LEUTENANT MADISON RESUMES PRACTICE

Opens Office With Dr. J. Boston Hill on Twenty-fourth and Hamilton Streets.

Lieutenant Amos P. Madison, who has returned from overseas service and has resumed the practice of medicine and has opened offices with Dr. J. Boston Hill at Twenty-fourth and Hamilton streets.

Dr. Madison, who is a native of Missouri, and a whole-souled, warm-hearted and most genial man, is a graduate of Meharry medical college, Nashville, Tenn. He was among the first to volunteer for the officers' training camp at Camp Dodge, Des Moines, where he made an excellent record and won his commission. He served with the Ninety-second division in France, where he gave a good account of himself.

Wednesday evening he and Dr. Hill entertained the business and professional men of Omaha at a delightful stag and smoker. Good fellowship reigned supreme.

MRS. JULIA HUDLIN TO SUCCEED MRS. WALACE

Mrs. Julia Hudlin has been appointed to succeed Mrs. Ruth Wallace as welfare worker among the Colored people. Mrs. Hudlin has had experience in New York and Chicago in similar work and is, therefore, well qualified for the position. The rumor that Mrs. Wallace was to be replaced by a white woman is, of course, false. Mrs. Hudlin is a widow, her husband having died some years ago.

The seventh and eighth grade pupils of Kellom school gave an interesting program last Thursday afternoon which was enjoyed not only by the pupils, but also by a good number of parents. The music, except "America," which was sung lustily but tunelessly by the audience, and "America the Beautiful," by the eighth grade, was furnished by the Victrola. The numbers included: "Semper Fidelis," a march; "Bugle Calls," "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" and "National Songs of Our Allies."
The recitations by the pupils included: "A Tribute to Lincoln," by Worthington Williams; one of Dunbar's poems by Grace Rosenstein; "Surrender of the Germans," by Winona Stubbs; "Surrender of the Spanish Fleet," by Sam Cohn; "In Flanders Field," by eighth grade girls, and "The Answer," by George Kirkland.

OMAHA WELCOMES FIGHTING 89TH DIVISION

Last Friday—Decoration Day—all Omaha turned out to greet the famous "Fighting" Eighty-ninth division, composed largely of Nebraska men. Enroute to Camp Funston, where they are to be mustered out, they were guests of Omaha for three hours. The city was in gala attire and gave these overseas heroes a royal reception. All classes of citizens took part. Desdume's band was stationed in front of the reviewing stand, opposite the city hall; the N. A. A. C. P. Community chorus of sixty members was stationed at Thirteenth and Farnam, and the Rev. John Albert Williams and Lieutenant H. J. Pinkett were members of the mayor's reception committee of one hundred. Among the school children holding garlands and making a lane of flowers through which the soldiers marched were several of our children. These facts all show that we were counted in in this civic affair.

OMAHA BRANCH N. A. A. C. P. HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The Omaha Branch, N. A. A. C. P., held an interesting and largely attended meeting last Sunday afternoon at St. John's A. M. E. church. The president presided. M. F. Singleton, Nate Hunter, Mrs. J. D. Lewis and Mrs. J. Alice Stewart.

At the meeting next Sunday afternoon reports of the executive committee, secretary and treasurer will be presented and action taken upon sending delegates to the Cleveland convention, which meets June 21-29.
