to Omaha to see for himself the sights of the great city.

"I contracted for a suite of rooms in the Brown Palace hotel which will cost us $1.47. In addition to this, some $300 must be raised for decorations. Then there is entertainment, so we will have to raise near $3,000, all told. There are some more able to pay than others, and it is probable that some delegates will pay maybe twice as much as those who are not as well off.

"You see, it is this way: Nebraska headquarters will be headquarters for the nation at large on account of this state being Bryan's home, and we will have a mob there all the time. When these delegates from the east and other parts of the country come to our headquarters, we want to have things fixed so they will naturally exclaim, 'Well, Nebraska has the candidate and Nebraska's delegates are all right.'"
