BLUE CIRCLE CLUB GAVE BIG DANCE

"The Blue Circle Club" gave its first big dance at Columbia Hall on Monday the 4th inst. In spite of the fact that the lessee of the hall made an attempt to have the dance annulled by the Welfare Board, the boys defeated him in his effort, and the dance proved a tremendous success. It was unfortunate that a number of young people were obliged to return home, but the Club wishes to take this opportunity to remind all minors that it is against the wishes of the Welfare Board that they attend public dances without a written permit from their parents. NEWSPAPER MEN EXCHANGE CONFIDENCES

Count Wilkinson, business manager and managing editor of The New Era, was discovered in the post office Monday having a confidential conversation with George Bullock, business and circulation manager of The Monitor, in which they were exchanging experiences concerning the hard work and small financial returns in running a weekly newspaper. Something was said about asbestos paper in expressing these gentlemen's opinions concerning newspaper debtors, both subscribers and advertisers, who are so provokingly and exasperatingly slow in paying their bills when the printer is pushing for payment.

NEW GROCERY OPENS

Proprietors Seek Colored Trade and Offer Reasonable Prices.

The grocery store on North 24th street, facing Burdette street, formerly known as Harrington's Grocery Co., is now in the hands of the Kostoryz Bros. They have started in to "bring up the corner." These boys are in it for business and success, and they know that the greatest measure of success comes not from overcharging patrons for goods purchased, but by placing such prices on their goods that everybody can afford to buy from them. This is good "hoss sense" and there is little doubt that the Kostoryz boys will succeed in that community. Your trade is solicited, and will be greatly appreciated.
