

PLAN TO EQUIP PLANES WITH SLEEPING BERTHS

Engineers Say Fast Trains Between New York and Chicago Face Competition.

New York—Engineers are studying the problem of sleeping berths on airplanes. It was revealed recently in a report by Archibald Black and Donald R. Black, aeronautical engineers of Garden City, L. I., at the forty-fourth annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at 29 West Thirty-ninth street.

At least one commercial line will be operating a packet service between New York and Chicago within the next two to five years, according to the report, which says night air service could practically eliminate competing night-letter telegraph service for distances up to about 1,200 miles.

Ghostly Noises Reveal Lost Carrier Pigeon

New York—A lost carrier pigeon, which fell down a chimney and for four days furnished a first-class imitation of a ghost, was found recently in the home of Abram Wosnitzer, hat manufacturer, of No. 743 Clinton avenue.

The Wosnitizers and their four children began to hear strange noises above their living room fireplace Saturday. The family dog investigated and the noises increased. They occurred at intervals night and day.

First Soldier to Go to Jail in Airplane

Columbus, O.—Stanley Miller, private in the Army Air service, stationed at Wilbur Wright field, near Dayton, is the first prisoner to be conveyed to jail in an airplane patrol, according to officials at Norton field here.

Private Miller, in custody of Master Sergeant Peter Bessiot, who piloted the patrol, landed at the Columbus field, having flown from Dayton. Miller was taken to the guard house at Fort Hayes to await trial by military court-martial on charges of being absent without leave and making false statements about a previous enlistment.

Woman Swallows Pins While Laughing at Joke

Lorain, O.—Laughing at a joke almost cost the life of Mrs. Albert Buell. Mrs. Buell swallowed two pins when she laughed. Physicians extracted one. The other is sticking in her throat, and physicians fear an operation will be necessary to remove it.

IN THE CAFE DES EXILES

Cable's Beautiful Description of the Old Creole Cottage Falling Into Ruin.

An antiquated story-and-a-half Creole cottage sitting right down on the banquettes, as do the Choctaw squaws who sell bay and sassafras and life-everlasting, with a high, close board fence shutting off of view the diminutive garden on the southern side. An ancient willow droops over the discolored stucco, which keeps dropping off into the garden as though the old cafe was stripping for the plunge into oblivion—disrobing for its execution. I see, well up in the angle of the broad side gable, shaded by her wrinkled hand, the window of Pauline. Oh, for the image of the maiden, were it but for one moment, leaning out of the casement to hang her mockingbird and looking down into the garden—where, above the barrier of old boards, I see the top of the fig-tree, the pale green clump of bananas, the tall palmetto with its jagged crown, Pauline's own two orange trees holding up their hands toward the window, heavy with the promises of autumn; the broad, crimson mass of the many-stemmed oleander, and the crisp boughs of the pomegranate loaded with freckled apples, and with here and there a lingering scarlet blossom.

WOMAN'S WORLD IS WIDER

Increased Opportunities for Gainful Employment Are Found by the Fair Sex.

Women are now enfranchised and enjoy almost equal educational opportunities with men. They may enter practically all professions and trades, and 21.01 per cent of them are gainfully employed.

The passage by almost every state of married women's property and equal guardianship acts has freed wives and mothers from the medievalism of the common law, says Beatrice Forbes Robertson Hale in Current History Magazine. Millions of home-making women are organized for cultural, philanthropic and civic ends, which modern domestic conveniences and labor-saving devices give them leisure to pursue. City homes are smaller and social life is consequently spent more in public.

Prosperity and machinery have given us on the one hand the largest leisure class of women the world has known, while on the other hand modern industries (replacing the old home industries by quantity production in factories), plus the increased cost of living, drives an ever larger proportion of women into extra domestic remunerative work.

Murder Defined.

What is murder in the first degree? In the second degree? These definitions differ with the statutes of the states. In general it may be said that murder in the first degree is confined to homicide committed by poison, lying in wait and other killings committed in pursuance of a deliberate and premeditated design, and to those which accomplish the commission of some of the more atrocious felonies, such as burglary, arson and rape.

Our Currency.

At the present time there are five kinds of paper money or currency issued for circulation purposes. The United States Treasury issues three kinds: (1) United States notes, an authorized issue of about 346 million dollars protected by gold reserve of approximately 152 million dollars; (2) gold certificates issued against an equal amount of gold held in the U. S. Treasury for redemption, and (3) silver certificates issued against an equal amount of standard silver dollars held in the U. S. Treasury. Two kinds of bank currency are issued—national bank notes, secured by Federal Reserve notes, and Federal Reserve notes, secured by commercial paper and gold.

First Engine Used in 1829.

The first attempt made in the United States to use locomotive engines, otherwise than for mere experiment, was made on the railway from Carbondale to Honesdale, Pa., 16 miles, built by the Delaware and Hudson Canal company. The Steam Locomotive Lion, a locomotive built in England, was placed upon the road in August, 1829. In 1830, construction was begun on the South Carolina railroad, and the road was designed and built to be operated by steam locomotives. This was the first railway built with the purpose from the beginning of using steam locomotives.

Nothing at All.

"And you'd love me just the same if I hadn't a cent; wouldn't you, dear?"

"Don't be foolish, darling! You know, money is nothing to me. But I hope you've been telling me the truth about your prospects, for I never could condone falsehood!"—Judge.
