"NEGROES DID NOT RAPE DULUTH GIRL"

gree caused the boys to believe that a wall was all that separated them from an angry mob. Without that confession, the extreme pacifists on the police force have mighty shaky ground under their feet.

For barbarity, cruelty and primitive savagery, the recent lynching topped anything in the history of the country for many years. Burning at the stake in the South usually is the result of a positive identification by the victim. In the Duluth case, there was an utter absence of identification. One Negro, too, might accuse another with an idea of saving his own skin. White men have done such things, why not a simple Negro boy? A wave of horror, shame, anger and burning resentment swept through the city when the details of the lynching were known. Both the sheriff and the police department became very zealous after everything was over. Gov. Burnquist quickly complied with Sheriff Magie's call for troops. An investigation under way by Gen. Rhinow is believed to be for the purpose of laying a foundation for commissioner Murnian's removal by Gov. Burnquist.

There also is a general feeling that Chief Murphy was not equal to the emergency and, if Murnian goes, Murphy surely will accompany him.

One peculiar thing was the large number of persons in the mob who seemed bent on finding Chief of Detectives Schulte. Many a demand was made as to where he was. It's a dollar to a doughnut that he would have been lynched had he been in the station when the mob was in complete control.

The shooting of Vukadinovich was ranking in the breasts of many. It is feared that the final chapter in that tragedy has not yet been written.

As stated, District Judges Cant and Pesler were witnesses of the lynching. Their souls must have been filled with horror. As quickly as time and pen would permit, the bench joined in a call for a special grand jury. That jury now is investigating and, in time, undoubtedly will arrive at conclusions and make a report.

It is stated that members of the mob are filtering out of Duluth and that, already, officers have failed to find men for whom they had subpoenas.
