

Sicily Practically Treeless.
Sicily is practically a treeless country. In a journey of 150 miles across the island, one can not observe a single tree that would cut a ten-inch board. Wide boards (14-inch) of Italian origin are employed in the making of heavy boxes for the shipment of licorice. The wood is a species of Calabrian fir.

X-Rayed a Mummy.
An English scientist has taken an X-ray picture of the hand of an Egyp-wrappings of her mummified remains, showing all the bones with great clearness, and a ring on the third finger.

Inventor's Triumph.
For years it was believed that a machine could never be made which would weave wicker baskets and furniture. But a machine which produces flawless work at 30 times the speed of the best hand weaving is now in use.

Sugar in India.
The small Indian sugar grower makes no white sugar but simply boils down the juice and does not remove the molasses. The dark brown product is called gur or gu, and is generally sold and consumed without refining, although in some parts of the country a certain amount of modern sugar production is carried on.
