ATTEND HIGH SCHOOL CADET ENCAMPMENT

The Omaha boys who attended the Central High School Cadet encampment at Valley, Nebraska, from June 10 to June 19 were James Lewis, Saybert Hanger, John Horton, Charles Ennis, Ledrue Galloway, William Chambers, Otis Sheldon, Martin Thomas, Floyd Maxey and Worthington Williams. The boys had a great time even though some of them had to do "K. P." duty because they were late at roll call; and to stand guard in lonely places when the nights were dark and dreary. It is gratifying to record that while there were 350 cadets at Camp Belle Ryan, named in honor of the gracious, efficient and popular assistant superintendent of schools, and only ten of this number were colored boys, three of this number were among the eighteen selected to compete in the coveted company "spell down" and two of these three, namely Saybert Hanger and William Chambers, were among the last to be spelled down. The prizes went to two brothers, Carl and D. L. Diamond, and the general sentiment was that they had well earned them in a very close competition. There are two other outstanding facts of this encampment of which all are especially proud. James Lewis was given the highest commission that has ever been awarded a colored high school cadet here, that of captain and commissary. All the boys of the battalion are mighty proud of James' promotion. The other one is that William Chambers was promoted to sergeant and won a silver medal in the competitive drill for his company. Company B is proud of Bill. Camp Belle Ryan was one place where real democracy was shown.

Last Friday was visitors' day and a large number of parents and friends gladdened the hearts of the cadets by visiting them and taking them such things as please the appetites of growing lads. Among those who visited the camp were Mrs. H. W. Black and daughters, Pauline, Beatrice and Carmelita; Mrs. Maxey and children, Caroline, Myrtle and Charles; Mr. C. C. Galloway; Mrs. W. W. Peebles and son "Bill"; Mrs. John Albert Williams and daughters, Dorothy E. and Catherine; Mrs. E. J. Lewis; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lewis and daughters, Charlene and Lorene; Mrs. Tillie Simpson; Miss Margaret Marshall; Leonard Turner, Mrs. Hanger, and John Dillard Crawford.

KELLY MILLER COMING

For the first time in its history, Omaha will have the opportunity of hearing one of the most brainy and brilliant men of his day in the person of Kelly Miller, dean of Howard University, who will lecture at St. John's A. M. E. Church July 1, 1920. Every man, woman, girl or boy should avail themselves of this privilege. Mr. Miller is making an itinerary of the western states and lecturing in the principal cities. His lecture will include the educational and social condition of the Negro. He will especially observe and study the racial environment of the Negro in the far western states, Omaha included.

Let us show Mr. Miller what calibre of people we are by giving him a rousing ovation. We are not urging you to attend this lecture from a financial standpoint, but for your own intellectual and moral uplift.

Don't forget the date and place—July 1, 1920, at St. John's A. M. E. Church, at 8:30 o'clock promptly. Admission, 35 cents.—Adv.

Mrs. M. C. Riddle of Dennison, Tex., who is a teacher in the public schools of that city, arrived in Omaha Thursday and will spend her vacation with her son, Dr. R. C. Riddle.
