BLACKSTONE HOTEL WAITERS BID ADIEU TO TWO OF THEIR CREW IN PRIVATE DINING ROOM.

On last Friday evening as the waiters were going off duty, not a time card of the regular crew was in sight, but a notice saying see the second waiter in the private room, and he will tell you why. Realizing the importance of their cards since each waiter keeps his own time, each one responded immediately. Mr. J. D. Carter, the "rapid firing second waiter," came with the time cards, and a few small packages in hand. And among the few well chosen words he said: "It is our patriotic duty to bid adieu to two of our fellow waiters who have been called to the colors, Mr. Wm. Agan of Little Rock, Ark., and Mr. Wm. Shelley of Austin, Tex., who are to report at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Ia., the 16th inst, and he then presented them each with a wrist watch and trench mirror as a small token of respect from the conservative manager, Mr. F. W. Rothery, the other heads of the different departments, the crew and some of the guests. W. J. Pierce, late of the officers' training camp, Des Moines, Ia., told them what a recruit should do to become a proficient soldier. Sergeant Robert Taylor, who saw five years' service with the Fighting Tenth cavalry, and was appointed by the government as military instructor at Wilberforce college, Wilberforce, O., what to take with them from home. Mr. Pierce adjusted the time pieces according to regulations. After a few words from our popular head waiter, Mr. A. T. Jordan, the cigars were passed. All present sang "They were going to meet the Kaiser," some one said who? All present said Shelly and Agan.

MISS MARY WHITE OVINGTON TO SPEAK IN OMAHA

Vice President of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People Will Come to City for Organization July 28.

Miss Mary White Ovington, of New York, one of the vice presidents and organizers of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People, will arrive in Omaha July 27, and will speak at a mass meeting in the Grove Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday afternoon, July 28, at 4 o'clock on "The Aims and Work of the N. A. A. C. P." It is also proposed to organize at this meeting a local branch of this splendid organization which is doing such effective work throughout the country. There are several in Omaha who are members of the National organization, but a local branch has never been organized here. In this respect Omaha lags behind Lincoln, Des Moines, St. Paul and several other cities.

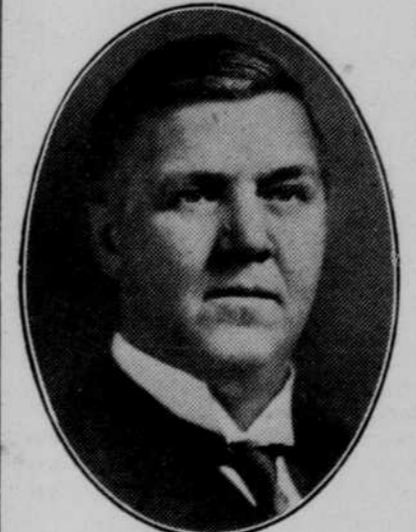

Miss Ovington's self-sacrificing work for our people should guarantee her a crowded house. Bear the date in mind. Let nothing keep you away. Tell your friends, white and Colored, about this meeting. Talk it up. Get busy on your phone and crowd Grove church, Twenty-second and Seward streets, to overflowing, Sunday afternoon, July 28.

AUTHOR PRAISES MONITOR.

ALBERT W. JEFFERIS FOR CONGRESS

Be sure to interest your friends in Albert W. Jefferis, who is a candidate for the republican nomination for congress. Mr. Jefferis is the kind of a man who is needed in congress in times like these. He is a big man in the best sense of the term, able to give his best to big problems.

MME. C. J. WALKER, LECTURES AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Madame C. J. Walker of Indianapolis and New York City gave an illustrated lecture in St. John's A. M. E. church Monday night for the benefit of the Frederick Douglass Memorial fund. Preceding the showing of the pictures this successful woman gave an admirable patriotic address in which she urged the audience to do their full duty, pointing out, as every thoughtful speaker does, the advantages that must come to us through the triumph of democracy. She said she rejoiced in the spirit of self-reliant manhood which must come to our youth from every section of the land because of their military discipline and training. She emphasized the fact that in helping make the world safe for democracy we are helping to make America safe for black men as well as white men. She pleaded for support of racial enterprises and the encouragement of all who are striving to achieve in any laudable line.

Passing to her main lecture pictures were thrown upon the screen showing the buildings in which she began her hair preparations which have brought to her a large fortune, her subsequent purchases of houses for rental purposes to Colored people, her New York beauty parlors and finally her palatial residence, Villa Lewaro at Irvington on the Hudson, designed and built by a Colored architect.

Mrs. Joe Brown of Des Moines, who had arranged for the lecture, presided, and at the close urged the women to actively support the work of the Red Cross.

A large audience was present and was amply repaid for its attendance.

KASHMIR BEAUTY SHOP

There is no reason why the people of Omaha should not improve both in grace and beauty, particularly in beauty. One of the latest shops to open for beauty culture, which includes improvement of the hair, is the Kashmir Beauty shop at Thirtieth and Farnam, Jessie Hale Moss, manager. If this enterprising young business woman cannot convince you that your scalp needs treatment, she may be able to interest you in investing in Michigan orchards, for which she also has the agency.
