TO MONITOR READERS!

Dear Friends:
You will agree with me that every man and woman should carry a GOOD SICK AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE. If you haven't one, take one out with THE LION BONDING COMPANY. It is the best.

Why?
Because—
It is absolutely dependable;
Its premiums are reasonable;
And, lastly, because I personally collect your premiums and PAY YOUR CLAIMS. No red tape or long waiting for settlement.

Respectfully,
GEORGE WELLS PARKER.

CRISPUS ATTUCKS AUXILIARY WELCOMES SOLDIERS

Omaha has never had a more delightful social function than the homecoming reception tendered the returned soldiers last Friday night in beautiful Dreamland hall by the Crispus Attucks auxiliary of the Red Cross. Nearly four hundred persons were present.

Mrs. Isaac Bailey, president of the chapter, gave a most gracious welcome. She said:

"Since the news of the war's end Crispus Attucks auxiliary has planned many occasions that would appropriately and adequately express the welcome we desired for you, the returned soldiers. We were sorry to part with you, but withal there was a feeling of supreme consolation in the parting that you would do your duty and do it well. And now that you have are endeavoring to extend to your the greeting of welcome you so justly deserve.

It was a question in our minds as to the nature of the entertainment—that would be most enjoyable to you as our guests.

We thought of a picnic, but picnics suggest woods, and some of you perhaps are not overly anxious about seeing any more woods.

It was suggested that we have dancing, this idea seemed to lodge because we felt thereby we would strike the happy medium in variety. At the dancing we could have a program, literary and litching.

In the literary program we could endeavor to express the full measure of our welcome to you and in the dancing and litching we should find your approval and appreciation, and in this variety we hoped to find the spice of life.

Now that your services in the greatest war the world has ever known seems over and you have returned to your homes and various vocations, may you maintain the spirit of sacrifice our justice and righteousness that has been inculcated in you through these trying years.

The state of affairs throughout the world during the past four years should have taught lessons that will make for better men and women and have shown how all important we maintain with ceaseless vigilance our known high standards of morality and citizenship. You have made a wonderful record one of which we all feel justly proud. May your deeds be written in history and not forgotten soon. In all our country's wars Negro blood has been weighed on the scales of patriotism and has never been found wanting from the days of Crispus Attucks to the present.

So Crispus Attucks auxiliary of the Red Cross, not perhaps most hastily, but surely most heartily and sincerely welcomes you home. And I am sure it is not an unwarranted assumption to also welcome you home on behalf of wives, mothers, sweethearts and friends."

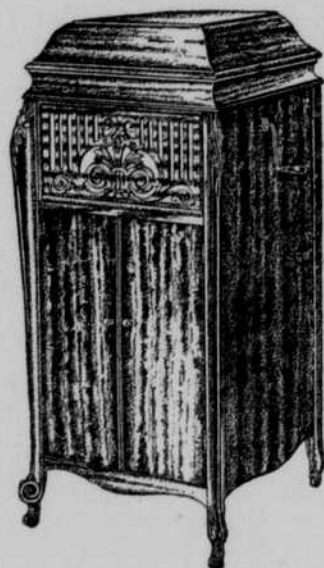

She then introduced in turn the following speakers: Rev. John Albert Williams, Lieut. Amos P. Madison, Attorney A. W. Lewis and Lieutenant H. J. Pinkett. Two highly appreciated vocal numbers were given by Miss Madeline Roberts, Miss Corinne Thomas and Miss Dolores Johnson. Desdunes orchestra furnished the music and dancing was the climax.

NEGRO BUSINESS LEAGUE

The Negro Business League held an interesting meeting last Wednesday night at the office of its president, Allen Jones. Several new members joined. Addresses were given by C. B. Hosmer, Rev. W. C. Williams, C. S. Simmons, R. C. Price and Dr. Hill. The League sent a telegram to Postmaster Burleson protesting against the withholding of the May Crisis from the mails. Next meeting May 23.
