Events and Persons

Lawrence Parker's famous Midway jazz band, which for some time has been playing in Kearney, Neb., had a miraculous escape from serious injury Thursday evening when the car in which they were coming from a dance fell eight feet into a ditch. Drums, saxophones, coronets, music and colored gentlemen were scattered in various directions. The car, which was a limousine type, was badly wrecked. The drummer was the most seriously hurt, as he strained his vocal chords in scared yells. Outside of several cuts from flying glass, bruises and a couple of black eyes, the boys are well and jizzing again. The orchestra consists of Robert Perry, Thomas Roulette, George Fitzpatrick and Lawrence Parker, all of Omaha. The Kearney people are delighted at their escape as the boys are great favorites in the jazz biz.

 Does it pay to advertise in The Monitor? Mrs. A. J. Austin, manufacturer of the Denova system of hair culture, says it does. Last week Mrs. Austin received a letter from British Guiana, in South America, containing an order for her hair goods. They had seen her add in the Monitor, a paper which reaches not only every part of the U. S., but many of the foreign countries. The merchant and the manufacturer will do well to note this fact. The wider the era of publicity, the better the result.

For Sale—A number of 5 and 6-room cottages, not entirely modern. Prices ranging from $2,000 to $3,100. Terms easy, upward from $200. Balance in monthly payments as rent. See McClure & Shipman, 220 South 13th street. Telephone Douglas 7150.
 Mrs. William Roulette of North 28th avenue had a letter recently from her son, Vernon, who is a member of the American Syncopeated orchestra. This orchestra has 29 members and is filling a 16-week engagement through the south and east, meeting with success everywhere they are heard. They are now playing in Dallas, Tex.

HINTS TO THE SMALL STOCKMAN

ARTICLE I.
Hygiene: Selection of a Site.
 The first things to consider in the management of any herd are the hygienic conditions under which it must be started and maintained.
 We therefore will first turn our attention to the proper selection of a site and then the construction of sanitary stable for that herd.
 In looking over our plot of ground we must choose a slightly elevated spot, away from large buildings or banks, since these obstruct free circulation of air. Avoid close proximity to swamps and sluggish streams, as these give an excess of moisture.
Dry, coarse, gravelly or sandy subsoil is very desirable material upon which to lay the foundations, as water passes readily through many foundation walls, keeping them permanently moist and cold. Clay soils should be thoroughly drained before receiving a foundation. The material for the construction should be compact and waterproof (cement, hard baked tile). The walls may be further protected from soil moisture by enclosing a layer of asphalt or heavy sheet tar paper in the foundation wall near the top. You may get protection from atmospheric moisture by extending the layer of asphalt over the outer and inner sides of the walls.

Walls, Ceilings and Floors.
 The walls should be made of porous material (non-conductor of heat and cold) to retain heat in winter and exclude it in the summer. Such material as wood, air spaces, heavy building paper, tar paper, dry sand and tile blocks. The outer surface of the wall must be waterproof to exclude moisture, such as rain, snow and water-vapor; paint, glazed tile, hard cement plaster, tar paper beneath clapboards are recommended. The inner surface of the walls must be waterproof also, have a smooth surface, and be free from grooves or cracks to prevent the accumulation of dirt and germs. Smooth white-washed boards, plaster-boards, glazed tile or brick, hard cement plaster are all good. Walls constructed entirely of cement or stone are entirely too cold in winter, the material is too compact; they are, however, cool in summer.
 Ceilings require the same smooth, waterproof and warm construction as the walls. Warmth may be provided by roughage stored above. There should, however, be no permanent opening through the ceiling of a stable into a hay-loft above. Dust from the roughage, damage to food from stable gases, interference with ventilation are the results.

Article I will be continued in the next issue with instructions for laying sanitary floors and will give some dimensions of stables holding 50-70 head of cattle.

OMAHA TO HAVE BRANCH OF YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Central Association Plans Extension Work on North Side—National Y. W. C. A. Worker in City Making Survey Interviews Many Prominent Business Men and Women Who Favor Project.

Omaha is to be one of the forty or more cities where a constructive program for women and girls is to be followed. As the city west of the Mississippi river which has the largest colored population, her need for work of this kind is evident. It was with much satisfaction that Omaha welcomed Mrs. Cordella Wynne, National Y. W. C. A. secretary, who came recently to make a survey of the needs and possibilities of our community. And upon her recommendation the board of directors of the central Y. W. C. A. voted to take up this extension work among the women and girls. This is the first of the many possible branches the central association might have here.

New York City has a large metropolitan board doing extension work all over that city with 27 branches doing work among all girls—Polish, Bohemian, Italian, French, Negroes, and embracing the thickly settled districts of the entire suburb. Omaha is to have her first branch which will no doubt be situated on the north side easily accessible to the majority of our girls.

Mrs. Wynne who met while here many people representing all the various interests expressed herself as pleased and encouraged by the possibilities for the work she saw here and the disposition of the people to rally to the support of the project.
 In speaking of the work of the association, Mrs. Wynne said:
 "The Young Women's Christian Association is a movement world wide in its scope and embracing in its sisterhood all girls of every race and creed and color. It has a constructive program proven and tried by fifty years of service to women and girls, reaching all sides of their life and ministering to them in mind and body and spirit and well as answering their need for group activity making them a social force for the extension of the Kingdom of God. Recreation that is re-creation as well as play is at the foundation of the program of the association.

"To make the girls who will be the women of the next generation fit and worthy mothers will be a worth while contribution of any community to the sum total of the nation's life."
 For Sale—A number of 5 and 6-room houses, strictly modern on paved street. Prices running from $3,500 to $4,200. On terms $500 or more down, balance as rent. See McClure & Shipman, 220 South 13th St. Telephone Douglas 7150.

Monitor subscription contest closes Saturday, November 15. Get busy if your church is going to earn that $100.

N. A. A. C. P.

A large and well attended meeting of the branch was held last Sunday at Grove M. E. church, with the president, Rev. John Albert Williams, presiding. Reports of committees and call for membership was made.

A lively discussion followed the remarks of some of the members relative to the proper avenues of publicity. The matter was referred to the committee on the press.

The most interesting part of the meeting was the speech made by Mrs. Cordella Wynne, National Y. W. C. A. worker of New York City. Mrs. Wynne has been in Omaha making a survey of conditions here and has recommended that the work be begun in Omaha to answer the distinct need for constructive work among women and girls in this city. The branch went on record as endorsing this movement.
 Bethel Baptist church will be the place of meeting for next Sunday afternoon at 4:30.

P. O. CLERKS AND CARRIERS TO GET WAGE INCREASE

The clerks and carriers of the P. O. department throughout the United States are rejoicing over the welcome news that they are to receive increases in their present salaries. October 6th the senate sub-committee reported to the whole committee its findings in the post office employees salary question. The following recommendations for clerks and carriers were made:
 Those men in the $1,000 grade to receive an increase of $240; those in the $1,100 and $1,200 grades to receive $200. Those in the $1,300, $1,400 and $1,500 grades to receive an increase of $150.
 There are quite a few colored Omahans who will benefit by this act.

EDITOR OF THE MONITOR LEAVES FOR DETROIT

The Rev. John Albert Williams, editor of The Monitor and president of the N. A. A. C. P., who planned to have left for Cleveland to attend the thirty-fifth annual conference of church workers among colored people, could not leave on the Monday of October 4, feeling that his duty lay in Omaha, the scene of the recent disturbance. Rev. Williams, who is rector of St. Philip the Deacon, left Monday for Detroit, to attend the general convention of the Episcopal church workers, which is in session there.
