NEW ERA PRINTING SHOP DAMAGED BY WATER

The New Era Printing Company, located in the basement of the Jewell building, Twenty-fourth and Grant streets, has been washed out and heavily damaged several times lately by the severe storms, virtual cloud-bursts, which have flooded certain sections of the city and particularly the territory centering around Twenty-fourth and Lake streets, well-named in face of present wet conditions. Our genial fellow-editor, Count Wilkinson, says he knows his partner, H. J. Ford, is a strong Baptist, and that Ford means the shallow part of a river which may be crossed by man or beast on foot, and that they might therefore reasonably stand a little water, but enough's a plenty. He says, "Noah had nothing on us and if this thing keeps up we'll have to follow his example and build an ark."

Advertising Talk
A hen is not supposed to have Much common sense or tact, Yet every time she lays an egg She cackles forth the fact.
A rooster hasn't got a lot Of intellect to show, But none the less most roosters have Enough good sense to crow.
The mule, the most despised of beasts, Has a persistent way Of letting folks know he's around By his insistent bray.
The busy little bees they buzz, Bulls bellow and cows moo, The watch dogs bark, the ganders quack, The doves and pigeons coo.
The peacock spreads his tail and squawks, Pigs squeal and robins sing And even serpents know enough To hiss before they sting.
But man, the greatest masterpiece That nature could devise, Will often stop and hesitate Before he'll advertise.
Merchants who are wise And want our people's trade Use THE MONITOR to advertise And thus their fortune's made.
