See the Misses Campbell and Councillor for Christmas gifts. Distinctive out-of-the-ordinary presents for women at reasonable prices. We carry a complete line of women's fancy and plain kimonos, negliges, boudoir caps and slippers, house-dresses and wrappers and fancy waists. Webster 604. 2428 Lake St.—Adv.

Cunnigan Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Wilson of North Thirty-third street, and Miss Hazel Edwina Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wilson of Chicago, and who has been residing with her grandmother, Mrs. S. G. Wilson of North Twenty-first street, were married in Council Bluffs Monday afternoon. Both young people are in their teens, Cunnigan being a student at Creighton university and Hazel a high school girl.

Ben Stanley, organist and choir-master of Trinity cathedral, has, at the request of Mrs. W. T. Osborne, consented to train the voices for the rendition of the beautiful cantata, "Queen Esther." One hundred voices are needed. Mr. Stanley will meet those interested at St. John's A. M. E. church Sunday afternoon at 3:30 to talk over matters and select the voices. This is a splendid opportunity for those who love music to receive some excellent training. Mr. Stanley ranks first among Omaha musicians and it will be a great privilege to be under his training. "Queen Esther" is a beautiful cantata. It is to be given for the benefit of St. John's church, and all music lovers ought to take interest in its successful rendition.

WORTHY OF SUPPORT.

Omaha, Nov. 19, 1915.
Rev. John Albert Williams.

My Dear Friend: Sample copy of The Monitor, your new publication, received, and I wish to thank you very much for the same. It is bright and newsy, and it is worthy of the support of every citizen of Omaha who has the interest and welfare of the colored race at heart.

I do not recognize the colored race as a part separate and distinct from any other race, but I do recognize it as a part of God's great family of human beings, and I say this without any mental or other reservation.

Being a southern-born former democrat (even what that means), and taught to intensely hate and despise the Negro, after traveling considerably in this and foreign countries, and then becoming a student of economics (working class kind), I dismissed my prejudices and have become intensely interested in the welfare of my brothers of whatever nationality, color or previous condition of servitude.

Wishing you and your co-workers every success which you so richly deserve, I will say in conclusion that you can number me as one of your subscribers.

Fraternally,
JESSE T. BRILLHART,
2703 Farnam St.

FUGITIVE "PERSONALS."

"Mrs. Vance has just had her ell shingled."

"Our fellow townsman, _____, met with a double bereavement last week. His brother Cyrus died over in _____ and a fine yearling heifer of blooded stock passed away by falling into an old well."

"A. B., our genial postmaster, left for New York yesterday. Mrs. B. remained at home as A. went simply for a little pleasure trip."

"Don't nurse a Grouch. Knock it in the head and bury it."
