The Barber

This is what my shop offers you
Five barbers who know their business.

Omaha's Most Successful Barber.

We are now in our new location at Twenty-fourth and Burdette streets, where we will have plenty of room. Everything strictly sanitary and up-to-date with all modern conveniences. My shop stands on its merits for what is right, and what the people demand. A first class place, up-to-date methods, with latest improvements. No pool hall in connection with my business. My shop is open to ladies as well as gentlemen, with due courtesy and respect to all young boys as well. The Colored people are growing and improving and we must meet their demands. They want the best and we must deliver. I have it for you, so come. I solicit your patronage.

I have all guaranteed salary barbers, first class hair cutters and all round workmen. We will try to treat our patrons with due courtesy. Drop in and look the bunch over in the old stand of Mrs. S. R. Jackson's cafe, 24th and Burdette streets.

New Location, 24th and Burdette Sts.

County Attorney

To the Voters of Douglas County:

The question has been asked how I stand on law enforcement. This is a fair question and demands a square answer.

I stand for the enforcement of all the laws of the land, including the order of the government to work or FIGHT.

There is no room in this country today for the BOOT-LEGGERS, THIEF, PROFITEER, BUM OR SLACKER. They are all our country's enemy and must go.

I stand for efficiency and economy in the handling of the county's business. This is no time for extravagance and waste. Every dollar and man must count in order to win the war.

If elected your County Attorney, I shall endeavor to conduct the office so as to merit your commendation. If you believe in these things I shall be pleased to serve you as your County Attorney.

Camp Pike, School of Democracy

Best of Good Feeling Prevails Among Uncle Sam's Great National Army in Training Here—No Trouble Over Saluting.

BY FRED C. WILLIAMS

CAMP PIKE, ARK., Aug. 5.—Little Rock I found to be a very busy place. A city nominally of 50,000 inhabitants had, through the acquisition of the cantonment, Camp Pike, grown to the large proportion of over 200,000. Every body was busy making money and talking war; for Little Rock feels that it devolves upon her to produce the fighters that will bring home the kaiser.

The city itself boasts of a street called Ninth, and along both sides of this avenue for the distance of fifteen blocks can be found progressive business and professional men of our race doing business on a remarkable scale, from the small sandwich vender to the dealer in loans, real estate and insurance, mounting up into large figures; for here is located the National Headquarters of the Mosaic Templars, an organization that created quite a bit of public interest when they subscribed $100,000 in the first three liberty loan drives. Monitor readers will recall how deeply moved was Mr. McAdoo when the president of this organization presented him with a check for $50,000 for liberty bonds and told him that the order was ready to buy more. Their headquarters building, a three-story pressed brick and concrete has proved inadequate to accommodate the fast growing business of this progressive organization. They are therefore building a large annex in which will be established all of their national officials. Further down the street will be found the office building of the Knights of Tabors, a neat pressed brick building of two stories, combining office and business accommodations. A block away is the Temple of the Tabernacle, a new building having been released by the contractors just two months ago. These institutions are manifesting quite the proper spirit, by investing their surplus in valuable real estate.

The large number of business and professional men are for the most part progressive, installing up-to-date methods for accommodating the ever-increasing public, special care being given the boys who are called to don the khaki and be trained in the art of warfare at glorious Camp Pike.

Camp Pike is proving a real school of democracy. At this cantonment at present there are approximately 62,000 men, 8,000 members of the race, comprising 5,000 at old Fort Logan H. Root, 2,500 in the cantonment proper, 250 students at the officers' training camp, 30 commissioned lieutenants as instructors and about 20 doing special duty at base hospitals and receiving stations.

Elmer Morris and Edward Killingsworth of Omaha are in the officers' training camp here. They are looking well, doing well and feeling fine.

It has ceased to be an act of wonderment for a white private to salute a Colored officer. The sentiment of the camp is against any man who fails to recognize his duty as a member of this great army of Uncle Sam to salute his officer, no matter what his color and the citizens of this community are beginning to think the same way, branding any man wearing the uniform of the U. S. A., who attempts to complain of being compelled to salute Colored officers as being "No Good" and a "Bad Soldier."

The first batch of student officers who successfully passed their examinations will receive their commissions August 15. The daily hikes are doing wonders for the boys and a sentiment of true democracy is growing, for the Jim Crow signs are fast disappearing, and at the two Y. M. C. A.'s provided for the Colored soldiers, 50 per cent of the attendance is white. The white, seemingly preferring the courteous attention and the harmonious association of his brother in black to that of his own kind. Quite a change in the code of Arkansas.

Am leaving tonight for Hot Springs, the Vapor City, until next week.

AFRICA HOLDS ONE-EIGHTH WORLD'S POPULATION

The Dark Continent in Extent of Territory and Population Apparently Destined to Play a Big Part in Future of World.

No one who realizes what a large continent Africa is can doubt the important part it is destined to play in the future. Here are some suggestive facts:

Nearly one-fourth of the earth's land surface is comprised within the continent of Africa, and it is as far around the world. Every eighth person of the world's population lives in the dark continent. The blacks double their number every forty years and the whites every eighty. There are 843 languages and dialects spoken among the blacks of Africa, but only a few of them are written. One area in Africa unoccupied by missionaries is three times the size of Ohio. Throughout Africa there is one missionary for every 133,000 souls.

FOR IMPROVING LABOR CONDITIONS

Richmond, Va.—George E. Haynes, director of the Negro economic department of the federal labor bureau discussed with C. R. Kelley, executive secretary of the Virginia council of defense, a more compact organization of the Colored people of Virginia along economical and industrial lines. Local commissions, on which Colored men of this state will be placed, will probably be the result of the conference.
