ROOSEVELT HONORED AT TUSKEGEE FOUNDERS' DAY EXERCISES

party he loved for its temporary weakness, and in this connection I want to say there was no more sincere mourner at the bier of Theodore Roosevelt than William Howard Taft, and in this connection I want to say further it is not impossible, yea, not improbable, that Mr. Taft will be the successful standard bearer of the republican party in 1920. I thought of him in South America, as a discoverer of new animals, new birds and new streams.

"I thought of him back in America, engaged in all kinds of war activities, and finally tendering the service of himself and ten of thousands of men too old for the draft age for service overseas to back up our boys in the trenches. I thought of him as the writer of hundreds of newspaper and magazine articles, and, incidentally, rehabilitating the party he had destroyed temporarily, and making for it an issue which won back its supremacy in both branches of congress in 1919.

"I thought of him finally at Oyster Bay, preaching to his neighbors in the little church there, and then at his hearthstone surrounded by his grandchildren, while their fathers, his sons, were "Over There," fighting for the spread of democracy and Christianity throughout the world, and in defense of their flag. I thought of him out on the lawn, with his arms around the neck of Quintin's pony, giving expression to a broken heart, and then retiring to his bed chamber on Sunday night, kissing his faithful wife good night, and saying to his faithful attendant, 'turn out the light, good night,' and how his sweet spirit winged its flight to its last resting place, and I said, 'Yes, indeed, Theodore Roosevelt lived six hundred years. So full was his life.'

"Big in intellect, great in heart, grand in soul, president of the United States at forty-three years of age, feeling deeply the responsibilities of his great office, he often sent throughout the nation for the wisest men to advise him, and often took their advice, but he knew no dictator, but his conscience, no guide but his judgment, and no purpose but to serve his country. Where duty led, he followed, heedless of results, regardless of misfortunes, and thoughtless of reward. He was a model citizen, a devout husband, a loving father and a faithful friend. He was a patriot who put principle above party, and a statesman who worshipped at the shrine of truth. For his patriotism he honored him: for his services to his country, we loved him; and since we loved him and honored him in life, we revere him in death, and strew earth's brightest flowers upon his grave.

"For motives we do not comprehend, for reasons we do not understand, it may be just as well for the bursting bud to be killed by the early frost, as to live until the snows of winter frost his hair, chill his thoughts, and freeze his heart. Colonel Roosevelt died young for a man of his activities; but he approached his grave like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

"Dream on, O Sainted Dead! Through seed time and harvest, through sunshine and shadow, through winter's storm and summer's calm, dream on! Dream on until the angelic harbingers of the resurrection shall arouse thee from thy slumbers, and shall usher thee through the archway of paradise into the immeasurable joys of the Lord!"

"Husband, father, friend, Farewell!
All our hearts are buried with you,
All our thoughts go onward with you.
Come not back again to labor,
Come not back again to suffer,
Where the famine and the fever
Wear the heart and waste the body.
Soon our tasks will be completed,
Soon your footsteps we shall follow,
To the Island of the Blessed,
To the Land of the Hereafter."

TWO INTERESTING LETTERS

War Department, Washington, June 11, 1919.
Dear Mr. Secretary:
Now that the especial work I was called to Washington to do is at an end, and also because of private arrangements which become effective July 1, I am writing to tender my resignation to take effect June 30, 1919.

Before retiring, however, I wish to convey to you this expression of my heartfelt appreciation of the privilege and honor of serving in your office during the war as special assistant, advising in matters affecting Colored soldiers and Americans generally. It has been to me an experience of greatest moment, and I have sought diligently and as effectively as possible to serve the great cause in which all racial groups of Americans have had an interest in common.

I shall carry back into civilian life the pleasantest recollections of your generous consideration, marked confidence, and extreme courtesy during the nearly twenty-one months I have been here. Likewise, I am pleased to testify as to the uniform courtesy and consideration which have been shown me at all times by your entire office force.

I am to remain in Washington as secretary-treasurer of Howard university, and shall be pleased at any time to respond to any call for service wherein my judgment may be of value. Sincerely yours,
EMMETT J. SCOTT.
Hon. Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

War Department, Washington, June 13, 1919.
Dear Mr. Scott:

I have just received your letter of June 11, tendering your resignation to take effect June 30, 1919, and have noted my acceptance upon the paper.

As you thus bring to an end your period of association with the department, I take the opportunity to express my deep appreciation of the fidelity, zeal, and intelligence with which you have done the work entrusted to you. That it was difficult goes without saying; but your uniform sympathy and courtesy has, I feel very sure, enabled the war department to make clear to the Colored people of the United States its earnest desire to see their service in the great war rendered under circumstances satisfying alike to their ambition and pride.

Taking it all in all, the relations between the war department and the Colored people of America have been sympathetic and helpful, the service rendered by Colored soldiers and civilians has been conspicuous, and I trust that permanent value will accrue to the race, as well as to the country generally, from this great experience. Cordially yours,
NEWTON D. BAKER,
Secretary of War.
Mr. Emmett J. Scott, War Department.

NORTH CAROLINA MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE HOLDS 20TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

Durham, N. C., June 23.—Three hundred representative men and women attended the celebration of the 20th anniversary of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance company last week. The exercises were held in the White Rock Baptist church. It is one of the largest institutions of its kind in America.

The report of the general manager, C. C. Spaulding, showed that the company was founded 20 years ago by John Merrick, who was then a barber. They started in a room which was rented for two dollars a month, they now own a two-story brick building in the heart of the city covering a half block employing forty clerks; operating in ten states and the District of Columbia, with 500,000 insured; over half million invested in staple assets, including $200,000 in United States Liberty loan bonds; agency force represented by one thousand men, and paid last year for influenza cases alone $100,000.

The officers of the company are John Merrick, president; A. M. Moore, M. D., secretary-treasurer; C. C. Spaulding, vice president and general manager; J. M. Avery, assistant general manager; E. R. Merrick, assistant secretary.

The principal anniversary address was delivered at White Rock Baptist church by Dr. R. C. Ransom, editor of the A. M. E. Church Review. He discussed the power of organization. He urged the Negro to wake up and know his strength. Others knew it and feared him. He offered some good advice to the race.

Charles Stewart, D. D., of Chicago, spoke also.

WHAT WE WANT TO KNOW

Special to The Monitor by Sgt. Clarence R. Gordon, Brest, France.
"HAVE YOU DONE YOUR BIT?"
We the men of the A. E. F.
Ask you, the one who stayed
At home in safety and comfort
If a real man's game you've played.

While we were in the trenches,
Or "Over the Top" in a raid
We wonder how you spent your time
Whether you be man or maid.

Did you do your bit back home there
Were you always on the job,
Working for our welfare
Whether Soldier, Marine or Gob.

Did your dollars help swell the Liberty Loan
Did you to the Red Cross give.
Did you grieve for those of us who died,
Died that you might live.

Did you do the things that were clean and right,
Or the things that were mean and wrong,
Did you keep the promises made to us
Or were you just stringing us along.

Did you try to protect our mothers or wives
Try to soothe the grief and pain
Occasioned by our going,
Or did you think only of gain.

Did you help to keep us supplied with smokes
And how did you cast your vote
Did you consider us at the ballot box
Or did you make us the goat.

Did you try to keep our jobs for us,
Or try from us to steal.
To put it short, did you give to us
A clean, or a dirty deal.

We're coming home, two million strong,
Our work over here is done
And we'll want to know just what you are
And just what you have done,
We're coming home with eyes to see
And we're neither dumb or deaf
So prepare for a full accounting
To the men of the A. E. F.

The glory of a good man is the testimony of a good conscience.—Thomas a-Kempis.
