PERTINENT INQUIRIES GENERALLY APPLICABLE

(By The Associated Negro Press.)
NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 14.—In a special statement to the New York Globe, William T. Williams makes some very pertinent inquiries, that might be used in all the large cities. He says: "As a resident of Brooklyn for a number of years I have taken keen interest in observing the type of man employed as motorman, conductor, elevated and subway guard. I venture to say that there is a fair representation of at least ten or more foreign speaking nations—Italian, Jewish, Irish, German, Dutch, Swedish, Polish and many others.

"The union evidently does not discriminate against our foreign neighbors as members, nor does the company object to employing them.

It is said that many of the striking employes are veterans of the last war, who in response to the nation's call fought for world democracy. I recall seeing one of the banners used in the parade which read: "We Fought for Democracy, and This is Our Reward." Thus I assume that they keenly feel the sting of ingratitude. There are hundreds of Negro men, veterans of the late war, and others who are well fitted for the position of motorman, conductor, elevated and subway guard—men who, if given an equal chance would prove themselves valuable assets not only to the B. R. T., but to any traction or railroad company. Would it not be an equitable undertaking to amalgamate the peaceable, law-abiding, worthy colored brother of our own household with the stranger, from afar that he may, indeed, say there is no hypocrisy in American Democracy?"

BEATS WILSON HOLLOW; HOLDS ONE-MAN CONVENTION

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Oct. 14.—John W. Fowler, of Oakland, colored progressive candidate for assemblyman from the 29th district, held a state progressive convention all by himself as the only person who qualified as progressive party delegate at the primary.

After calling the convention to order Fowler appointed committees, delivered a keynote speech endorsing Harding and Coolidge and Samuel Shortridge, Republican candidate for United States Senator, appointed himself chairman of the progressive state central committee and adjourned the convention.

Expert Mice Catchers.
The barn owl, when she has young, brings a mouse to her nest about every 12 minutes. As she is actively employed at both evening and dawn, and as both male and female hunt, 40 mice a day is a low computation for the total capture.—Brooklyn Eagle.
