N. W. C. A. NOTES

The N. W. C. A. desires to thank Mr. C. N. Huey, who so kindly donated the use of his car and carried the inmates of the home to the funeral of Mrs. Pennie Harris at the Grove M. E. Church last Sunday. We believe God will abundantly bless him for this charitable act.

We are also deeply grateful to Messrs. L. Gregory and G. W. Hansett, two of our own ice dealers, who are donating ice to the home this summer. We trust others will emulate their good example in helping to support this home.

Owing to the increased cost of living, etc., the N. W. C. A. finds itself badly in need of funds to meet current expenses, so they are planning a large fair to be given in the near future, the success of which will depend largely upon the support given it by our own people. We respectfully ask the public to keep this in mind, further details will be announced later.

Anyone wishing to pledge money in any amount for the home, call Webster 3217 and a committee will call and collect it, and give credit for the same.

There will be a meeting at the home Wednesday, July 25 at 2:30 p. m. All members are earnestly requested to be present.

MOB IGNORES WOMAN TRUANT OFFICER'S PLEA

Mrs. Jane Law, East St. Louis truant officer, was on Collinsville avenue Monday when foreigners attacked Negroes. One of the men fell near her and she begged the assailants to cease their attacks. They paid no heed to her request.

She went to a telephone to summon medical aid, but over the telephone came the reply: "Let the nigger die."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Letters from Our Readers

DOES NOT CONCUR WITH THE MONITOR

Editor Monitor: I do not concur with The Monitor for publishing what I call first hand news. I speak of Lieut.-Col. Young, Colonel Young at present is a lieutenant-colonel. His next promotion would be colonel and not a general. Colonel Young is not immune from becoming disabled for active service. Major Frank A. Barton, an old commander of mine, was retired the 28th of last month for disability, incident to the service. He was then first on the list for Lieut.-Colonel. We ought to hear first from Colonel Young. Such reports if not true would probably cause Colonel Young to make an explanation to the war department. I am sure we would do nothing to harm such a gallant and distinguished man as Colonel Young.

SERGEANT I. BAILEY, 2816 Pratt St. Omaha, Neb., July 10, 1917.

CORRECTION

Philadelphia, July 5, 1917. Rev. John Albert Williams, Editor of The Monitor:

Dear Sir—In reading the article of the Parker and Cropp nuptials I find that it stated that they were served from two plates that the groom's great-grandfather and great-grandmother were served from sixty-two years ago. Will you kindly correct the date. It should be seventy-nine years ago, as they were married April 19, 1838.

Yours with thanks, CAPT. GEO. A. ROBINSON, 715 South Seventeenth Street.

LABOR NOTES

The order issued July 1st by the Southeastern Passenger Ass'n. has forced The Monitor to materially change its plans for future business. Not only will it be necessary to establish permanent bases to work from, but it will require the utmost secrecy upon the part of all applicants. Reliable men will be placed in various large cities from whom applicants may obtain money to purchase tickets to certain points and it becomes necessary not only to determine the reliability of applicants, but to determine as well the possibility of keeping people from talking even among themselves. Getting men out of the South has become a risky business, not only for those engaged but for those leaving. In parts of Tennessee men are not allowed to leave even after purchasing their tickets and the prospects are that men will be intimidated in many other places. As far as possible the applicants will be routed over the M. & O. and Frisco lines for the reason that these two lines have placed themselves in a position justifying the trust and confidence of Colored people leaving. The Monitor still asks for the applicants to be patient, because the task now is no easy one. It requires care, secrecy and hard work.

Forty-two men were brought from St. Louis to Duluth, Minn., for the Minnesota Steel Mills. Most of them were East St. Louis men, leaving because of the riot. Many more men are still needed.

Many men are arriving in Omaha from the south, mostly applicants through The Monitor, and all are being placed as rapidly as they arrive.

James Woods, of Pensacola, has secured a place in a garage in Omaha paying him $18.00 per week. James Taylor, also of Pensacola, has been employed as a chauffeur at the salary of $16.00 per week and board.

About 2,000 Colored men who returned to work in East St. Louis will leave as soon as the Federal soldiers are removed from the city.

Many applicants write letters inquiring as to wages paid in the north. Wages vary, but The Monitor does not bring men for any work paying less than 25 cents per hour.

Many labor agents were in St. Louis trying to persuade the refugees to return south to Kentucky, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Virginia, but they had little luck. "No more south!" was the slogan from all lips. The American Smelting and Refining company has a contract job for which more than 200 men will be employed in about six or eight weeks. All men will be brought from the south through The Monitor.

F. C. Williams, member of The Monitor Employment department, spent several days in Mobile recently in an effort to perfect arrangements toward making Mobile the base of operations for bringing men out of Southern Alabama and Florida.
