

Among the Churches

ALLEN CHAPEL A. M. E. CHURCH.

The $1,000 rally for the building fund of the church is now on. Rev. J. A. Broadnax and his earnest band of workers are hard at it and confidently expect to "go over the top." The people have a mind to work and to give.

All departments of the church are earnestly at work, services are well attended and an excellent spirit prevails.

ZION BAPTIST CHURCH.

(Dr. W. F. Botts, Pastor.)
(Mrs. J. W. Dallas, Reporter.)

The drive against sin, which started at this church March 7, is still in progress. Special meetings each night this week. The pastor is being assisted by Dr. G. L. Prince of St. Joseph, Mo. Since he has been in our midst he has won the hearts of all who have been fortunate enough to hear him. To hear him is to honor him for his truthfulness, his honesty and his uncompromising sense of right.

Come out and hear him—though he may have the most rigid sense of justice, purity and integrity, on the other hand that he has a kind word and a genuine sympathy for even the most hard-hearted sinner.

Next week Dr. L. K. Williams of Chicago, whom we all know, and have learned to love, is expected for five nights.

The special effort will close Easter Sunday with services at 5:30 a. m. followed by baptism.

The sick of the church are improving.

MT. MORIAH BAPTIST CHURCH.

(Rev. M. H. Wilkinson, Pastor.)

Services were well attended last Sunday morning, afternoon and evening. The preachers' rally in the afternoon was a decided success along all lines. The young men acquitted themselves nicely, namely: Rev. Mr. Kennedy, and Licentiate J. D. Davis, J. Crowder and P. Staves. Mrs. Crowder did well to help her husband. We desire to thank all who helped us.

Don't forget that our rally will wind up the first Sunday in May at our new church location, Twenty-fourth and Ohio streets. Our revival begins right after that, with one of the leading preachers from Texas. We want all to help financially and spiritually. Your prayer will be as a glass of ice water in mid-winter except you are a worker.

Come out Sunday and hear this subject by the pastor, "Are You as You Used to Be—If not, Why not?" And What Are You Going to Do?" Night subject reserved. Come on time.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT.

Every child has the inalienable right to be loved; to have its individuality respected; to be trained wisely in mind, body and soul; to be protected from disease, from evil influences and evil persons and to have a fair chance in life. That state is delinquent which does not ceaselessly strive to secure these inalienable rights to its children.—Indiana's Child Creed.

This is the time of year when rich cakes like fruit cakes and puddings made of suet and fruit are most enjoyed. With butter and eggs at such prices, most housewives will curtail the rich cake making.

Fruit Cake.—Take one pound each of butter and sugar, twelve eggs, one cupful of New Orleans molasses, one cupful of very strong coffee infusion, one pound of flour browned to a medium brown, two pounds of seeded raisins, two pounds of currants or sultana raisins, one pound of candied cherries, one pound of citron, sliced very thin, two tablespoonfuls of ground cinnamon, one tablespoonful of cloves, one small nutmeg grated, and one teaspoonful of black pepper. Add one teaspoonful of soda to the molasses. Add more flour if needed and use it unbrowned. Mix and bake in a slow oven.

Apricot Jam (Imitation).—Scrape and slice very thin a pound of carrots. Cover with a quart of water and boil till tender. Drain well and run through the meat chopper. Set in a cool place over night. In the morning add to three cupfuls of carrots, the juice and grated yellow rind of two lemons, four cupfuls of sugar, and two dozen blanched almonds cut fine. Let stand until the sugar is dissolved. Stir well and simmer slowly till the mass is smooth and thick. Add as little water as possible. Add a few drops of almond and put into jelly glasses.

Ginger Cream.—Make a custard of the yolks of four eggs and the whites of two, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of preserved ginger sirup, and one pint of milk. Just before the custard is done add enough gelatine to slightly thicken and let it completely dissolve. As soon as the custard coats the spoon set the dish in cold water to arrest the cooking. Turn into molds. Sprinkle each mold with preserved ginger.

Nellie Maxwell
Why Romans Honor Cornelia.
"All men rule over women; we Romans rule over all men, and our wives rule over us," said Cato, the censor, when he had an attack of nerves. Among notable Roman women the mind flits—fascinated—from Lucretia to Cornelia, and lingers with wonder at the name of Messalina. Cornelia lived in the days of the Roman republic. Daughter of Scipio Africanus, conqueror of Hannibal, she inherited the stern virtues of her father. Married in 69 B. C. to Sempronius Gracchus, she was left a widow with 12 children. Only two survived their youth, two sons, Tiberius and Caius. She devoted herself exclusively to their education, and in after days these distinguished orators and statesmen avowed they owed everything to their mother. She declined the suit of King Ptolemy of Egypt. All her magnificent powers and learning were consecrated to the two boys. The Roman people erected a monument to Cornelia, with this inscription: "Cornelia, Mother of the Gracchi."
