IN MEMORIAM.

Elizabeth Davis, who died October 7th was an inspiration to those who love that which is beautiful and good. She was cut off in her very May of youth when a myriad of stars were shining in her hopeful sky. But she gave them up joyfully and went back to the God Who gave her, and in the sublimity of her passing dropped a benediction on the sorrowed brow of her mother whom she loved. It is often very hard for youth to go, but not so now, for this girl gave it all up and relied fully and completely on the All Merciful.

If words were not too feeble to assuage one's pain and grief, it might be said to her mother in her afternoon of life, that the life and death of her daughter were a blessing through their gentleness and faith, as indeed they were. But when the embers of life's evening are changing from red to gray, let memory of the way this little life went out and on, be the mother's solace and surcease of sorrow.

These words are true. They are given from a soul who knew and loved this dear one in her yesterday of life. —A FRIEND.

WANT A MILITARY SCHOOL FOR COLORED YOUTH

Washington, D. C., Oct. 15.—A memorial is being circulated for signers, making an appeal to President Wilson and congress for the establishment of a military school in connection with the work at Howard university, at which colored boys may receive training similar to that given white boys at West Point.

Howard university is selected because this school is controlled by the government, and suitable grounds, adjacent to the school site, is available at minimum cost. The memorial is being circulated in this city and signed principally by Washingtonians.

Got His.

A writer of plays was reading a new work before a company of the French Society of Comedy, and presently was disturbed by the sight of one of the members, M. Got, fast asleep. The author stopped and reproved the sleeper. He was reading his play to the committee in order to obtain their opinion. How could a man who was asleep give an opinion?

M. Got rubbed his eyes and remarked: "Sleep is an opinion." There was no appeal from this verdict.—Christian Register.

MINISTER TOLD THIS ONE

It's All About a Diamond in a Mushroom and It Must Be True.

Peru, Ind.—Here is the champion mushroom story of the season, and it is regarded as true because Rev. Ambrose Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist church of Peru, tells the story and submits the proof. Mr. Bailey and Weisel Baber, when searching for mushrooms in the big woods ten miles northwest of Peru, found about four dozen fine ones, which Mrs. Bailey prepared for the noon meal.

At dinner the six-year-old son of Doctor and Mrs. Bailey said: "I've got a bone in my mouth," and he took it out. To the surprise of the boy's parents, the lad had what appeared to be a piece of glass, but on closer inspection it proved to be a finely cut gem, which a local jeweler said was a pure diamond, and he backed up his belief by offering the minister $60 for the stone.

None of the minister's family knows how the diamond got in the mushrooms. It is believed the stone must have been lost by someone and have become fastened to the roots of the mushroom.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Corpue have returned from St. Paul, Minn., and will continue to reside in Omaha.

Edward Morgan, a colored boy of sixteen, who graduated from the Newtown High school of Elmhurst, N. Y., last June, received a New York university scholarship and a silver medal. He was president of his class.

Silk Blouses Are Cool.

Wash blouses of silk in stripes of color are always cool and practical and very good looking, too. They are better for traveling wear than the lingerie blouse because they do not muss so readily and do not call for laundering so frequently. This season they come in prettier colorings and stripes than ever before, and every woman should include a few of these silk blouses in her summer outfit.
