Hazel and Vera, children of Mrs. M. G. Chandler, and Paul Frederick, son of the Rev. and Mrs. R. Taylor, received the sacrament of baptism.

The choir made its debut in an excellent manner. The girl's body was found in bed by W. M. Thomas, a roomer, when he came home at 4 o'clock. Gas was pouring from an open jet. The girl left a note to her husband in which she wrote that she didn't want to live because he refused to get her a piano. "I promised her one last night as soon as I was able," Hall said.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from Jones & Reed's undertaking rooms.

BUILD FOR HER

NOTES ABOUT THE TRIANGLE

The new branch of the Y. W. C. A., Twenty-second and Grant streets, will be opened Monday night, November 8, as headquarters for the budget campaign which begins November 9 and continues for one week.

Miss Mae Hawes of New York City, national financial secretary, and Miss Frankie B. Watkins, local secretary, will be in charge of this branch. Associated with them will be more than 200 other volunteer workers, who will assemble in the building Monday night to complete final arrangements for the drive. These workers will be under the leadership of team captain and will invade the entire city in an effort to obtain subscriptions from citizens who are anxious and ready to do their mightiest for their girls.

Daily reports will be turned in every night at the branch headquarters, Twenty-second and Grant streets, and it is expected that a spirit of great rivalry will be developed between the teams to see who will keep the lead.

Mrs. J. Alice Stewart, chairman, is delighted with the response she is receiving and feels confident of the outcome of the campaign.

The effort will be city wide to raise $70,000 for the support of all branches in the city, $8,800 of which is to be applied to the new branch at Twenty-second and Grant streets.
