LEONARD WOOD ADMINISTRATOR

At the close of the Spanish war Leonard Wood's supreme administrative duties began. He was made the governor of the city of Santiago and a few weeks later of the entire eastern half of Cuba. Here at this time came the test of his methods of organization and of his adminis- trative qualities, for out of con- ditions of starvation, disease and empty treasuries it was neces- sary to bring order, reasonable food conditions, protection for life and property, reorganization of the customs service and the control of food prices.

Rehabilitated Cuba

Under Wood profiteering was abolished, industry was built up, agriculture rehabilitated, hos- pitals organized, equipped and maintained, tens of thousands of people clothed and fed—and all this was done in a thorough business-like manner. It was done under tribulations which arose from the fact that the peo- ple were impoverished to the point of starvation and had been dying by thousands for the lack of the things which Wood quickly provided. The farmers were furnished with implements and food, and were given that aid which enabled them instan- tly to start at the work of pro- duction. The whole nature of things changed with almost in- credible swiftness. Order speed- ily supplanted disorder.

Then there came the rehabili- tation of the municipalities, the establishment of schools, the opening of roads, the organizing of government in the provinces, the readjustment of taxation, and of the courts, and the work of providing for the thousands of children made orphans by war or famine.

Striking Business Experience

Leonard Wood was in Cuba about four years. He left there a reorganized and sound banking system, a good railroad system, no debts, nearly $2,000,000 un- encumbered money in the treas- ury, a sugar crop of nearly 1,000,000 tons, sound municipal laws, fine public works, a firm agri- cultural foundation and an abso- lute respect among the people for life and property. The school system which Wood established was founded on the laws of Mas- sachusetts and Ohio. Roads were built which made com- munication speedy. The hos- pitals erected under his supervi- sion were of the highest type.

So when people ask "What has been the business experience of this man," they can get from the above in condensed form some of the many things which were done under his immediate direction and for the efficiency of which he was directly re- sponsible.

PINCHOT TELLS THEM!

Theodore Roosevelt's Friend Makes Strong Answer to Wood's Defamers.

"If the American people want a man in the White House who knows and hates militarism, who is hated by every militaristic soldier in America and has suffered vitally from their opposition and jealousy, who was loved by the soldiers he trained because he was human, who was hated by the military clique for the same reason—let them take Leonard Wood."—Gifford Pinchot, Chief of the forestry service under Theodore Roosevelt.
