INTERESTED IN COLORED PRISONERS

To Editor of The Monitor:

I wonder if you would give space in your valuable paper to a little plea in behalf of Colored prisoners that are in our various prisons. I wonder how many there are in this world that would only be too glad to do something for their neighbors if they only knew how and what? And I would like to tell them about a league that was formed to give cheer to prisoners that have no friend or relative to send them even a cheerful thought. It is called the O. E. Library League and the address is 1207 Q street, N. W., Washington, D. C. The price is 10 cents registration fee and 25 cents subscription fee to the official paper of the league, and they are calling for members to write to Colored prisoners, of whom they have a large list.

I hope by this means to be able to bring a little cheer to a few more people on this earth, and so if you can see your way to print this I thank you a thousand times.

CLAUDIA M'HALE.

The Allen Chapel A. M. E. church is holding revival services. Everybody is invited to come out and help fight sin. Rev. J. A. Broadnax, of Winfield, Kansas, is here helping Rev. Mr. Wilson. Rev. Mr. Broadnax is an able speaker and it will do you good to come out and hear him.

On April 28th the Sons of Jerusalem will entertain for the Daughters of Jerusalem at Odd Fellows hall, between N and O on So. 25th street. The Sons will prepare all the food as well as serve it themselves.

The Fred Douglass Literary Society has its regular meeting every Friday evening. On last Friday evening the debate, "Resolved, that the mother brings more true happiness into the home than the father," was very interesting and we are pleased to see the younger set show such an interest and we are really surprised at the manner in which they handle these subjects.

Mrs. Velma Hill, of 5410 So. 27th street, still serves dinner every Sunday afternoon and will be pleased to have your patronage.—Adv.

OSCAR C. CARTER GETS CHECK FOR $18,000 TO MANUFACTURE GOODS

Well Known Indianapolis Boy Backed in Business by Wall Street Speculator.

Jacksonville, Fla., April 12.—In regards to Oscar C. Carty, an Indianapolis boy, who is head waiter at the Seminole club, a leading white daily has this to say:

Jesse L. Livermore, the famous Wall street speculator, who spent a couple of days in Jacksonville last week, was so pleased with a sauce made by Oscar C. Carter, the Colored head waiter of the Seminole club, in this city, that last Saturday, at a luncheon at the club, Mr. Livermore gave Oscar a check for $10,000 to finance the proposition of placing this sauce on the market. The product will be known as the Oscar Carter sauce.

For four years Oscar Carter has had a hothouse in Jacksonville, where he has raised some of the ingredients and made his sauce, and has hoped that some day he might duplicate the good luck of the famous Oscar of the Waldorf, who also leaped into fame by a wonderful sauce of his own, and now the local Oscar believes that his dream is coming true.

HAS CITY TEAMING CONTRACT

Samuel Shelton of Alliance, Neb., who has the city teaming contract for that city for five years and is also the proprietor of a restaurant, was an Omaha visitor this week. He is anxious to secure the services of a competent young woman to act as office girl and clerk. He will be able to employ a man and wife, if the husband can drive a team, and the wife could act as clerk.

Mr. Shelton told The Monitor that several desirable Colored families have recently moved into Alliance from the South and have had no difficulty in getting steady work. Employers of labor in that vicinity are anxious to have others come, as there is a scarcity of labor.
