GIVE NEGRO SQUARE DEAL, SAYS BISHOP REESE OF GEORGIA

Extracts from Address Delivered by Southerner at a Recent Meeting of Federal Council of Churches

THE VALUE OF A MAN

Bishop F. F. Reese of Georgia, a speaker at the recent meeting of the Federal Council of Churches, said: "The first and most important contribution which the churches can make towards any matter of right human relations is to preach the gospel of the Incarnation. The Negro is a man, as God reveals the meaning of manhood. He is within the unity of the race as the Incarnation reveals it. The religion of every man or group is fatally defective which does not so regard him.

"The Negro is not like the white man in every particular. There are striking differences, physical and mental, but he is one with the white man in his essential humanity. When the churches have converted their own people and have led them to accept that truth and to base their relations to the Negro on that principle, there will be cordial co-operation and confidence between the races.

"The responsibility rests, first, upon the white race, just in so far as it assumes its superiority in strength and capacity and just in so far as it has enjoyed advantages and civilization which the Negro has not enjoyed. Right relations which constitute morality and true religion will inevitably promote justice and fair dealing and kindness and brotherly conduct toward the Negro. It will mean that it will be taken for granted that he is entitled to the opportunity to make, under God, the best of himself of which he is capable, and that no prejudice or contempt or injustice on the part of the white man will hinder or handicap him. Under God, he will have every opportunity and every assistance from his stronger brother to work out his salvation, individually and racially.

"Every man's and race's self-respect must be respected and encouraged. This means that we must regard and treat the Negro as a man, with the self-respect which every man should feel. Thought and feelings about him and toward him which express themselves in words and acts implying disrespect and contempt as a superior to an inferior are un-Christian.

TROOP NO. 79 BOY SCOUTS HAVE PARTY AT Y. W. C. A.

The parents and friends of the members of Troop 79 Boy Scouts who failed to accept Scoutmaster T. P. Mahamitt's invitation to attend the party given for his troop at the North Side Branch of the Y. W. C. A. last Monday night missed a genuine treat. The purpose of the party was not only to give the boys a good time, but also to acquaint the parents with the program which is carried out at all regular scout meetings. Assembly call was sounded by Troop Bugler Albert Brown, and as fine a bunch of real boys as one could find anywhere fell into line. A brief announcement concerning scouting and the purpose of the present gathering was made by Scoutmaster Mahamitt in well-chosen words. Troop Scribe Peterson called the roll. The Scout law was repeated in concert by the troop. A military drill followed under the command of H. J. Pinkett. Martin Thomas, assistant scoutmaster, then put the troop through a physical drill. This was followed by the O'Grady drill under Patrol Leader Wade McRaven. An exhibition of first aid was then given by chosen members of the troop. The Rev. John Albert Williams was invited to tell the parents of his impressions of a visit to Camp Gifford Boy Scouts' camp. Following his brief remarks, the troop gave the Scout Oath and benediction and then followed refreshments, ice cream and cake and candy. The serving of refreshments, however, is not a part of the regular weekly program. As part of the refreshments Miss Edna M. Stratton sang "By the Waters of Minnetonka" by S. Coleridge-Taylor, and as an encore "Mother O'Mine" by Bursleigh, internationally known composers of our race; and Clarence Desdunes contributed two exquisite violin numbers.

The Boy Scout movement should have the earnest and whole-hearted co-operation of parents who have boys and of all persons who are interested as they should be interested in the highest development of our youth.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 9.—It has been announced that citizens of St. Louis have completed plans for the erection of an eight-story, fireproof building at the corner of Pendleton and Finney streets. The plans show that the building will have a theatre, roof gardens, stores on the ground floor and will when completed cost nearly $1,000,000. The proposed location is in a fast-growing part of the city and is regarded as a very suitable place for such a project.

CORRECTION

In our report last week of the Haley-Smith wedding two errors occurred, one being typographical, which we gladly correct. It should have read "Miss" Frances Smith and not "Mrs." as the typographical error made it. The name of the bride's mother is Mrs. Mattie Franklin not Mrs. Frederick Hawkins.
