ATTORNEY ADDRESSES

COLORED COMMERCIAL CLUB

Harry O. Palmer, prominent attorney and lecturer on political economy, spoke to a large group of Omaha's leading business and professional men at the C. C. C. Thursday, November 20th, at 8:00 o'clock.

Mr. Palmer spent several years in the Orient studying the Chinese's customs and related many interesting experiences. He carried the group back to the great Sphinx on the Sahara desert and explained how that mighty stone image was a silent tribute to the colored people and the part they played in the economic progress of the world.

The group was advised to study the elements that go to make up an organization and after becoming acquainted with them, study self—that they might become acquainted with their abilities, and then organize them with the elements that go to make up a commercial enterprise.

He spoke of the number of colored people in Omaha and how now because of lack of organization they were making other groups independently rich. Since this is true, why not organize that you not only will be independent, but will be able to employ your own boys and girls who are spending many years in schools and colleges.

Dr. W. W. Peebles responded. The commissioner gave a brief report of the activities of the club during the past nine months.

Attorney Morgan of Pinkett, Morgan & Bryant law firm introduced the speaker.

PRESENTED WITH MOTTO

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of St. Philip the Deacon gave a well-attended and enjoyable Kensington tea last Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Charles H. Hicks, 2530 Maple street, under the chairmanship of Mrs. L. E. Britt. One of the pleasant features of the affair was the presentation of a beautiful framed motto to Mrs. H. R. Roberts one of the faithful members on the eve of her departure for the west.

N. Y. WORLD PRAISES CARVER FOR SCIENTIFIC ACHIEVEMENT

(N. A. A. C. P. Press Service.) Professor George W. Carver, Negro

scientist of Tuskegee, delivered an address in the Marble Collegiate Church of New York City, upon his work and methods, which aroused widespread comment and elicited the following editorial in the N. Y. World of November 20:

Science as Inspiration
George Washington Carver, Negro, who heads the department of scientific research at Tuskegee Institute, declares his methods are inspired by God. In this day, when scientists are assailed by many godly men, this is surely an arresting statement. What manner of man is Carver? Who's Who has this to say of him:

Born of slave parents on farm near Diamond Grove, Mo., about 1864. In infancy lost father, and was stolen and carried into Arkansas with mother, who was never heard of again. Was bought from captors for a race horse valued at $300, and returned to former home in Missouri. Worked way through high school, Minneapolis, Kan., and later through college. Bachelor of Science in agriculture, Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, 1894; Master of Science, 1896; unmarried. Elected member of faculty, Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, and placed in charge of greenhouse, devoting special attention to bacterial laboratory work in systematic botany. Teacher in Tuskegee Institute since 1896, now director of department of research. Member Royal Society of Arts, London, 1917. Awarded Spingarn Medal, 1923.

We doff our hat. This bit of human flotsam, stolen once, traded another time for a $300 race horse, rises to a point where he is awarded the Spingarn Medal for achievement. Now he tells us that he admits no books to his laboratory, that the correct method is revealed to him when he needs it, that all his useful researches in agricultural products are God's work, not his. Well, why not? Men of his race often seem uniquely close to the Divine. Their music is inspired by God, if ever music was, and who will say that science is not inspiration?

! betrayed

Their first conversation betrayed the fact that she was not fastidious

At a distance she had appeared unusually neat, immaculate. But upon their first face-to-face meeting, he discovered that her teeth were not clean. And he soon lost interest.

So many people overlook this one matter of fastidiousness. And do so in spite of the fact that in conversation the teeth are the one most noticeable thing about you.

Notice today how you, yourself, watch another person's teeth when he or she is talking. If the teeth are not well kept they at once become a liability.

Listerine Tooth Paste cleans teeth a new way. As dentists have discovered a polishing ingredient that really cleans without scratching the enamel—a difficult problem finally solved.

You will notice the improvement even in the first few days. And you know it is cleaning safely.

So the makers of Listerine, the safe antiseptic, have found for you also the really safe dentifrice.

What are your teeth saying about you today?—LAMBERT PHARMACAL CO., Saint Louis, U. S. A.

Announcement

We desire to announce that we have taken back under our direct supervision our two theatres, THE DIAMOND and THE FRANKLIN, which have been for the last three months leased out to Mr. Goldberg. Our purpose for taking these theatres back is to so improve their programs that they will be more attractive and entertaining to those who have given us your patronage in the past.

We shall make these show houses genuine recreation centers for those of the community who like high class shows. We shall give you the same pictures you would see down town, only for 20 cents, instead of 50c plus carfare. We hope you will support us in this effort.

Very truly,
A. MELCHER, Proprietor.
