AN APPEAL TO ALL PATRIOTIC WOMEN

Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., (Formerly Mrs. Grover Cleveland) Urges Women of Nation to Stand Firm.

"We can win if America can be held steadfast and unswerving, and the women of America can hold her steadfast."

fast. Again: "all temptations to compromise the women of America should stand firm and united," says Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr. (formerly Mrs. Grover Cleveland), in a message to the women of America, made public through the National Security League.

Mrs. Preston is active in the Security League work. She was the first woman to become a member of the League's National Executive Committee, and is secretary of the League's Committee on Patriotism Through Education.

Mrs. Preston's message to the women of the country reads in full:

"Proclaim Liberty."

"Proclaim Liberty throughout ALL THE LAND into all the inhabitants thereof."

"These words were written about 1490 years before Christ, as part of the Law of Holiness in the Book of Leviticus. Our fathers inscribed them upon the Liberty Bell which called our mighty nation into life.

"Today 'all the inhabitants' enjoy liberty, the Jew and the Gentile, the rich and the poor, the native and the alien-born, the weak and the strong. The old Liberty Bell is silent, for its voice has been heard throughout all the land."

"But Liberty is not safe. It is menaced along the battle fronts of many nations, our own among them, and America requires a new motto for her old Bell: 'Proclaim liberty throughout ALL LANDS unto all the inhabitants thereof.' Until liberty is safe in all lands, it can not be safe in our own. Hence the task to which America has reverently and unselfishly dedicated herself.

"The Fathers of this Republic, men of many races, with a common love of liberty, wrought into law our ancient motto, thus giving liberty a chance to enlighten the world.

"Today we, their descendants, are called upon to make real the new motto, and thus to give liberty the undisputed right to bless the world.

"This can be done but only after heroic struggle and self-sacrifice. A premature peace would mean failure. It would be only less disastrous than complete defeat. Against all temptations to compromise the women of America should stand firm and united.

"Peace and Safety."

"Victory means peace and safety for our children; defeat means humiliation and practical servitude for them; while a negotiated peace, with the military machine of Prussia unbroken, means that everything in their lives must be subordinated to the task of preparing for another war with Germany. We can win now if America can be held steadfast and unswerving, and the women of America can hold her steadfast."

NATION-WIDE FIGHT AGAINST GERMAN PAPERS

National Security League Starts Crusade for Their Elimination, Together With the Teaching of German.

A vigorous campaign to bring about the elimination of the teaching of German in the public schools of the country and to obtain the discontinuance of the publication of newspapers printed in German has been launched by the National Security League. To organize its effort for these ends the League has formed a Committee on Foreign Language and Foreign Press, which will carry the fight into every nook and corner of the United States. The Committee is composed of Col. Charles E. Lydecker, member of the Board of Trustees of the College of the City of New York and Chairman of the National Security League's Board of Directors; Edward H. Clark, Treasurer of the Security League; Ernest C. Brown, well known New York editor and publisher, and Dr. Robert M. McElroy, Educational director of the National Security League under leave of absence from Princeton University, where he is head of the Department of History and Politics.

The principal basis of the Committee's campaign against German newspapers will be the obtaining of the discontinuance of advertising in them.

Col. Lydecker's committee has laid the following plan of campaign before the Chairmen and Secretaries of all the 281 branches of the Security League:

"There is no immediate need to have laws enacted to suppress the foreign language dailies. In towns where there is a strong patriotic sentiment a hostile minority should be persuaded by a clear and forceful expression of the views of the majority that ours must be, from this time forward, a one language nation.

"If a community will not support a newsdealer who handles the daily papers printed in foreign tongues it can thereby force him to deal only in English language papers.

"Recognizing a general willingness to be patriotic and the rapid acquiescence from many quarters to compel the use of English dailies, we urge reasonably active measures on the part of the branches of the League. Justice requires this, for the fault does not lie wholly with the alien. We have failed hitherto to provide the machinery of education which the welding process required. We have countenanced and even encouraged the idea of preserving linguistic and racial groups in our midst. At last we see our mistake, and we must correct it as speedily as justice will allow.

"But we must not forget, and we must not allow alien enemies to forget, that this is a time of war. Quick processes of producing unity are justified by the peril of those institutions which we hold in trust for all humanity.

"We therefore suggest:

(a) Meetings of citizens to express a one language sentiment.

(b) Discontinuance of all advertising in papers printed in the tongues of enemy nations.

(c) Procuring co-operation of newsdealers."
