

BALANCE OF POWER HELD IN RACE IN NORTH STATES

Realization of Influence Wielded by Colored Americans And Insistent Cause Alar.

REPUBLICANS SHOW CONCERN

Signs of Breaking Away from Party Which Has Had a Mortgage on Negro Vote Disconcerts Party Leaders

(Associated Negro Press)

Richmond, Va., Sept. 29.—Special Correspondence.—The bellicose attitude of the Negro vote in this state has brought to life a sincere disposition to give serious study to the actual political position which the Negro holds at the present time in American life. It will be remembered that whatever chances the Republicans had to elect their candidate in last year's contest for Governor of the State were killed by the action of the colored voters when they put into the field their own race candidate for the honor. This action frightened the wavering white vote that had all but jumped over into the Republican band wagon on the Protective Tariff issue and, as a result, the old time Democratic majorities were piled up for that ticket much to the chagrin of that element of Republicans in the North who have been holding to the dream of breaking the solid South.

"Balance of Power, threatening, imminent, and actual, is the new 'Bogie' and possibly the last straw upon which the 'Negro Domination' fear of the South feels obliged to cling to. Added to this is the fact that the Negro is beginning to 'feel his oats'—whatever that might mean. Perhaps this can be understood best by keeping in mind that the Negroes in Virginia paid the expenses of their contesting delegates to the 1920 convention at Chicago. Coupling this bit of political history with the information that they financed and conducted their own campaign in the governorship fight one can get a pretty fair idea why the political power of the Negro is fast becoming a matter of somewhat serious concern.

There is no question of doubt that the Virginia Negro is "mad" all over. His wealth is increasing by leaps and bounds. This new possession is giving him a fine sense of social and political responsibility. He is beginning to determine the importance of matters in his own fashion and after his own manner of thinking. "Uncle Tom" is dead as four door nails. It is being recognized by even the boldest and more radical elements among the Negroes in this state that the finished product of Negro Citizenship is not wholly here at the present time. "But he is far advanced in the making." They assert. "We don't want Social Intimacy. What we are after is Social Independence, Political Equality, Economic Equality, and by all that's fair or foul, finally we are going to have all of these things."

It must be agreed that this is big stuff. But let us turn back to the "balance of power" question. Figures have been published recently which may shed some bright light on this phase of the situation. They relate entirely to the Northern States and are as follows:

STATE	Negro Population	Party Plurality Normal Election	Electoral Votes
Massachusetts	45,666	20,899	18
New York	1,198,483	200,000	45
New Jersey	1,117,132	67,000	14
Pennsylvania	2,845,663	180,000	38
Ohio	1,861,877	90,000	24
Indiana	80,810	30,000	15
Illinois	1,822,774	200,000	29
Michigan	60,082	50,000	15
Iowa	19,005	55,000	13
Missouri	1,782,411	30,000	18
Nebraska	12,242	40,000	8
Oklahoma	149,408	50,000	10
Kansas	57,925	35,000	10
Delaware	30,333	5,000	3
Connecticut	21,046	7,000	7

Very revealing, it must be allowed. In another direction, it must be pointed out also that the independent Negro vote officially counted to 25,000 in the last Virginia State election. Actually it was approximately more than 50,000. This is the "balance of power" bogie romping about the field on Old Virginia kicking up a considerable and disconcerting amount of real political dust. And it brings to the front that quite startling economic fact that a dollar carefully directed will have its social and political way whether it comes from the pocket of a black or white. And this is where the shoe probably pinches the tightest. What is puzzling the thinking Negro is how he is going to take his rightful place effectively and to general benign ends. Settling this to his satisfaction the next step will be the assumption of those places and that responsibility which enables him to become a healthful factor in each of the nation's endeavors to maintain a supreme Democracy on the Western Hemisphere. The congressional elections are upon us. The Petersburg district is ours by every right of a legal and political majority. It can not be won this fall. In 1924, however, look for a hot fight in that section of the State. Slump is eliminated. His disappearance from the open political field is probably all that the Negro vote can reasonably expect at this time. It was a big moral victory that put him out of the political running. It has apparently heartened the Negro and urged him to a continuance of his fight for an honorable position as a citizen in the great State of Virginia. In the meantime those "balance of power" figures came along at the right moment. They will have given "pep" to our thinking.

WINS ONE THOUSAND DOLLAR PRIZE FROM THE GOVERNMENT

Handsome Sum Given John T. Risher for Inventing Time-Saving Method of Keeping Records of U. S. Navy.

RISHER PLAN IS INSTALLED

(Associated Negro Press)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 29.—Mr. T. Risher, colored, formerly of Jackson, Mississippi, has just been awarded a prize of one thousand dollars by the United States government for offering the best method and plans for making and keeping the records of the navy. Mr. Risher began as a messenger in the navy department about 12 years ago at $50 per month, but by diligent effort worked himself up to be chief of the Muster Room Division of the United States Navy.

The method of keeping the records of navy heretofore have practically been those used by the navy sixty years ago, but the great increase of our navy brought about by the World War made the old plans wholly unadapted to the navy's great increase.

Mr. Risher had given this subject special study for some time, and therefore called attention of the naval heads to the fact that he could suggest methods that would greatly relieve the situation. So the Board of Admirals offered a prize of one thousand dollars to any one who might offer the best improved method. One hundred and five naval officers submitted plans and competed. The Board of Admirals sat for more than a week and heard the different methods explained; finally adopted the Risher plan. Congress appropriated two hundred thousand dollars for installing the Risher plans, which, it is said will mean a saving to the government of more than seven hundred thousand dollars annually.

Through this device the humblest yeoman may be located by the department on a moment's notice, while heretofore it took many days, and sometimes months, to locate a sailor.

ANOTHER WONDER SHOW AT THE GAYETY THEATRE

Theatre-goers of this vicinity may safely mark down in their engagement books at least one visit to the popular Gayety next week. They will be amply repaid for their trouble as one of the worth-while attractions of that theatre's present season will hold the boards for the week. This is Ed E. Daley's big musical revue called "Broadway Brevities," which comes to this city with the enthusiastic endorsement of every other community where it has appeared.

"Broadway Brevities" is really a big New York Winter Garden spectacle, having been originally produced at that famous amusement institution where it ran for 18 weeks. Later it had a long run at the Studebaker Theatre in Chicago and also in Boston and Philadelphia.

"Broadway Brevities" as presented at the Gayety, starting Sunday matinee at three, has been entirely rewritten, re-cast and re-costumed. It also has a brand new equipment of delightful musical numbers from the prolific pen of Al W. Brown. William K. Wells, the well-known author and playwright, has written the new book while Dan Dody has put on the enlivening and graceful dances. To the famous H. Robert Law Scenic Studios of New York City is credited the 14 elaborate and colorful scenes while its many exquisite and picturesque costumes are the work of many of the country's leading designers. The production in its entirety cost around $125,000.

Its producer has furnished an unusually pleasing and efficient cast of whom Lena Daley, the popular dancer, heads the list. Jay C. Flippen, a black face comedian well-known and liked in vaudeville, and musical comedy, plays the role originally handled by the late Bert Williams. John O. Grant, an old favorite in burlesque, handles a difficult role with 14 changes of costume; Walter Brown, eccentric dancer and emcee comedian; Lew Kessler, jazz dancer and formerly with the New York Winter Garden shows; Bernice LaBarry, prima donna and former star of "Pretty Baby"; Frances Meadows, an attractive coon shouter, and Gladys Jackson, an ingenue who resembles Frances White, and other members of the cast contribute to its popularity, while the Big Three Trio, composed of Messrs Drury, Stanhope and Anderson, are most pleasing in their harmonizing. Matinee at 2:15 daily all week.

POLICE OFFICERS BRUTALLY ASSAULT THREE YOUNG MEN

Sergeant Frank Williams of the Moral Squad and Some of His Men Beat Up James Pegg and Two Companions.

SPEEDING WAS THE OFFENSE

Sergeant Frank Williams of "the moral squad" and his men are alleged to have committed an unprovoked, unlawful and brutal assault last Saturday night on three of Omaha's best young men, James Pegg, son of the late John Grant Pegg, and an employe of the Fontenelle garage; Leroy Richardson of the tailoring firm of Richardson Bros., Twenty-seventh and Cuming street; and John Wilson, a railroad employe. The alleged assault occurred about half past ten o'clock Saturday night at Twenty-fourth and Lake streets. The young men admit they were speeding south on Twenty-fourth street from Maple, when they discovered that four men in a car were pursuing them. When they stopped at Twenty-fourth and Lake the pursuing car overtook them and the four plain clothes men, for such they were, headed by Williams, jumped out and with drawn guns rushed on these boys and calling them vile names struck them several blows with their fists, cutting and bruising the face and lips of Pegg and Richardson and placed them under arrest, charging them with being drunk and with reckless driving. Since none of these boys drink, The Monitor does not hesitate to say that the charge of the officers on this score was absolutely false. Monday morning James Pegg, who was driving the car, admitted that they were speeding and was fined $10 and costs by Judge Wappich. Gould Dietz, one of Omaha's broadest-minded and most influential citizens, who has known James Pegg for years in court Monday morning and insisted that the unlawful conduct of the officers in assaulting these boys in placing them under arrest be investigated and the officers punished.

They declared that they would demonstrate their ability to run a government if the league granted them authority to do so.

The New York Spokesman said that the delegation was acting under the authority of the United Negro Congress, recently held in that city. The league secretariat acknowledged receipt of the petition.

GOURDIN CAPTURES PENTATHLON TITLE IN SECOND CONTEST

Famous Harvard Athlete and Holder of International Broad Jump Record Wins Fresh Laurels.

PLACES FIRST IN BROAD JUMP

Boston, Sept. 29.—Edwin O. Gourdin, former Harvard broad jumper and holder of the world record of twenty-five feet and three inches for the running broad jump, won the National A. U. pentathlon at Tech Field here Saturday afternoon. Gourdin, who won the event in New York a year ago with a total of thirteen points, scored ten points, accounting for first place in the broad jump and 200 metre race, second in the discus and javelin and fourth in the 1,500 meter run.

Second to Gourdin was A. J. Plansky of the Pere Marquette K. of C., a Boston all-around athlete.

Gourdin cleared twenty-three feet and two inches in the jump and won the 200 meter run in twenty-three seconds. In the 1,500 meter race, which was won by Plansky, Gourdin had to sprint to beat another colored athlete, Harley, a Boston schoolboy, for fourth place, which enabled him to shade Plansky by one point for the day's total. The event was held in conjunction with a handicap meet under the auspices of the B. A. A. for the benefit of the Playground and Recreation Association of America.

HAITIANS WOULD HAVE NEGRO BANKS HANDLE DIAMONDS

Movement Now on Foot Favoring the Financing of a Diamond Expedition to British Guiana.

TRADING COMPANY PLANNED

New York City, Sept. 21.—As an immediate result of the project of colored-bankers, promoters and business men financing a diamond expedition to British Guiana, a transportation and trading company has developed. Representative Haitians, upon finding the backers fully mustered, and qualified for the bigger things, at once offered valuable concessions. A recent conference between the parties concerned has warranted the establishment of regular service between New York and Haitian ports.

New companies have been formed, much of the stock of which is being subscribed for in Haiti. The Overseas Navigation Company, for transportation purposes, and the Overseas Trading Company for trading purposes, are the two incorporated organizations under which heads the business will be conducted. The offices are in No. 82 Wall Street, New York City.

All business will be transacted through colored banks and every colored banking institution in this country and in Haiti has been asked to assist in the underwriting of the project. A small block of stock, however, will soon be offered to the public.

This is the first time colored banks have had a real chance to depart from the usual real estate and mortgage business and enjoy the huge profits common among white banking institutions. They are responding cheerfully, too, since investigation has proven satisfactory.

CHOOSE PANAMA ARCHDEACON

Omaha Clergyman, Nominated by Bishop Shaylor, Shows Great Strength in House of Bishops Receiving Large Vote.

(Special to The Monitor.)

Portland, Ore., Sept. 29.—Rev. John Albert Williams, rector of the Church of St. Philip the Deacon, Omaha, Neb., was one of four priests who was nominated here last Monday by the House of Bishops of the General Convention of the Episcopal church for missionary bishop to Haiti. The other nominees were the Rev. H. R. Carson, archdeacon of the Panama Canal Zone; the Rev. Walter Mitchell, rector Porter Military academy, Charleston, S. C., and the Rev. William S. Clairborne, professor at Sewanee, Tenn. At the same time seven prominent clergymen, two being bishops and five priests, were placed in nomination for the missionary bishopric of eastern Oregon. In these nominations the House of Bishops set aside a time-honored custom and for the first time in its history nominated in open session. The elections, however, according to custom, were made in executive session.

Wednesday morning the bishops assembled in the pro-cathedral of St. Stephen, where, after a celebration of the Holy communion, they proceeded to the election. Several ballots were taken, resulting in the election of the Rt. Rev. William P. Remington, bishop suffragan of South Dakota, as missionary bishop of eastern Oregon, and Ven. Harry R. Carson, archdeacon of the Panama canal zone, as missionary bishop of Haiti. Bishop Remington's election was confirmed by the House of Deputies in executive session Wednesday afternoon and Archdeacon Carson, Friday morning, the method of procedure in the General Convention of the Episcopal church being that elections to the episcopate made by the House of Bishops must be ratified by the House of Deputies.

The Rev. John Albert Williams who was nominated for the highest position in the gift of the church by the Rt. Rev. Ernest V. Shaylor, D. D., bishop of Nebraska, his nomination being seconded by the Rt. Rev. Irving P. Johnson, D. D., bishop of Colorado, showed great strength in the House of Bishops where he received a large vote, the contest between him and Archdeacon Carson, the successful nominee, being very close.

The missionary district of Haiti, which has been vacant since the death of the Rt. Rev. James Theodore Holly, D. D., in 1911, has been in charge first of the missionary bishop of Cuba and for the last six years of Bishop Colmore, missionary bishop of Porto Rico. The General Convention three years ago elected the Rev. Samuel W. Grice, professor in the Bishop Payne Divinity School, Petersburg, Va., who declined.

The General Convention closed its nearly three weeks' session here Saturday morning with the reading of the bishop's pastoral letter. The convention made a great impression upon this city.
