> TO NEGRO MENACE TO U. S., SAYS J. W. JOHNSON

For the Advancement of Colored People Addresses Dinner in Honor of Rep. LaGuardia

New York, March 16 .- Speaking at a dinner in the Hotel Pennsylvania, tendered to Representative F. H. La-Guardia of New York, Saturday night, March 10, James Weldon Johnson, Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People declared that:

"If the Constitution of the U. S. cannot extend the arm of protection around the weakest and humblest of American citizens as around the strongest and proudest, then it is not worth the paper it is written

Mr. Johnson made this statement at knowledge that the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States were being nullified in the southern states and that the Negro vote was being denied. "In the presidential election of 1916 the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia cast a total vote for presidential candidates of 1,670,209. In Congress these states have a total of 104 representatives and 126 votess in the electoral college. The state of New York alone cast a total vote for presidential candidates of 1,706,354, a vote within 170,000 of all the votes cast by the above states and yet New York has only 43 representatives and 45 votes in the electoral college, against their 104 representatives and 126 votes in the electoral college." The Negro, declared Mr. Johnson, was the test of American democracy Negro has already proved disastrous to the South, he asserted.

"In the whole South the so-called purity of the ballot has been preserved at the cost of defiance of the Constitution, perversion of law, injustice and violence practiced upon a weaker group," he said. "The result has been that the South is intellectually dead and politically rotten. If this experiment in superdemocracy had resulted in one onehundredth of what was promised, there might be justification for it, but the result has been that not only are Negroes denied the vote in the South but that white men dare not express their honest opinions,

In neckwear, matched sets of lingerie collars and cuffs, with deep berthas in net, in lace or in organdie stand out as the leading features for spring. Plaited stoles on the clerical order also are featured, and are being brought out for wear with the new square-cut neck finish.

Numerous matched sets consisting of wide collars with gauntlet cuffs made of plain linen, of embroidered net, or of organdie, lace trimmed and embroidered with metal, are shown. A certain revival of interest in the by Misses. For the debutante the season is one of laces and silks, satins and velvets. She leaves elaborate embroideries and heavy brocades to her older sister, and favors the soft, charming fabrics that are so suited to the debutante type of today. She has learned the values of beauty-that beauty is proportion, and that to dress beautifully is to dress in harmony not only with the season and fashlons of the moment, but with one's age and type. Taffeta is always appropriate and becoming, and this season it is being so much worn that the debutante may have several taffeta frocks in various textures and designs. If she finds that satin enhances her type of loveliness, the debutante will wisely combine it with lace, which brings a freshness to this material.

Becoming Collars. Upstanding ruffs of taffeta or tulle re seen on many of the newest frocks. This softens the line about the back of the neck and is more flattering than the severe line.

There were only a few passengers of both sexes at this time in the waiting room. They were neatly dressed and well behaved. If all the waiting rooms were as attractive, convenient and well-appointed as this one "For Colored," there could be no room fo robjection upon this score. But this dual system, omnipresent in the South, is fundamentally WRONG, and because it is fundamentally wrong, it must eventually go.

It is economically wasteful, which is another consideration. And to an impartial observer this system of seggregation presents many childish and foolish inconsistencies. For example, while colored passengers are not allowed to occupy the waiting rooms reserved "For White" and vice versa, when it comes to buying magazines and newspapers or checking parcels, colored passengers must go into the white section to do these things. To consistently carry out this dual plan, there should be separate news stands and separate checking rooms. Separation all along the line. And then to carry the thing out perfectly some to be comfortable on chill days of genius ought to invent a process by which heaven's life giving air should low free circulation of air. It is de be so divided that God's children of one thing is just as reasonable as the other.

The South has its traditions and its LIGHTER COLORS FOR TWEEDS views which, no doubt, it honestly holds. It believes its dual system. which is economically wasteful and ethically unjust, to be wise. Economically wasteful because it calls for All the new town tweed suits and ally unjust, because it does not give to its black citizens that for which no more of those flashing blues and they pay taxation, direct and indirect.
