PORO BUILDING HAS NEW INTERIOR DECORATIONS

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 22.—The famous Poro building, of which Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Malone are founders, has been newly decorated inside by the firm of Marx & Jones. There are now three immense panels in the lobby, called the "Mural Tripartite," a tribute to our race. They are the Genesis, Exodus and Apotheosis, and each panel has an interesting history. Three heroic figures of the beautiful womanhood of the race personify Liberty and her hand maidens.

SHERIDAN BOYS WIN THE FIRST PRIZE AT STATE FAIR

Former Omaha Boy Among Winners

The Sheridan stock-judging team, consisting of Carl Bingemer, John Gronski and Alfred Shute, former Omaha boy, accompanied by Club Leader L. A. Marks, returned yesterday on 41 from Douglas, where they won state championship in judging domestic animals. The championship was won with a margin of 71 degrees, Fremont county having a score of 1,470 and Sheridan with 1,541. The team has given many demonstrations in the county, and their work has been warmly praised by numerous ranchers and stock-growers who frankly admitted that the boys had given them new ideas, and as a result they would be better able in the future to judge their herds of livestock, eliminating the poorer and scrubby animals and retaining those of a higher quality.

Plans are for the boys to leave in December for the Chicago International Stock Exposition, where they will compete with the champion teams of the other states for national championship. Expectations are to secure the necessary funds for the trip through the Wyoming cattle and sheep growers organizations. A large percentage of the praise for the success of the stock judging and canning teams in each winning the state championship is due to the efforts of County Club Leader L. A. Marks who has worked all summer training the boys and girls for the club. Professor J. J. Marshall, local club leader assisted in the training of the members of the Canning club.
