

AFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Graduating Exercises of the High School Attract Large Crowd.

EXERCISES OF PLEASING ORDER

Richard L. Metcalfe Delivers Address of the Evening, an Effort of Exceptional Merit for Such an Occasion.

The South Omaha high school commencement last night was celebrated by the brief, snappy and perhaps the most satisfactory program that has ever been presented in the city.

After the professional marches by the Mozart club, Rev. H. H. Millard offered the invocation. This was again followed by music, "Solvers Song," N. M. Graham, speaking for the faculty of the high school, the Board of Education and the thirty-three graduates on the stage.

His discussion of the topic, "Wayside Literature," was a sparkle from the start to the finish. He opened with a tribute to William Jennings Bryan, and attributed this man's influence largely to his oratory.

As with the lives of men, so with literature, "Not from the grand old masters, not from the bards sublime, come all the rarest of gems, but many a thought worth saving appears in every simple walk of life."

The world is coming to recognize more and more that the simple lives are the greatest ones. Semi-ignorance is usually a foe to simplicity of life.

As with the lives of men, so with literature, "Not from the grand old masters, not from the bards sublime, come all the rarest of gems, but many a thought worth saving appears in every simple walk of life."

In the practice of children, the simple philosophy of the farm, and the cottage of the mechanic, in the hasty articles of the daily press, in the letters of true friends often lie thoughts of clearer crystal than the masterpieces of the great.

To illustrate, Mrs. Metcalfe introduced many anecdotes, and several of them were taken from the Omaha papers. He read part of the heroic act of Anderson of Omaha, who with his child fell into a cistern, and the father held the child above the water until it was rescued and then fell to the floor of the cistern to die.

He quoted at length the address of the South Omaha Daily Democrat of May 25, written in sympathy for the family of J. A. Cavers, after the death of their son, Vance Arthur Cavers, during the present week.

He quoted stanzas of verse from various sources, literally after the manner of public school recitations, and showed wherein they held their charm. He paid a fine tribute to motherhood, of simple love and simpler teachings boundless in influence.

One of his gleanings was the will of an insane lawyer, who bequeathed not his earthly possessions for he had none, but to childhood the flowers, the birds and the songs to youth ambition, to maturity love, and to old age satisfaction, accomplishments and peace.

As soon as the lecture was done the curtains were drawn on the stage and the students furnished in rank, four ranks, eight abreast. President N. E. Carter of the Board of Education made a few remarks in congratulation and then presented the diplomas. The candidates marched from the rear rank first past him and formed a semi-circle on the stage.

Then the principal of the high school, Percy McD. Wheeler, with appropriate remarks named Miss Anna G. Nyström, the honor graduate, and Miss Lulu M. Fletmeier second.

The next function of the commencement will be a party tendered by Dr. C. Schindler at the South Omaha Country club this evening. The entertainment this evening has been confined in the reports with the senior reception to the faculty, which took place Wednesday at the residence of Dr. C. M. Schindler. That function was the annual reception, while the party this evening is an expression of Dr. Schindler's personal interest in the class.

The following is the roll of graduates who received diplomas last night: Bertin H. Barber, David Russell Barclay, Vera K. Bennett, John E. Blevins, Leo J. Bresn, Harry J. Criverton, Arno E. Dickman, Thomas H. Edwards, Marion E. Fitzgerald, Lulu M. Fletmeier, Esme Grant Green, Myrtle Florence Graham, Emily J. Kopp, Edward J. Kraus, Kathryn Krug, Lloyd H. Lehner, Kathryn Marie Lewry, Hilda I. Madison, Lulu Marie Martin, Mary Dorothea Melcher, Anna C. Nyström, Laura M. Peterson, Lilla A. Raymond, Mayne Ethelyn Philpot, Edna Louise Rasmussen, Leola Schindler, Blanch Irene B. Sherwood, Juanita E. Walter, Harriet Steinberg, June Louise Thomas, Jennie Thibault, Anna Hildebrand Van Dusen, Agnes M. Waldo, Margaret E. Waldo.

Memorial Day Program. The program of the memorial services at the South Omaha Country club tonight will be divided into two parts, the first to be musical, and the second will be an address by Rev. James Wise which will be followed by the singing of the national hymn by the entire audience.

The musical part of the program is as follows: a Heaven Made You Grant Pardon, Flower a Spring Song, Moonlight, Panning a Just Before the Dawn, Mixed Quartet.

Comrades at Arms, The Soldier's Farewell, Mixed Quartet.

The mixed quartet is composed of Messames Sage, Brunstrel, McMillin, Moss and Green.

E. F. Baker, musical director. Mrs. Ringler at piano.

Popular Student Dead. Henry S. Nicholl, one of the most popular students of Bellevue college, a son of the late Rev. William Nicholl, died after a brief illness at the South Omaha hospital shortly after noon yesterday. He underwent an operation for appendicitis, but this failed to relieve him. He was one of the athletes of the school and popular among his classmates. He was only 22 years old. His death is the fourth in the family within the last year. He is survived by a brother, Rev. William E. Nicholl, and a sister, Mrs. Nicholl, which they lived was destroyed by the recent tornado. The funeral will be held today.

Soldier Under Arrest. Corporal Charles Keiner and private William Davis of Fort Crook were arrested yesterday morning by the South Omaha police for attempting to dispose of government shoes. They brought the shoes to South Omaha and took them to the horse barns at the stock yards. They sold one pair, but were arrested before they had disposed of the others. During the afternoon they were turned over to the military authorities under the custody of Sergeant M. E. Casey. Captain J. C. Troutman made the arrest.

Sunday Services. "A New Vision," by Rev. George Van Winkle's subject for Sunday morning at the First Baptist church. "Echoes from Oklahoma," will be the evening topic. Rev. Mr. Van Winkle has just returned from a visit to that state.

Karl Hillier will preach from a memorial topic Sunday morning at Lester's Memorial church.

William E. Nicholl of Bellevue will fill Dr. R. L. Wheeler's pulpit both morning and evening.

Weather permitting the Young Men's Christian Association street meeting will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 at the corner of Twenty-fourth and N streets. M. Andressen, chairman of the religious work committee, has arranged an interesting program and will have charge of this meeting. Sunday afternoon at 2:30, Evangelist Combs will address a men's meeting in the Christian tabernacle. The association endorses this meeting and will have personal workers there. The association invites every man in South Omaha to attend this meeting. The subject of the address is "Hunting for a Man."

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

General Industrial Conditions Continue to Improve.

RETAIL BUSINESS BETTER

Degree of Conservatism Prevails Regarding Forward Deliveries, but Sentiment is Definitely Better.

NEW YORK, May 30.—R. G. Dun and Company's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Industrial conditions continue to improve and arrangements have been made for the resumption of many plants next week while retail trade is increasing and showing signs of recovery.

There is still a degree of conservatism regarding plans for forward deliveries but sentiment is definitely better.

Progress is in the right direction, although slow. Mercantile collections are more prompt and there are slow despatch of orders of raw materials and treasury withdrawals of $4,000,000.

In the iron and steel industry the increased purchases of raw materials have supplied the principal feature this week, a large tonnage, and most of the furnaces restored operations this week. Improvement in demand was sufficient to cover resumption of work on idle plants.

Market interest is shown in the dry goods market and cotton mills are steadily increasing the percentage of active machinery. Prices are firmly held and it is expected that as demand broadens there will be a marked increase in the figures of the extensive curtailment has eliminated supplies usually available to meet urgent needs. There is no doubt that the buyer for future needs both by jobber and retailer, making a much stronger position in the market.

Prices are reported in the market for the week preceding years, when goods were sold ahead for a long period of time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Shoe manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

General Industrial Conditions Continue to Improve.

RETAIL BUSINESS BETTER

Degree of Conservatism Prevails Regarding Forward Deliveries, but Sentiment is Definitely Better.

NEW YORK, May 30.—R. G. Dun and Company's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Industrial conditions continue to improve and arrangements have been made for the resumption of many plants next week while retail trade is increasing and showing signs of recovery.

There is still a degree of conservatism regarding plans for forward deliveries but sentiment is definitely better.

Progress is in the right direction, although slow. Mercantile collections are more prompt and there are slow despatch of orders of raw materials and treasury withdrawals of $4,000,000.

In the iron and steel industry the increased purchases of raw materials have supplied the principal feature this week, a large tonnage, and most of the furnaces restored operations this week. Improvement in demand was sufficient to cover resumption of work on idle plants.

Market interest is shown in the dry goods market and cotton mills are steadily increasing the percentage of active machinery. Prices are firmly held and it is expected that as demand broadens there will be a marked increase in the figures of the extensive curtailment has eliminated supplies usually available to meet urgent needs. There is no doubt that the buyer for future needs both by jobber and retailer, making a much stronger position in the market.

Prices are reported in the market for the week preceding years, when goods were sold ahead for a long period of time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

Improvement is slow but definite in the demand for leather, and tanneries are furthering progress in the season for fall shoes advances. Belt manufacturers report a larger volume of business than for some time. The market is now showing a marked improvement in demand for foreign goods.

Manufacturers are receiving more orders, although business still compares unfavorably with former seasons. New contracts are for medium and low priced goods and orders from the west show a good gain over the last week. Prices are well maintained and the warm weather has stimulated the demand for many commodities.

BRIEF CITY NEWS

Have Best Print In. Rudolph F. Swoboda, Accountant-Addict.

Swoboda, 117 N. 14, Douglas block, 22.50. Pa. Routes for Quality cigars, 215 & 15th.

Swoboda, photographer, 1313 & Farnam. Dr. Swoboda, dentist, moved to Paxton bldg. Paxton to O'Brien, 15 up; coats and hats.

150 up. Money—$100 to $2,000. Nebraska Sav. and Loan Assn. Board of Trade bldg. Equitable Life, Paul Morton, president. Policies eight drafts at maturity, H. D. Neely, Manager, Omaha.

Man Wanted for Robbery Charge—Edward Roberts, wanted in Des Moines for robbery, was arrested Saturday by the Omaha police.

Joe Gans Gets Sixty Days—Joseph Gans, colored, not guilty of assault, was sentenced to sixty days in jail on the charge of being a vagrant.

Warrant to Stop Pestering—H. F. Killey, 206 Farnam street, secured a warrant in police court for the arrest of Billy Gibson, a youth who, he says, is "pestering" him by pulling off his screen doors and other forms of sport.

Pool Hall Man Strikes Mine—Adam Leidner, who conducts a pool hall at 137 Douglas street, was fined $25 in police court on a charge of assault and battery. He was charged with striking Louis Digilio, 17 years of age, on the head with a billiard cue.

Candidate for School Board in Fall—Dr. E. Holovtshiner, who has been mentioned as a candidate for the Board of Education, says he does not intend to be a candidate in the fall, but does not care to see out now and begin his campaign.

Sox Can Get Three Poses—The Park board has received from a man at Villisca, Ia., an offer of three foxes for Riverview park. The owner of the foxes wants $50 for the animals and members of the board are considering adding them to the small zoo at the park.

Phony Watch Shark Arrested—Teddy Eckstein was arrested Saturday charged with foisting "phony" watches upon several hotel keepers of the city as security for board and lodging at the hoteliers. Clerks at the Her Grand and Millard hotels complained against him.

Navigation Orators—W. W. Sibaugh and E. C. Page have accepted invitations to address the navigation meeting to be held under the auspices of the Nebraska City Chamber of Commerce, which has evinced great enthusiasm over the work of the navigation congress. The two Omaha men will attend the meeting as representatives of the local navigation association.

Hedrick Quits Stock Yards Bank—F. R. Hedrick, cashier of the Union Stock Yards National bank, has resigned to accept a position as credit man for the Racine-Bettley company of Omaha, Saturday being his last day with the bank. Mr. Hedrick has been in the stock yards bank about a year, taking the position left vacant when T. B. McPherson resigned. No announcement has been made as to who will succeed him.

Max Shulman on "The Eternal Problem"—Max Shulman, a Chicago attorney and grand secretary of the Knights of Zion, will address the local Zionist society Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at the Modern Woodman hall, Fifteenth and Douglas streets. His subject will be "The Eternal Problem," and he will discuss the modern Zionist movement. L. Harris will also speak and L. Kneeter will preside. Mr. Shulman will speak Sunday morning at Lincoln and Monday evening at Sioux City.

Double Track Finished—The double track connection of the Omaha & Council Bluffs between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets, was completed Saturday morning and cars on the Walnut Hill line now have a double track at this point. Since the line was built there has been but one track from the junction with the Twenty-fourth street line to Twenty-first street, and this single track has been quite a hindrance to operation of the cars during the heavy rush in the summer season.

ELABORATE BRIDAL TROUSSEAU. Miss Juliet Williams' Outfit Said to Have Cost Six Thousand Dollars.

The trousseau of Miss Juliet Williams, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. John R. Williams of Washington, whose marriage to Mr. Joseph Letter will take place June 10, and will be one of the smartest functions at the capital this spring, is said to be still incomplete. It is said to have cost $6,000.

The bridal robe is to be of heavy white satin made in the new direction, mode, little trimming will distinguish the gown, but draped about the bride's shoulders will be quantities of rare old point lace, once the cherished treasure of her maternal grandmother.

Two gowns are exciting feminine envy. One is a ball gown of old rose silk made on empire, the shimmering surface having for its relief masses of filmy cream colored lace. The second gown is a patch black chiffon. Lingerie gowns abound in profusion. Aside from these, however, Miss Williams has decided to buy nothing until she arrives in Paris, where she will put in a supply of frocks for the London season, when she will make her appearance as the guest of Mr. Letter's sisters, Mrs. Colin Campbell and the countess of Suffolk, formerly Miss Marguerite Letter.

Next in interest to the wedding gown is the underwear, made of the finest French chief linen. For ornamentation, save for a bit of thread lace, there is nothing but the bride's initials, hand wrought, upon each piece.

One piece of lingerie is a night robe made almost entirely of lace and embroidery. The creation cost $100, and is the bridal gift of Mrs. Thomas Bishop of New York, an old friend of the bride's mother.

Miss Williams will wear with her wedding robe a pair of real lace hose. The shade matches the satin slippers. The cost was $45.

When it comes to bridal gifts, Mrs. Letter is to present the Washington house, all its works of art and other furnishings, together with the Letter silver and china and the Letter jewels. The bridegroom's most elaborate gift so far is a strand of matched pearls.

Colonel William's gift to his daughter is a French blue velvet coat which she purchased a handsome brooch of diamonds and sapphires to match the betrothal ring. The wedding, which will take place at noon, will be witnessed only by the immediate members of the family and a few intimate friends. Immediately after the service a large reception and wedding breakfast will take place at the Rauscher's. Later in the afternoon the bride and bridegroom will set off for Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mrs. Letter's country place, making the journey by auto. August 29 they will sail for Europe, the return trip being dated for September 20.

Mr. Letter and his bride will take possession of the Letter house in Chicago early in the fall, and the youthful chaperone will make her first essay as a hostess at a large ball she will give early in the fall to introduce her school girl sister, Miss Dorothy.

Everybody is eating John's new Brau Biscuit. Get in line at Bennett's.

Daily Demonstrations of the Le Maire Beauty Culture

Free demonstrations of French Beauty Culture as used by the famous beauties of France of the court of Louis IV are being given daily at our store, by one of the Le Maire experts who is creating a sensation among women who are interested in the subject of beauty. These demonstrations are true beauty lectures—an education to any woman who would be beautiful. Remember that the Le Maire system has never before been demonstrated in America.

The Le Maire Specialist Shows How

any woman with well-formed features may be made extremely attractive—how a pretty woman may be made beautiful—how a naturally beautiful woman may be made surpassingly lovely. She not only TELLS how, but SHOWS how, to make beauty and preserve it against its natural enemies—the sun, wind and Father Time, from whom there is no escape. She shows how to remove wrinkles, crow's-feet, blotches, blemishes, pimples, spots, discolorations, freckles, moth patches and all superfluous hair from the skin, leaving it as pure and white as a lily.

She shows how to stimulate and invigorate flabby, loosened skin and contract it to its youthful condition—especially the skin under the eyes, on the neck and cheeks.

She is teaching the ladies free of charge to apply correctly—cremes, reducing and developing lotions, bleaching fluids, skin foods and how to employ the celebrated Le Maire Massage a la Française.

French Beauty Culture

is the system of refining and preserving beauty which was originated by Parisian chemists for the private use of the ladies of the court of Louis XIV., and through which means these women became world famous as incomparable beauties.

All of the Le Maire Beauty Requisites are carefully compounded after the original French formulas by chemists working under direct, personal supervision of Le Maire. They are prepared only of the very finest ingredients and are ABSOLUTELY chemically pure, containing nothing that will injure the most sensitive, delicate skin.

They Charm and Satisfy—Because They Beautify

The Genuine Prepared Only by The Le Maire Company, Chicago, Ill. Call and get Booklet and a Free Sample of Le Maire's Hygienic Skin Food.

Myers-Dillon Drug Co., SOLE DISTRIBUTORS 16th and Farnam Streets Omaha, Nebraska

Advertisement for MORPHINE featuring an illustration of a man and text: MORPHINE and other drug habits are positively cured by HARBINIA. For bromodermic or internal use. Sample sent to any drug habitue by Free mail. Regular price $2.00 per bottle in glass four dropper or by mail in glass wrapper. Delta Chemical Co., St. Louis, Mo. For Sale by HAYDEN BROS., OMAHA, NEB.

Country Boys Hold the Big Jobs in the City

The big-brained business men come from the country. The cities would die as Rome did if the tow-headed little fellows, used to hard work on the farm, did not come to the cities every year to take the place of the city man, weakened through generations of toil and confinement in offices and factories of the large cities.

Country boys—you who have learned that the best blackberries don't grow near the country road—are needed in the cities. You can use your farm strength to take you from the position of office boy to that of manager. There is an opportunity for you in the city every day. Some big concern wants you and wants you badly.