—In—

"THE STARRY FLAG"

At the Boyd Thursday Eve., Sept. 21.

Last Appearance of the DuBois Dramatic Club

Under the Management of Mrs. W. T. Osborne.

To a Generous Public:

We will present the DuBois Dramatic Club, twenty characters, in a thrilling sensational military drama, "The Starry Flag," at the Boyd on Thursday eve., Sept. 21. Because this is our last production we have put forth every effort to give you something entirely new, and we are sure that in the production of "The Starry Flag" you will say we have reached a splendid climax, in literary production. This is the best play we have ever attempted to produce, and every character is exceptionally good. Mr. John Woods is one of the best in dramatic work I have met, and with the other splendid characters whom you all know, we are going to give you a play of which the community can well feel proud. Desdunes' Orchestra will play. Messrs. Roscoe Miller and Walter Bell will sing.

Prices: Boxes, 50c and 75c. First floor, 35c and 50c. Balcony, 25c first three rows 35c.

Adv. Mrs. W. T. Osborne.

WHAT IS A BARBER SHOP?

Can you answer the question? The barber will say that it is a place where people go to have their hair trimmed, or to be shaved. It is more than that. It is a business institution where men frequent through necessity and where they can be accommodated and supplied with various articles in daily use.

For a long time the barber has been looked upon as a servant of the people. He feels that he is only a barber because he considers himself from the viewpoint of his patrons.

The barber is an important personage and the sooner you get the idea that you are just as important as the lawyer or the banker, the better it will be for you; only don't be snobbish. Don't get to thinking that you are only a barber. You are in a class by yourself, and you render a service that man cannot do for himself. If he could, he would not come near you, and there would be few barber shops. Many men shave themselves, but they must go to a barber shop for a hair cut. Many men are afraid to shave themselves, as they cannot do it properly, so they come to you. They do not patronize you for love. There is not so much brotherly affection in the world, where a person, if he can do a thing himself, will not pay to have another do it for him. Of course, there are men who can do certain things themselves, but because they have money they prefer to employ others. A man can not cut his own hair, and when you do it, you are rendering him as big a favor as he thinks he is doing you. Treat every customer in a courteous manner, because, from a business standpoint, you are giving a service which is distinctly individual and which cannot be done by any man himself.

You are more important to your community than a banker. People can get along without bankers, but they must visit the barbers. Don't get "down in the dumps" because you hear some people say "he is only a barber." Throw out your chest. Look important; look prosperous and you will become prosperous. Wear a smile equal to any two of "Sunny Jim's." Don't let your wishbone get where your backbone ought to be. You are the equal of the biggest man in town. Feel that way about it. Treat yourself right and get your share.
