Allen Chapel, A. M. E. Church Services were good Sunday. Collection for the day, $46. Local ministers present were the Revs. N. B. Elum and Harris. The pastor reports a grand time at the Masonic picnic and barbecue at Sioux City, Iowa, and the colored people of that city are of a high class and know how to entertain. Many of them own their homes. The Most W. K. S. G. L. of A. F. and A. York M. will convene in Manhattan September 7, 8, 9, 10, and he hopes to get some of the many to subscribe for the Monitor.

The Rev. J. A. Broadnax will fill his pulpit Sunday. All of the members and friends will bring in their envelopes—dollar money, educational money.

Mr. Alton Goode is raising money for the pastor. Suit of clothes. He wants you to help him. I am donating $5. J. A. Broadnax, pastor; Geo. Redd, secretary-steward board.

SHOWN KINDNESS BY

stance of human kindness, I witnessed in the tailoring department of the prison. I had been waging a warfare for better ventilations. After this betterment had been installed, it happened that the corner where my machine was, nothing had been done. After awhile I began to feel weak and sick, and another colored girl having noticed my condition, came over to me and asked that I change places with her. I thanked her for her kindness, but refused. But she would not hear me, saying: "I will not leave until you change places with me." I then asked why she should risk her life for mine when I might be able to get better air for myself? I was surprised when she replied: "My dear Mrs. Kate, you think I do not know how important your life is for the people at large who are impatient to see you free. What is my life in comparison to yours? Who will care whether I live or die? The world or its people will not know or hear from me. You are not a usual prisoner. I know not why they torture you here. Your death will be a great loss to your friends and the masses. My death means nothing. No! Mrs. Kate, you must live." This she said with that positive voice that showed it was not mere flattery, but was spoken from the heart.
