PRESBYTERIANS, LET US RALLY

We who have longed to have a Presbyterian church established in Omaha, now is our opportunity. Certainly no organization could have more encouraging conditions to begin with than we. While other congregations have had to labor long in order to secure means with which to purchase a place of worship, we have been made free from such conditions. The Presbytery of Omaha has graciously stepped in, bought an excellent building for us, made itself responsible for the support of a minister for at least twelve months and only asks that we do our part in building up the membership. Are we going to deliver the goods? Are we going to allow such an opportunity to pass by? Let me say we cannot afford to do so. We must work hard, each and every one of us not only that the confidence placed in us be not amiss, but also that we may duly do honor to the cause of Christianity, and do our share in the betterment of the community.

As announced in another column, there will be the regular services next Sunday. Let every Presbyterian and friend of the cause "try and be out." The sermon topics will be as follows. Morning, 11:00 a. m.—"The Faith of the Faithless"; Evening, 8:00 p. m.—"The Power of a Name."—Russel Taylor.

Specials for Saturday—Advo and Happy Hollow coffee, 1-lb. can, 55c; J. M. Coffee, 2-lb. can, $1.00. Finkensteins.

FIRST USED IN CIVIL WAR

Idea of Divisional Insignia is Credited to General Joseph Hooker—Wore Worn as Cap Ornaments.

"The divisional insignia, which was hailed as something of a novelty when it was introduced in the A. E. F., did not stand for an entirely new idea in uniform decorations for an American army," says the Home Sector, the ex-soldiers' weekly.

"Gen. Joseph Hooker—'Fighting Joe'—whose record in another American war fought sixty years ago has not been entirely submerged in the vast history that grew out of that war, had conceived the same insignia idea, and the men of the regiments fighting under him in the Civil war put on a distinctive emblem and thereby established a fashion that was adopted by all the Union forces. The idea did not die with the Civil war, for in the Spanish-American war also American soldiers wore distinctive emblems to show what organization they belonged to.

"The divisional insignia as worn by the A. E. F. was new, however, in the details of its wearing, for the soldiers of the Civil war and of the Spanish-American war did not wear cloth patches on the left shoulder. The fighting men of the Civil war wore their emblems—made of metal, with cloth centers—as cap ornaments. The soldiers of the Spanish-American war displayed their own organization marks—of enameled metal with a clasp backing—pinned to their left breast just above the pocket flap."

KAFFIR CHEMICAL LABORATORIES GET EXPERT ACCOUNTANT

Delbert V. Gordan for the Past Four Years With the Bureau of Valuation of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Western District, Kansas City, Mo., Takes Up Duties With Omaha Firm.

WELL PLEASED WITH POSITION

DELBERT V. GORDAN, who for the past four years has been employed in the Bureau of Valuation of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Western District, with headquarters at Kansas City, Mo., accompanied by Mrs. Gordan, arrived in Omaha Thursday to take up his duties as expert accountant and bookkeeper for the Kaffir Chemical Laboratories, incorporated, and engaged in the manufacture of pharmaceuticals, chemicals, drugs, medicines and toilet preparations. This enterprising company, which is rapidly being recognized as one of the coming big business enterprises of the race, in its work of organization and promotion has been gradually lining up skillful and competent persons to handle its business in the various departments. The company a few months ago entered into correspondence with Mr. Gordan. He visited Omaha, looked over the Kaffir plant, went over the entire proposition with the officers of the company and was so well pleased with the business that upon his return to Kansas City he resigned from the Interstate commission and accepted the position tendered him with the Kaffir Chemical Laboratories.

Mr. Gordan is a native of St. Louis, Mo., and a son of D. Gordan, who for forty years has been one of the foremost educators of that city and is principal of the Desslaines school. He is a graduate of the engineering department of the University of Iowa, where he also took a post graduate course in accounting.

Speaking of his new position with the Kaffir Chemical Laboratories, Mr. Gordan says, "I am well pleased with my position and I have accepted because I see the unlimited possibilities for commercial growth and development before this company. It has a field all its own. It is offering a splendid line of articles to the trade for which there is a big demand. If I had not seen a future for the company, I would not have resigned my position with the Interstate commission. There is a future for big business for our race. We must get into it. There is no better business proposition before the country today in my judgment, in which our people can invest than the Kaffir Chemical Laboratories."

RETURN FROM TRIP TO GARY, INDIANA

Two Omaha Men Favorably Impressed With the Industrial and Business Opportunities Offered in Mid-Western Steel City.

John H. Broomfield and William H. (Bob) Robinson have returned from a trip to Gary, Ind., enthusiastic over what they saw and learned there. The steel works are employing thousands of colored men at wages ranging from $6.40 to $37.50 a day. Notice that these are daily wages, not weekly. Unskilled laborers command $6.40 a day and skilled mechanics $37.50. "Whatever a man is qualified to do," says Mr. Broomfield, "that he is given the opportunity to do, and is paid accordingly. Houses are tremendously scarce and people who keep roomers keep their beds full day and night. Men who work on the night shift occupy them by day, and those who work on the day shift sleep in them at night. Colored people are in all lines of business and nearly every store and business establishment employs one or more colored clerks. There is a real estate firm which has listed over 1,700 pieces of property. There is a great future for our people in Gary."
