

GAYETY'S SPRING SEASON

Instead of a Dramatic Stock It Will House Musical Comedy Stock—First-run Pictures, Too.

And now comes a novelty for your approval—instead of closing until next August after the final performance of Columbia burlesk next Friday night, the popular Gayety will be closed but one day, opening a supplementary spring season starting at noon on Sunday, April 8.

The management announces the indefinite engagement of Fred Webster's "Atta Girl" company in a series of de luxe musical tabloids, presenting a new and complete miniature musical comedy twice each week, changing on Sunday and Thursday.

Mr. Webster's company has the distinction of having played for twenty-four consecutive weeks in Rochester, N. Y.; sixteen in Milwaukee, twenty in St. Louis, and innumerable weeks in Chicago.

Patrons will find Mr. Webster's characterization of "Izzy" as portrayed throughout the entire series of musical comedies, to be a real classic—a character, one will not tire of. The musical tabloid organization will offer fifty minutes of clean fun, frivolity and foolishness four times each day of the spring season starting at 1:40, 4:00, 6:40 and 9:00 p. m. The opening bill will be "Egyptian Skies".

In conjunction with the above the superior selection of the Fox first-run pictures will be offered.

For the entire week of April 8 the booking calls for the incomparable Tom Mix in his newest play of laughs and love, "Romance Land". In addition to the photoplay feature there will be comedies, news reels, etc.

As to prices, any seat will be 50c any night. At the daily matinee, 30c, until 6 o'clock. Sunday matinee the night price will prevail and kids will be 10c at any time. All prices will include the war tax.

The house will open at 11:45 a. m. and close at 11:00 p. m.

LINCOLN NEWS

Mrs. Mayme Griffin is reported to be convalescing.

Mrs. Carrie Pulham received a telegram Tuesday announcing the death of her son, Alex, Venerable at the State Hospital of Illinois. She is making arrangements to have the remains returned here for burial.

The funeral of Will Williams, who died about a week ago, was held in Alpha Brown's undertaking parlors last Saturday afternoon. Rev. H. W. Botts had charge of the service. His words, "How Are You Living," were quite piercing to the associates of the deceased. Hence many were made to think on their ways.

Mrs. Bell Smith of St. Louis, Mo., is in the city visiting relatives. Mrs. Smith is the widow of the late Edward Smith, whose body was brought here from St. Louis for burial some months ago.

Messrs. John S. Galbrath, Andrew B. Mosley and I. B. Smith were in attendance at the annual meeting of the Council of Deliberation at Omaha last Sunday.

Sunday services at the A. M. E. church were fairly well attended. The pastor preached for his congregation in the forenoon. The Sunday school and A. C. E. societies had good lessons. At night the Heronies of Jercho celebrated Palm Sunday by assembling and having a sermon preached to them. Rev. M. C. Knight gave them a fine discourse which was full of food for thought.

Mrs. E. Bush entertained the Utopian Art Club at her home last Thursday night. An appreciative crowd of members were present. Mrs. Z. John-

One of the many substantial reasons why "Tak of the Town" at the popular Gayety next week will really be that very thing—the talk of the town.

Services at Mt. Zion Baptist church were well attended Sunday. The pastor preached wonderful sermons both morning and evening. The Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. services are gaining in interest. A series of revival meetings are in progress this week and cottage prayer meetings in the afternoons.

For the first time in the history of the city of Lincoln, the G. N. O. O. F. officiated at the laying of a corner stone, which was for the Newman M. E. church last Sunday afternoon. After song and invocation by the chaplain, the pastor, A. J. McAlister, narrated his work since coming to Lincoln three years ago. The church was organized in 1896, since which time no corner stone has ever been laid, hence the meeting to celebrate the stone laying, marking the completion of the building as it stands, without a dollar owing on it. We commend Rev. McAlister for his good work in our midst. Rev. H. W. Botts of Mt. Zion Baptist church, made timely remarks. Rev. G. G. Logan, district superintendent of M. E. conference, made some vital remarks which gave all present fresh thoughts. Collection was then taken, after which the Odd Fellows Lodge proceeded to place the stone in position, the service being quite unique. Rev. W. L. Todd was master of ceremonies, and he distinguished himself both in the address he delivered and in the ritualistic work.

Sunday was quarterly meeting day at the Newman Methodist church. Rev. G. G. Logan, district superintendent of Topeka, Kansas, was present and conducted services. There was a fair attendance.

Rev. A. J. McAlister announces that he will deliver his closing sermon next Sunday, leaving for the annual conference Monday, April 2nd.

COINS OF EARLY PIONEERS FOUND IN GRAVEL PITS

Relics of First Settlers Are Unearthed Near a Former Trading Post.

Scores of coins, believed to have been used in this vicinity by Indian traders about 1825, are being found daily in gravel pits near Fond du Lac, Wis. Harking back to the days when Fond du Lac was not even a hamlet, but part of an Indian territory whose only white inhabitants were a few scattered traders, George Treleven, county highway commissioner, is exhibiting a collection of silver and copper coins which have been found in gravel pits.

Some of the coins are as large as a silver dollar and others as large as a 25-cent piece. On some of the coins is the inscription, Georgius III D. G. Rex, and on others is inscribed Hibernia. Old settlers here declare that years before this part of the state was settled there was a small trading post at a spring near the present site of Johnsburg. The spring has disappeared.

Although it is not uncommon for early settlement relics to be found in outlying parts of the country, this is the first time such a considerable number of coins reminiscent of the first white invasion have been reported.

FIND BEEF CANNED 1400 B. C.

"Not Wholly Palatable," but Well Preserved, Say Egyptian Explorers.

What are believed to be the oldest specimens of canned beef in the world have been discovered by excavators in the tomb of King Tutankhamen at Luxor, Egypt. While it was not wholly palatable, being 3,550 years old, the meat is in an excellent state of preservation.

The meat had been embalmed and was contained in elliptical receptacles resembling huge Easter eggs, 40 of which were removed from the tomb amid the deep interest of a crowd of tourists. Still other meats found were haunches of venison, trussed ducks and joints of game. These were packed in wooden boxes, shaped according to the nature of the contents. Noticeable among this discovery was a giant duck.

The excavators also removed four bronze candlesticks of great beauty. One of them contained a perfectly preserved candle.
