Colored Americans In War Work

August 3 to 18 a campaign for health, of state-wide proportions was carried on at Columbia, S. C. On the 4th a meeting was held and Governor Manning presided. The chief executive also paid a visit to Camp Jackson to encourage the Colored citizens in their very helpful effort in promotion of better health conditions among their people. The state council of defense is in charge of the campaign. Some of those interested in the work are: Seymour Carroll, secretary of state council of defense; I. S. Levy, chairman of the Columbia council of defense; J. H. Goode, president of the Negro Business league; Dr. M. A. Evans, president of South Carolina Health association; R. W. Westbury, food administrator for the State of South Carolina; Dr. J. H. Goodwin, president of State Fair association; H. J. Fredericy, editor of the Piedmont Indicator; and R. W. Bulware, president of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People of the state.

The Colored man is a willing factor in the war. This has been so convincingly demonstrated upon so many occasions that additional evidence is scarcely necessary. A striking case in point, however, may be noted in the journeying at his own expense from Birmingham, Ala., to Washington of Archie Neely, a stalwart young Colored American, to enlist in the army. He had been refused by the local boards at his home, but was so determined to battle for Uncle Sam that he scraped together the necessary funds and came to Washington to see the officials of the war department in person and tender his services. His personality was so inviting and his plea so eloquent that Neely was accepted. There wasn't a happier youngster in the land than Neely when he left the war department with a paper authorizing him to proceed to Camp Meade.

The Colored churches and fraternal societies of Jackson, Tenn., are planning to have an elaborate patriotic demonstration August 29, to continue three days. Speakers of national renown will be on hand, and a strenuous effort will be made to raise $5,000 for war purposes. A big parade is to be an outstanding feature of the occasion and it is expected that 25,000 marchers will take part. The affair is under the management of a local committee, headed by R. Flippin.

Surgeon General Gorgas, of the United States army, has called for the enrollment of 8,000 graduate nurses to enter the service at the rate of 2,000 a week. Says he: "The army today is growing faster than the nurse corps is increasing. I therefore urge upon the American Red Cross, through its agencies, to bring to the attention of the trained nurses of this country the necessity of immediate offer of service and their enrollment in the army nurse corps." With the rapid increase of Colored troops in the army, the necessity of larger number of Colored nurses will be apparent. Women who desire to register and enroll for this service should write to Miss Jane Delano, headquarters of the American Red Cross (army nurse section), or apply to the Red Cross authorities in the locality in which they reside.

The appointment of Lieut. Russell Smith, detailed in charge of the 2d battalion, student army training camp, Howard university, is the first time in the history of the United States army where a Colored officer has been placed in charge as commanding officer of a training camp.

Dr. J. W. E. Bowen, of Gammon Theological seminary, Atlanta, Ga., one of the race's ablest speakers, addressed a monster patriotic meeting recently at Wadesboro, N. C., with more than 6,000 persons in attendance from Anson and adjoining counties. Dr. Bowen was introduced by the Hon. L. P. Robinson, member of congress from the Wadesboro district. He pointed out in a most luminous manner the duty of the race in support of the war policies of the government and urged the people to respond cheerfully to the call to the colors, to buy liberty bonds and war savings stamps, to contribute generously to the funds for the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., and to engage heartily in all of the activities designed to aid the nation in the winning of the war. Dr. Bowen spoke to another large gathering at Hickory, N. C., en route homeward to Atlanta.

The full text of President Wilson's letter in denunciation of lynching will probably be circulated in France among the Colored soldiers.

The Negro auxiliary of the Knox County Chapter of the American Red Cross society of Knoxville, Tenn., is doing excellent work, with Mrs. J. G.

Robinson as president. At a recent patriotic celebration Mayor John E. McMillan spoke and helpful addresses were delivered by Editor W. L. Porter of the East Tennessee News; Prof. C. W. Cansler, Hon. W. F. Yardley, Dr. J. H. Henderson, Rev. L. St. George McCallum and others of like prominence.

A new community house, adjudged the best in the district, has been opened for Negro soldiers at Camp Travis, San Antonio, Tex. A committee has been appointed by the war commission on training camp activities and a Colored worker has been placed in charge of the club house.

WOMEN ACT AS CHAUFFEURS

New Orleans, La., Aug. 30.—With the granting of a license as a chauffeur to Mary Bolden, Colored, officials at the city hall see a new era in motor truck transportation in New Orleans. She is a graduate of a Colored women's school for chauffeurs, which now has forty students enrolled, learning to drive cars and trucks. Mechanics are teaching the women the fine points of the cars.
