Those by our race here and elsewhere. The difficulty of finding employment, no matter how proficient they might be, has deterred many from taking instruction in these branches. But now that our own people are going into business for themselves and making opportunities of employment for the young men and women who prepare themselves here is an inviting field. What is demanded is thoroughness and proficiency in this line and those who can meet these requirements may have no fear of finding employment. Our people everywhere are awakening to the fact that we must enter earnestly and successfully into the business and commercial world to become a recognized power, and in so doing we are making places for welltrained men and women of our race.

DON'T SCATTER, CONCENTRATE THE issue before the country at this time is plain. It resolves itself into this: Do we want a democrat or republican administration? Which do we want? It must be either one or the other? No other party counts at this time. The contest lies wholly and solely between the republicans and the democrats. Which party shall win depends upon how you vote next Tuesday. Please do not lose sight of this fact. From The Monitor's viewpoint it is imperative
