JEAN BEDINI'S PARISIAN NOVELTY "PUSS-PUSS"

Davis and Stafford, the two colored comedians at the Gayety theatre this week with Jean Bedini's Parisian Novelty "Puss-Puss," eight years ago were both in the barber business in Newark, N. J.

However, the clipping of sandy, brown, red and black hair and the head massages worked on the nerves of the two fellows.

They paid little attention to their barber business and devoted most of their time in constructing an act. They finally quit the barber business and went into cheap vaudeville, soon they had such a good act, that an agent of the Keith circuit saw them act in one of the small vaudeville houses and gave them their first real opportunity. For several years they were headliners in all the large vaudeville houses.

Jean Bedini saw their act two years ago and engaged them at once, for his show, and the results have been that, Bedini has signed them for five years with a large increase in salary every season.

Bedini knows good talent when he sees it, as it will be proven by the cast he has engaged for this year's "Puss-Puss" Co., including besides Toots Davis and Edw. Stafford, Pam Lawrence, soubrette; Minni Harrison, ingenue; Marguerite Ryan, comedienne; Harry Jackson, Hebrew comedian; Charlie Mac, English eccentric comedian; George Brooks, juvenile; Al Ricardo, ventriloquist and a "Kitchen Chorus" of twenty beautiful girls.

Davis and Stafford will sing their famous song "In the Jail House Now" that scored such a hit here last season and several other new ones.

There will be a matinee daily, commencing Saturday, Nov. 18th, and ending Friday night, Nov. 24th.

An Open Letter.

Omaha, Neb.

To Whom it May Concern:

I suffered intensely with chronic rheumatism for three years, which caused a general breakdown. I went to the various Springs and was treated by the leading physicians, but nothing did me any good. I was advised to try Dr. Pryor's treatments and can say that I owe my life to his wonderful methods. I feel that it is my duty unsolicited, to highly recommend Dr. Pryor's treatments to those who suffer as I did.

Respectively,
William Saunders,
Omaha Field Club.
